REBEL PLANES BOMB BEACH RESORT IN NORTH SPAIN

Attack by Air, Land and Sea on Besieged Defenders of San Sebastian — Eight Injured, Heavy Damage Done.

WARSHIP PREPARES TO SHELL THE CITY

Loyalists Reject Ultimatum to Surrender — Fascist Troops Advance Lines to Within 12 Miles of City.

(Copyright, 1936, by the Associated Press.)

IRUN, Spain, Aug. 13.—Five rebel planes bombed the seaside resort of San Sebastian today, inflicting heavy damage in a desperate offensive for possession of the city.

As the planes roared over the town, dropping missiles which pitted the streets and seriously injured eight persons, the rebel cruiser Almirante Cervera lay two miles off shore with its decks cleared for action.

The warship apparently was prepared to shell the city as the time limit on an ultimatum delivered two days ago—to surrender or undergo a bombardment from the sea—expired. Government officials in control of the town have rejected the ultimatum.

Crews of the United States Coast Guard cutter Cayuga and of the British destroyer Comet reported that the warship had approached San Sebastian for a bombardment at relatively close range.

The planes scored direct hits on five important points, including the airport, anarchist headquarters and the main boulevard.

The Santa Maria church and Oviedo street also were struck. The main thoroughfare, the Alameda, appeared to be one of the principal objectives.

The combined air and sea attack plastered an offensive by rebel infantry south of the city in a drive to take the northeastern seaboard from control of Leftist forces.

The infantry used Tolosa, captured yesterday, as a pivot for the operations of rebel troops. The Government was successfully defending other points around Irun and San Sebastian, with the exception of one or two inconsequential communities.

Fascist Main Force Advances Within 12 Miles of City.

(Copyright, 1936, by the Associated Press.)

WITH THE REBEL ARMY AT TOLOSA, Spain, Aug. 13.—Fascist rebels, pressing toward San Sebastian in an effort to recapture the Government - controlled seaport, were concentrated today at the little village of Villabona.

The position, established after a hard day's fighting, is within 12 miles of the resort city on the Bay of Biscay. Reinforcing troops, under command of Col. Beorlequi, are at Oyarzun, eight miles from San Sebastian.

Rebel commanders reported occupation of two points on the San Sebastian-Irun-Bilbao Railroad.

Five thousand rebel soldiers sang and danced in the streets of Tolosa last night. Monarchist flags hung everywhere.

An armored car loaded with Government soldiers drove into the city, its occupants apparently unaware the territory had been occupied by the Fascists. Rebel machine gunners opened fire and killed all eight of the Government soldiers.

Tolosa was occupied after being abandoned by Leftist militia. The rebels said the people's commissar for war for Guipuzcoa Province ordered the evacuation when he saw the rebel column approaching. The attackers moved in with only a little hand-to-hand fighting in the streets.

Twelve political prisoners were killed by the Government supporters before they left, the rebels said. Residents who fled to the hills when Government militia first took control of the area began returning to their homes.

Rebel Planes Bomb Badajoz; Inhabitants Flee to Portugal.

MISS LEILA COOK BARBER

Of Chicago, one of four American women taken from Granada, Spain, to Tangier, Morocco, by an airplane chartered by an American oil company.

YOUNG WOMAN SHOT AT RIVER CLUBHOUSE

Four Men and Two Women Held—Owner Says Someone Outside Fired.

Four men and two women were being held by St. Louis County and State Highway Patrol authorities today for investigation into the shooting early this morning of Miss Mary Moore, 22 years old, at a clubhouse at Petty's Hill, on the Meramec River near Valley Park.

Miss Moore, who gave an address in the 2800 block of Eads avenue, was taken to St. Mary's Hospital at 4 a. m. She had been shot through the left thigh, but at the hospital her condition was said to be not serious.

The men who took her there said they were James Mann, 31, owner of the clubhouse, 4428 Delmar avenue; Edward L. Cooke, 29, 5220 Kensington avenue, and John Saunders, 27, 4964 Laclede avenue. All are being held.

Mann told county authorities that about 3 a. m., while they were all in the clubhouse, someone called from the outside and said he was going to shoot. Mann said he thought it was a joke and called back: "Go ahead and do it." Thereon three shots were fired, he said. Two went wild and one struck Miss Moore.

Later in the morning members of the State Highway Patrol went to the clubhouse at the request of the Sheriff's office and arrested another man and two women. They said they were Francis Fleming, 26, 4918 Washington boulevard; Miss Jean Jennings, 20, 4707 Washington boulevard, and Miss Jane Adams, 17, 4715 Washington boulevard.

According to patrol officers they said they were in another room in the clubhouse at the time of the shooting and knew nothing about it. All those held, according to authorities, had been drinking.

JUDGE CAUTIONS MUENCH DEFENSE AGAINST MISTRIAL

Court Takes Cognizance of Reported Call by Mrs. Muench on Wife of Panel Member.

DOCTOR ASKED ABOUT TALK WITH JUROR

Says He Merely Said 'Good Morning'—Jurist Anxious to Avoid Another Mistrial.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

KAHOKA, Mo., Aug. 13.—Circuit Judge Walter A. Higbee called Dr. Ludwig O. Muench, one of the four defendants in the criminal conspiracy trial growing out of the Muench baby hoax, and defense counsel to his bench before court opened this morning and said, "It has been reported to me that Dr. Muench has been talking to a juror—I don't know if it's true, but I don't want anything like that."

"That's not true," Dr. Muench said decisively. "I passed a juror and said good morning to him—that's all there is to it."

"Very well, said the Court, "I simply don't want anything that might lead to a mistrial."

Mrs. Muench Makes Complaint.

As soon as court opened, Mrs. Nellie Tipton Muench, chief defendant, stepped to the bench with her counsel, Verne R. C. Lacy. She said to Judge Higbee that she had seen a man, who arrived here in a large automobile, with a St. Louis license, talking last evening to a juror, William Blum, in the yard of Blum's home in Kahoka.

Blum, who is Public Administrator of Clark County, was called to the bench by the Judge. He said he had talked to a man whom he did not know, but that they spoke of the condition of crops, and not of the pending case.

Judge Higbee again admonished the members of the jury to refrain from conversing about the case with anyone, also not to converse on any subject with any defendant or attorney in the case.

When court recessed at noon Judge Higbee called all attorneys in the case to the bench and said it had been reported to him that Mrs. Muench had gone to the home of Juror Blum this morning while court was in session and had said to Mrs. Blum, "Your husband has been promised a present by a man friendly to the prosecution." Judge Higbee denounced this as a most inexcusable act, but said he would not declare a mistrial unless it became absolutely necessary. He warned defense counsel against permitting such a thing to occur.

Co-defendants of Dr. and Mrs. Muench are Mrs. Helen Berroyer, who, with them, is represented by Lacy, and Attorney Wilfred Jones, who is representing himself. Lacy and Jones were called to the bench during the court's talk with Dr. Muench.

A mistrial was declared in the first hearing here last April, after a member of the jury had said under oath that he had been approached by a resident of Kahoka with a proposal to "hang" the jury.

Testimony Delayed.

The conferences at the bench, and the fact that one juror reported ill, delayed the beginning of testimony. The ailing juror, H. E. Lang, was placed in an easy chair before an electric fan and the day's first witness, Miss Christine Krout of St. Louis, was called.

Miss Krout, from whose home Attorney Jones took the Price baby in July, 1935, gave substantially the same testimony she gave at the first trial, and before the St. Louis Court of Appeals in the Anna Ware habeas corpus proceeding, in which Miss Ware recovered her baby from Mrs. Muench. The Ware baby was successor in the Muench hoax to the Price baby, which died.

Jones called for the Price baby in an automobile bearing Texas license plates, Miss Krout related, after he had told her he wanted the child for a wealthy married pair, clients of his. A woman waited outside in the car while Jones got the baby, she said. She did not see the woman clearly, Miss Krout testified.

Mrs. Grace Thomasson said in her direct testimony that Jones had told her he got the Price baby and Mrs. Muench was with him.

Witnesses following Miss Krout were Julius Klein, a newspaper reporter, and Mrs. J. R. Plummer of Minneapolis, in whose image Jones created the fictitious "Mrs. J. R. Palmer." Mrs. Plummer told the jury she had got no baby from Jones.

Mrs. Plummer's testimony was shortened by the Court's ruling, on objection by defense counsel, that

FRANCE TO LEND EMPLOYERS MONEY TO INCREASE WAGES

Senate Passes Bill to Tide Them Over Until They Can Meet Increased Payrolls.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, Aug. 13.—The Senate approved last night a law providing government loans for merchants and manufacturers to tide them over until they can meet heavier payrolls under the new labor laws. The bill was returned to the Chamber of Deputies for action on minor amendments.

Loans not exceeding 270 days at the prevailing discount rate of the Bank of France—which now is 3 per cent—would be made available through so-called "Popular Banks."

The loans would be limited to covering increased wage costs and would be rediscounted by the Bank of France.

Charles Spinasse, Minister of Economy, said the measure was intended particularly to aid exporters who, he declared, were "working without profit."

ROOSEVELT IN PENNSYLVANIA ON SURVEY OF FLOOD AREA

Confers With Morgenthau, Harrison and Doughton on Taxes Before Leaving Capital.

By the Associated Press.

ALTOON, Pa., Aug. 13. — President Roosevelt's special train, on its way to Johnstown where the executive will make a tour of the arear flooded on St. Patrick's day, left Altoona at 3:47 p. m. today.

The President spoke briefly from the observation platform to a crowd estimated by railroad officials at 4000, saying: "We came out for a few days to see something at first hand. I had to read a lot of reports in Washington, but nothing is as valuable as seeing the problems of the nation with your own eyes.

Before his departure from Washington at 10 a. m. today he conferred with Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau, Chairman Harrison (Dem.), Mississippi, of the Senate Finance Committee, and Doughton (Dem.), North Carolina, of the House Ways and Means Committee. Taxes were discussed. Morgenthau later said improved business conditions had so fortified the treasury that no new or increased taxes would be necessary at the next session of Congress.

Friday morning at Binghamton, N. Y., the President again will inspect a region visited by spring floods. Later in the day he will make a similar survey in the vicinity of Scranton and Wilkes-Barre, Pa. A Friday interlude will take him to Cleveland, where he will visit the Great Lakes Exposition and speak informally at a luncheon, and from there to Chautauqua, N. Y., for an address on foreign affairs.

CONFESSION IN MURDER OF JAPANESE ACTRESS

Restaurant Worker Arrested Said to Have Admitted Crime; Jealousy Cause.

By the Associated Press.

RIVERSIDE, Cal., Aug. 13.—Ray Johnson, 39 years old, was in the county jail here today charged with the murder of Midi Takaoka, 25-year-old Japanese actress.

The Sheriff's office reported that Johnson, arrested in Corona, Cal., had confessed the knife killing of the girl in Los Angeles last Tuesday, and had said jealousy was the cause.

Miss Takaoka lately had been receiving the attentions of William J. Bachand, New York City, whom she met on a transcontinental bus trip. Bachand is held as a material witness.

Johnson, a restaurant worker, was arrested in a rooming house. Police were called after their lodgers noticed his peculiar actions on reading newspapers telling of the crime.

KANSAS TAX RATE REDUCED

Lowest in 10 Years Set by State Commission.

By the Associated Press.

TOPEKA, Kan., Aug. 13. — The Kansas State Tax Commission announced today a State general tax levy for 1936 of 1.29 mills, the lowest rate in more than 10 years. In 1934 the levy was 1.30 mills.

The commission, appointed by Gov. Alf M. Landon, said in a statement the levy would produce $3,276,425.88. "This is the lowest levy and the lowest amount to be raised by ad valorem taxes, for State purposes, in more than a decade," the statement said.

Hamilton Sees Hoover.

By the Associated Press.

PALO ALTO, Cal., Aug. 13.—Former President Herbert Hoover and John Hamilton, Republican national chairman, discussed Republican campaign issues and tactics at a conference at Hoover's home today. Hamilton said the part Hoover may play in the campaign was not discussed. There has been speculation as to whether Hoover might stump Maine and Pennsylvania. "Mr. Hoover gave me many helpful suggestions which will be utilized later in the campaign," said Hamilton.

COURT APPROVES SETTLEMENT OF MARY ASTOR SUIT

Agreement Gives Movie Actress Part Custody of Daughter, 4—Fate of Diary Unexplained.

'EVEN JUDGE WON'T KNOW WHERE IT IS'

Attorney Says Disposition of Private Record Is Included in Terms Accepted by Both Sides.

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 13.—Superior Judge Goodwin J. Knight today approved an agreement settling the suit of Mary Astor, motion picture actress and her former husband, Dr. Franklyn Thorpe, over custody of their 4-year-old daughter, Marylyn. Custody of the child was awarded Dr. Thorpe under the divorce decree he obtained a year ago in Reno, Nev. Under the terms of today's settlement he will divide custody of the child with Miss Astor. The Judge approved the agreement after a hour's conference with Miss Astor, Dr. Thorpe and their lawyers, who reached the agreement last night. Judge Knight said he would enter judgment this afternoon accepting the agreement.

Disposition of Diary Secret.

Joseph Anderson, Dr. Thorpe's chief counsel, said Miss Astor would not regain possession of her diary, and even Judge Knight "will not know where it is." An unsuccessful effort to introduce the diary in evidence was made by counsel for Dr. Thorpe, who had possession of it. Anderson said the diary contained detailed accounts of Miss Astor's friendship with various men.

"Little or no change" in the agreement was made in the conference, Anderson said.

Anderson expressed the opinion that the terms of custody was so arranged that the agreement would work out harmoniously. He would not say whether any third person or arbiter would be named, to administer the terms of the agreement.

Dr. Thorpe's Statement.

Dr. Thorpe said the question of what would become of Miss Astor's diary had been settled. He was asked if he would relinquish possession of the diary, but said he could not discuss this, on orders from the Judge.

"I would have preferred the old arrangement to the new," said Dr. Thorpe.

The physician referred to the terms of the divorce he won last year from the actress whereby full custody of the four-year-old child was awarded to him.

"I gave the baby to Miss Astor more than half the time, anyway," said Dr. Thorpe, "but if any issues arose I had the final word."

The agreement, granting Miss Astor part custody of the child, was drawn up by attorneys for both sides.

Joseph Anderson, Dr. Thorpe's attorney, and Roland Rich Woolley, counsel for Miss Astor, said:

"The division of time in which each parent will have the child is based on school semesters, vacation periods and holidays. They will divide the Christmas vacation time. We've been very liberal on the matter of time that the other side may have the baby."

No Action Against Kaufman.

Dr. Thorpe said he did not contemplate any legal action against George S. Kaufman, Broadway playwright, for failing to appear as a witness although subpenaed by Dr. Thorpe's lawyers.

When Kaufman did not appear in court on schedule Monday, Judge Knight issued a bench warrant for his arrest.

Miss Astor testified at the hearing that she told Dr. Thorpe of her friendship for Kaufman and that he "condoned" it.

Asked if he thought matters would run along smoothly under the settlement, Dr. Thorpe replied: "I'm no prophet. It is a comforting thought, however, that the court would have the final say if any argument arose."

REBELS REPORT EXECUTION OF 40 SPANISH LOYALISTS

Victims Officers and Men of Air Force Captured at San Rafael Espinar.

By the Associated Press.

RABAT, French Morocco, Aug. 13.—The execution of 40 officers and men attached to the Madrid Government air force after they were captured in the storming of San Rafael Espinar, was announced by the rebel radio station at Seville, Spain, today.

The forces of Gen. Emilio Mola, rebel commander in the north of Spain, lined up the men and shot them down, the broadcast said.

GOV. PARK TO LOOK INTO ACTION OF ELECTION BOARD

Starts for St. Louis Following Exposure of Registration Fraud, but Won't Talk of Purpose.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 13.—Gov. Park returned to his office today, after an outing at Lake of the Ozarks, and left for St. Louis on an afternoon train.

The Governor would not discuss his purpose, but it is known that he wishes to look further into the recent actions of the St. Louis Election Board, his appointees, in reference to the wholesale registration frauds exposed by the Post-Dispatch.

When asked whether changes might be made in the Election Board, the Governor said: "I won't comment on that." As a rule, he is more ready to answer inquiries as to his plans.

Persons close to the Governor here believe he is about ready to make changes in the Board, which, after he had ordered it to purge the lists of fraudulent names," let the lists stand with 46,000 "not found" names, and relied on challengers to keep names fraudulently registered from being voted.

THREE CARS ON PENNSYLVANIA PASSENGER TRAIN DERAILED

"Spirit of St. Louis" Delayed Nearly Two Hours in Leaving City.

Three cars of a Pennsylvania Railroad passenger train, "The Spirit of St. Louis," were derailed shortly after noon today at Seventh and Poplar streets as the train was leaving Union Station. No one was injured.

The mail car, the baggage and smoking car, and a coach left the tracks. Departure of the train was delayed nearly two hours while the derailed cars were replaced and the mail and baggage transferred. Cause of the accident was not determined, according to the local officials of the railroad.

DUPONT MARRIAGE DISCLOSED

Former Mrs. Somerville Wed to Actor March 23.

By the Associated Press.

WILMINGTON, Del., Aug. 13.—Mr. and Mrs. William du Pont Jr. announced yesterday the marriage of du Pont's sister, Mrs. Mariona du Pont Somerville, to George Randolph Scott, actor. The wedding took place March 23 in Charlotte, N. C. Scott is in moving pictures.

Mrs. Somerville is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William du Pont in Wilmington. She spends most of her time at her Montpelier, Va., residence, where she maintains extensive stables. She and her first husband, Thomas H. Somerville, were divorced at Reno in October, 1935.

7 ARRESTS IN NEW DISORDER AT REMINGTON RAND PLANT

Windows Broken at Cincinnati Factory, Autos Carrying Workers Stoned.

By the Associated Press.

CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 13.—Strike disturbances at the Remington Rand plant in suburban Norwood caused the arrest of four men and three women yesterday. Windows in the plant were shattered with stones thrown from a crowd after 230 workers who entered in the morning had been removed in police-protected automobiles.

Other disturbances inculded an attack by a group of women on two woman applicants for work and a similar attack on a man by a larger group of men. The attackers hurried away in automobiles as police arrived.

A stone thrown at one of about 40 automobiles conveying workers from the plant led to the seven arrests. Strikers and strike sympathizers followed police to City Hall when they arrested Jack Begley as the stone thrower. Six of their number were arrested while the crowd milled about City Hall shouting "that man is innocent" and "we'll stand here until they release him."

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Aug. 13.—Joseph D. Teaton, president of the Syracuse Federation of Labor, said today that union leaders had agreed to call a general strike here Monday in sympathy with the Remington Rand strike, provided international union officers approved. Teaton said final action would be taken Sunday.

FILIPINO'S WHITE WIFE FOUND MURDERED IN HOTEL ROOM

Kansas City Musician Sought After 18-Year-Old Woman Is Slashed to Death.

By the Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 13.—Phillip Hernandez, Filipino musician, today was sought by police after his 18-year-old white wife of a year was found hacked to death in a hotel room for which he had registered.

The nude body of Mrs. Hernandez, also known as Freda Geer, had been slashed on the arms, body and throat. A new butcher knife lay on a desk. On the bed were fragments of a broken soda bottle. Police said a screen from a window opening on a fire escape had been removed, the killer apparently having escaped down it.

Police said a note left in the room indicated Hernandez had killed his wife.

The note said: This girl fooled me plenty . . . She tried to go with somebody else. Her parents told her to leave me and all of my friends are laughing at me. I cannot stand to live this way, so I killed her. Her folks live in La Harpe, Kan. . . . I killed her because her parents don't like me. I love her and she loves me too, so we better be dead."

GRAND JURORS SAY FRAUDULENT VOTERS WERE NOT CHALLENGED

Richard S. Brownell, Democratic Judge, Accused in Indictment of Willfully Omitting to Perform One of Duties.

CLERKS SAID TO HAVE KEPT FALSE POLL

Both Offenses Punishable by Penitentiary Terms — Three Who Did Not Serve Primary Day Erroneously Named.

Three election officials in the Fourteenth Precinct of the Twenty-third Ward were named by the grand jury yesterday in the first felony indictments which have resulted from its investigation of the registration frauds exposed by the Post-Dispatch.

The grand jury also ordered the arrest of three other election judges who served in the precinct for the registration of June 18, assuming, erroneously, that they had served also on primary election day, Aug. 4. Their arrest was ordered on the charge of "willfully omitting to challenge fraudulent voters."

Those Indicted.

The three who did serve in the precinct on both registration and election day and who were named in the indictments are:

Richard S. Brownell, 4412 Delmar boulevard, Democratic judge.

William Davenport, 1423 Deer street, Democratic clerk.

James G. Lane, 4434 Delmar boulevard, Republican clerk.

The Election Board's payroll for officials who served on primary election day shows that the other three officials in that precinct were:

Sam Ketchner, 4717A Newberry terrace, Democratic judge.

Joseph Berninger, 4664 Evans avenue, Republican judge.

Harry Hunt, 4011 Delmar boulevard, Republican judge.

These names were not known to the grand jury yesterday when it voted its indictments. It is understood that the grand jury had the list of the officials who served on registration day, and assumed, erroneously, that all of them served also on primary election day.

Charge Against Judge.

The indicted election judge charged with "willfully omitting to challenge fraudulent voters," an offense punishable by a penitentiary term of from two to five years.

The indicted election clerks are charged with "willfully keeping a false poll list," also punishable by a penitentiary term of two to five years. Another charge against the clerks is willful neglect to make the revision canvass which should have followed the registration of June 18. This offense is a misdemeanor, punishable by a jail or Workhouse sentence of from 30 to 60 days.

Witnesses Before Grand Jury.

C. H. Bayless, owner of the Domestic Gas Machine Co., 4431 Olive street, whose store was used as the precinct polling place on primary election day, was a witness before the grand jury yesterday, as was George Elliott, one of his employes. Other witnesses were Selwyn Pepper and Joseph Hanlon, Post-Dispatch reporters, and the two special deputy election commissioners who made the recanvass of the precinct, Mrs. Wilma Keck, 2147 Stansbury avenue, and Alfred Pemberton, 2306 Klemm street.

Mrs. Keck and Pemberton, as a result of their recanvass, reported that 132 of the 625 persons who appeared on the Election Board's "revised and corrected" list of registration for the precinct could not be found.

Within the precinct is the Twenty-third Ward Democratic Club at 4400 Delmar boulevard, where a Post-Dispatch reporter who inquired about the registration of 14 persons was told by three men

LEFTISTS DECLARE THEY CONTROL 19 OF 50 PROVINCES

In Some Others Fascist Rebels Hold Only Capitals, They Say—Four More Villages Taken.

CIVIL WAR SEEMS NEAR STANDSTILL

Both Sides Apparently Concentrating on Strengthening Positions, Instead of Offensives.

(Copyright, 1936, by the Associated Press.)

MADRID, Aug. 13.—The Government reported today the capture of four small towns in Cordoba Province—Delfontes, Calahorra, De Lancerra and Aguacil—and predicted the "virtual collapse of the military-Rightist revolt within a few hours." Leaders said they were "awaiting at any time important news" from Government forces in the field.

However, to observers the rebellion, nearing the end of its fourth week, appeared to be reaching a stalemate.

Both sides, with the exception of the three localized campaigns, apparently were concentrating on strengthening their positions rather than launching offensives.

Claims by Leftists.

Reporting on the status of their campaign against the Fascists, Government military leaders said their forces now control 19 of the 50 provinces, as follows:

North: Santander, Bilbao and the territory immediately surrounding the city of San Sebastian in Guipuzcoa.

South: Almeria, Malaga, Murcia.

East: Barcelona, Gerona, Lerida, Tarragona, Castellon, Valencia and Alicante.

Central: Madrid, Albacete, Ciudad Real, Cuenca, Toledo, Guadalajara and Badajoz.

Claims to partial domination of large sections in other provinces also were made, the Government insisting rebel troops' control of some provincial capitals ended at the city limits. Principal in these partly-dominated provinces are those in the south-central section, including Cordoba, Seville and Granada.

Evidence the Government is now sure of its control in the Eastern province of Valencia was seen in the fact Diego Martinez-Barrio, president of the Spanish Parliament, is planning to return to Madrid after a three-week tour to arouse enthusiasm for President Manuel Azana's administration.

Reports From Three Fronts.

Strong detachments of Government militia massed near San Sebastian today to oppose a Rebel advance on the Northern Coastal city. The Fascists were reported to be within a few miles of the city gates.

Westward along the Northern frontier Austrian miners, armed with dynamite, laid siege to the Rebel-dominated capital of Oviedo Province.

Fresh orders for renewed bombardment of insurgent positions in the Southwest, in Badajoz and Caceres Provinces, went out to the Government air forces.

Dispatches from the Portuguese frontier town of Caia said Badajoz was remaining loyal to the Madrid Government despite repeated bombardments by Rebel aircraft and internal revolts.

The Government admitted tonight rebels had taken Merida near Badajoz, but said that in other sectors insurgents were forced to retreat or held without gain.

A captain, two lieutenants and 12 men who had joined the rebellion fled to Caia, the reports said, after they were forced to surrender. They were quoted as saying their commander, Gonsalo Ramon, had been killed.

Attacking planes destroyed Rebel batteries at Siguenza, Guadalajara Province, yesterday, the Ministry of War announced.

The newly ordered aerial attack apparently was to center in the region where contact between the Northern and Southern Fascist armies was reported to have been established late yesterday. The Rebel radio station at Seville said the two columns had met 60 miles east of Badajoz.

Government leaders in Madrid expected the fall of Oviedo to release large forces of miners which could be sent to attack the rear guard of Fascist troops attempting to march on Madrid.

Artillery bombardment of Rebel camps on the Northern slopes of the Guadarrama mountain passes continued.

Dissolution of all religious orders and courts of justice was ordered by President Azana in rebel-controlled territory. An official decree ordered closed all religious institutions directly or indirectly connected with the rebellion.

A parliamentary committee was summoned to meet tomorrow to discuss extension of the state of alarm previously declared throughout the republic.

Forty-two generals were removed from the army as Government authorities continued their purge of alleged Fascist sympathizers in diplomatic and military posts.

Maj. Ramon Franco was dismissed from the diplomatic service. Maj. Franco, a trans-Atlantic flyer, was formerly air attache at the Spanish embassy in Washington and is a brother of Gen. Francisco Franco, commander-in-chief of the rebels.

French Artillerymen Instructing Leftist Militia Gunners.

By the Associated Press.

SAN SEBASTIAN, Aug. 13.—In a day of hard fighting, shared by men and women of the Popular Front militia, rebel forces were dislodged from favorable positions before San Sebastian and Irun yesterday.

Twenty-five rebel prisoners were taken in fighting at Oyarzun, which remained, however, in the hands of insurgents. Fascist artillery on Picoketa Mountain, commanding Irun, was silenced by fire from Port Guadalaupe and San Sebastian.

The Fascist forces seek to capture San Sebastian to remove any chance of attack from the rear on Gen. Emilio Mola's army, which is preparing for a new advance on Madrid.

Positions at Tolosa, which the rebels captured yesterday, were reported unchanged, with little fighting. Government officers said the rebels were pushed back less than a half-mile outside Renteria.

Government artillery at Arliaz, from atop a mountain in front of Oyarzun, shelled the rebel communications road two miles away. The loyalist gun crews were aided by instruction from French Socialist artillerymen.

Machine gun squadrons atop Three Crowns Mountain also showed evidence of coaching by French machine gunners. Men and women in the militia were wasting fewer cartridges and their aim was much better.

The Loyalist field guns, constructed at least 15 years ago, are using shells many of which were manufactured in 1910.

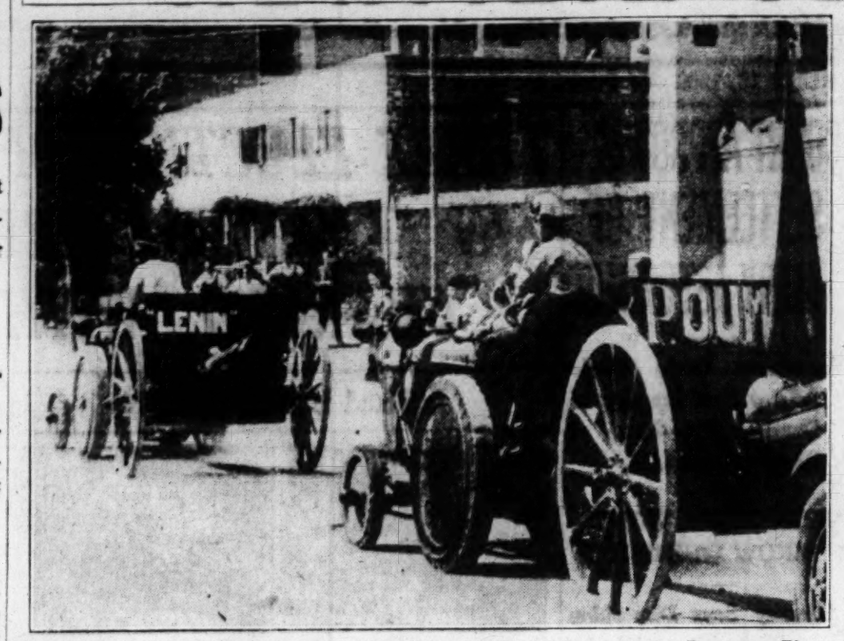

Women dressed in overalls with bandannas around their foreheads swab the guns while the men point and fire them. The women also carry shells from the ammunition dump.

Twenty-five Belgian volunteers who were stopped at the frontier finally were welcomed into Irun yesterday to fight with the Popular Front troops. They said 2000 of their countrymen were coming by boat to Pasajes with a full cargo of arms.

Government military headquarters here said rebels were rushing new guns and ammunition from Pamplona to reinforce their columns. Three batteries of new French 75s passed through Vera yesterday en route to the Oyarzun front.

Three rebel planes flew over Irun yesterday and dropped copies of a rebel newspaper published at Pamplona, containing a declaration by Gen. Mola that his Government would settle demands of autonomy by Basque and Catalan provinces if the Basques would lay down their arms.

25 GERMAN FLYERS REPORTED TO HAVE JOINED GEN. FRANCO

Moroccan Dispatch Indicates Foreign Legion "Recruits" Provided Their Own Planes.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, Aug. 13.—A French dispatch from Gibraltar quotes travelers arriving from Ceuta, Spanish Morocco, as saying 25 German aviators had enrolled in the Spanish Foreign Legion under the rebel commander Gen. Francisco Franco, and it was believed they had brought planes with them.

ALFONSO GUARDED IN AUSTRIA

Extra Precautions Taken After Threats to Kidnap Ex-King.

POERTSCHACH, Austria, Aug. 13.—A heavy police guard protected former King Alfonso today during a memorial service for his son, Prince Gonzalo, who was killed in an automobile accident two years ago. Many prominent Austrians and Spaniards attended the services, including Prince Juan of the Asturias and Prince Jaime, sons of Alfonso, and laid wreaths on the grave.

Circles close to Alfonso said the guard was decided on after the receipt of letters from Spanish, Swiss and Czech Communists and anarchists threatening to kidnap him.

DEMONSTRATION IN ROME AGAINST SPANISH ENVOY

Former Ambassador Takes Refuge in Vatican City; Given Heavy Guard.

ROME, Aug. 13.—The former Spanish ambassador to Rome, driven out of his embassy by demonstrations of sympathizers with Spanish Fascists, took refuge today in the Spanish ambassy at the Vatican City.

Luis de Zulueta, ambassador to the Vatican, and Jose Maria Aguinada, former envoy to Rome, were secluded in the old palace which has served as the Spanish embassy in Papal Rome since the seventeenth century. They denied themselves to callers, saying: "We see no sense in discussing the situation at present." Zulueta was replaced Tuesday by a representative of the "white government at Burgos."

In the palace courtyard a dozen carabinieri, two police automobile squads and a swarm of plain clothes men protected Zulueta against possible demonstrations by Fascist sympathizers.

Angel de la Mora, counselor, and Jose M. Estrada, first secretary, continued to live in the embassy. They resigned, De La Mora said, "Because we could not stand the shambles the Leftist government is making in our Spain."

AMERICAN PLANE SEIZED IN AUSTRIA, PILOT REPORTS

His Permit to Cross Country Had Expired; Took Two Monarchists to Alfonso.

By the Associated Press.

CANNES, France, Aug. 13. — Lieut. O. Cathcart Jones, noted English distance flyer, returned here last night from a flight in an American plane which he said was seized in Austria.

Jones flew two Spanish monarchists to confer with the abdicated Spanish king, Alfonso, at Marienbad, Czechoslovakia. He said he was pilot for James Haizlip of St. Louis, representative of an American airplane manufacturer. He said the plane was seized at Innsbruck because his permission to fly across Austria had expired.

Jones said one of his passengers on the flight to King Alfonso was the Marquis Detena, owner of the monarchist paper "ABC" of Madrid, which the Spanish socialist government seized.

Haizlip, his wife, and his son, James Jr., went to Europe on the second crossing of the Hindenburg on May 21, taking their own plane along in the airship.

whom he found sitting around a table reading newspapers that all lived there.

Released Under Bond.

Davenport and Lane, the indicted election clerks, gave bonds of $2500 on the felony charge and $1000 on the misdemeanor charge last night. The bonds, signed by James Egan, 4328 Page boulevard, are returnable Aug. 19 before Judge Joseph F. Dickmann in the Court of Criminal Correction.

Brownell, the indicted election judge, was released on a $2500 bond signed by Egan. It also is returnable Aug. 19 before Judge Dickmann.

Two of the election judges whose arrest was erroneously ordered by the grand jury also surrendered and gave bond. The third, a woman, moved to Canada a week before primary election day.

Jury to Correct Error.

The grand jury continued its inquiry today. Assistant Circuit Attorney James E. McLaughlin, who is advising the jury in the absence of Circuit Attorney Franklin Miller, on vacation in Michigan, said it would no doubt correct the error which was made yesterday.

It was expected also to look into the registration in the Fourteenth Precinct of the Eighteenth Ward where Election Board recanvassers reported "not found" for 425 of the 1095 persons registered. Those "not found" comprised 37 per cent of the total registration for the precinct.

Judges and clerks in charge of the precinct for the June 18 registration were:

John W. McGarvey, 1539 North Jefferson avenue, Democratic judge.

Ed Hennessy, 1516A North Twenty-fifth street, Democratic judge.

Edward Kowalski, 2336 Howard street, Republican judge.

James A. Jutz, 2728 Madison street ,Republican judge.

Thomas Kilcullen, 1514A Elliot avenue, Democratic clerk.

Frank Jasinski, 1603 North Jefferson avenue, Republican clerk.

Other Indictments Voted.

So far the grand jury has indicted 20 election clerks, two election judges and two other persons on charges relating to registration frauds. The two indicted who were not election officials are Alderman Harry Israel of the Fifth Ward and Ben Greenberg, saloonkeeper and boxing promoter.

Israel, who operates the Laclede Hotel, which has 200 rooms and 338 registered voters, was indicted on a charge of failing to file with the Board of Election Commissioners a sworn statement of the number of residents at the hotel. Greenberg, who lives at the Laclede Hotel, was indicted on a charge of making a false affidavit that he was registered voter Emil Smith, whose name had been challenged as one of the Fifth Ward's 4600 phantom voters.

The grand jury plans to consider one precinct each day this week. After Saturday's session it will recess until Sept. 1, when it will reconvene to attend to routine matters. This grand jury will be discharged Sept. 11 and a new one will be impaneled Sept. 14.

FOUR PLANES LEAVE BRITAIN; ON WAY TO SPAIN IS REPORT

British Airliners for Government at Madrid; Dutch Ships for Rebels.

LONDON, Aug. 13.—Two British airliners took off at Heston airport for Paris today, and airport attendants said they were destined for delivery to the Socialist Government in Spain.

At the same time two Dutch planes from Amsterdam left Croydon airport with British pilots at the controls en route to Lisbon, Portugal. It was reported their destination was Spanish rebel headquarters at Burgos.

Strongly backing the French proposed neutrality accord in the Spanish civil war, Great Britain nevertheless has insisted the Government has no power to halt transactions involving commercial planes.

Mistrial Warning to Muench Defense any testimony from her, designed to identify her and her husband as the "Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Palmer" for whom Jones said he got the Ware baby, was not admissible. That testimony was admitted at the first trial, but Judge Higbee said today he had been in doubt about it at the time.

Mrs. Plummer, who for a time cared for one of Mrs. Thomasson's children, was permitted to testify that she knew Mrs. Thomasson and had seen her at certain times in Chicago in July and August, 1935. This was intended to corroborate some of Mrs. Thomasson's testimony.

Anna Ware Takes Stand For Prosecution.

At this afternoon's session, Anna Ware, whose baby boy will be one year old next Monday, took the stand as a witness for the prosecution.

Miss Ware, 20-year-old former housemaid, related again that she went to St. Louis in July, 1935, and was taken by the defendant Jones to the home of Mrs. Rebecca Winner, retired midwife, where her baby was born Aug. 17, 1935, at 5:45 a. m.

That night at about 11:30 o'clock, she continued, Jones and Mrs. Berroyer took the baby from her and she did not see it again until Mrs. Muench took kit into the St. Louis Court of Appeals. She has the child now, she added. It was turned over to her by the Court of Appeals, after it had been in the Muench home since Aug. 18, 1935.

Tells of Auto Ride.

Once again Miss Ware said that the woman who went with her and Jones on an automobile ride in Forest Park one evening before her baby was born and questioned her about the color of her eyes and hair was Mrs. Muench.

She had never signed anything consenting that her baby be adopted and had never appeared in Juvenile Court, Miss Ware testified in support of the charge that custody of her baby had been transferred without approval of Juvenile Court.

After more than an hour of direct testimony, cross-examination of Miss Ware was taken up by Attorner Lacy, who gently led her through the details of her trouble, coming at last to the time when her sister Mary came to St. Louis and instituted a habeas corpus suit to try to learn her whereabouts.

When Lacy asked her if a news paper had not instituted the proceeding, Judge Higbee sustained an objection to that line of questioning. Lacy insisted on making an offer of proof, saying he expected to show that there was coercion of witnesses and subornation by newspaper.

"Not a line of the testimony that you have offered even squints at such a thing," Judge Higbee declared emphatically as he sustained the State's objection.

Yesterday's Testimony in Muench Conspiracy Trial.

The second trial entered its sixth day this morning, Mrs. Thomasson, first witness for the State, having been on the stand until yesterday afternoon. Her cross-examination covered a period of 20 hours. Five witnesses followed her yesterday.

These were Dr. Aaron Levy, specialist in children's diseases, who saw the Price baby in the Muench home; Nurse Florence Shaw, and Dr. William Berman, who saw it in Jewish Hospital; Albert G. Hoppe, undertaker who buried it, and Mrs. Kitty Lazaroff, former maid in the Muench home.

Dr. Berman, who was ill during the first hearing, which resulted in a mistrial last April, was the only new witness. Testimony of the others followed closely that given by them at the first trial, and in the habeas corpus hearing.

Dr. Levy related that Dr. Muench on July 11, 1935, summoned him to examine a sick baby in the Muench home, met him at the door and remarked that Mrs. Muench had been wanting a baby for a long time. Mrs. Muench, he said, expressed great happiness and informed him the baby had arrived there within the last 24 hours. This was the Price baby.

An examination convinced him the child was critically ill, he said, so he suggested it be taken to the Jewish Hospital. Later, he added, the Muenches telephoned him frequently to inquire about the child, but it died five days later at the hospital.

He related again that Dr. Muench had requested him to say nothing about the presence of the baby in the Muench home and that he had answered that he would respect the confidence but would not take part in any deception. Dr. Muench assured him, he said, that nothing of that sort was expected of him.

Interne's Testimony.

Dr. Berman, on duty as an interne in Jewish Hospital on the night of July 11, testified the Price baby was taken there that night at about 8 o'clock by Mrs. Berroyer and a "very tall man, without a coat, wearing glasses." He had so testified in the Court of Appeals.

Nurse Shaw said again that Mrs. Berroyer took the Price baby to Jewish Hospital and that the tall man with her was Wilfred Jones. Mrs. Berroyer's denal in the Court of Appeals resulted in her indictment for perjury.

Mrs. Lazaroff testified she had worked in the Muench home 16 days in the spring of 1935 and had heard Mrs. Muench say one Saturday afternoon she was going to a cocktail party to persuade a physician, her friend, that she was an expectant mother. She quoted Mrs. Muench as having said on her return she had been successful in "fooling the doctor."

The State contends that the motive of the alleged conspiracy was to enable Mrs. Muench to represent to Dr. Marsh Pitzman, wealthy St. Louis physician, that she was mother of a baby and that he was its father, so that she might obtain money from him.

Dr. Pitzman testified at the first trial here that he had been intimate with Mrs. Muench and had given her more than $16,000 while she was under a charge, of which she was acquitted later, of participating in the kidnaping of Dr. Isaac D. Kelley.

Mrs. Thomasson Concludes.

Before she left the witness stand, Mrs. Thomasson had been subjected to a harassing cross-examination, first by Verne R. C. Lacy, attorney for the Muenches and Mrs. Berroyer, then by Jones, acting as his own counsel, and again by Lacy. Just before letting her go, Lacy attacked her story, first brought out in Jones' cross-examination that Lacy had given her $50 for expense on a trip to Chicago to search for another baby to be put forth as the "real" Ware baby after the court had taken Anna Ware's child from the Muenches.

Lacy demanded to know if it were not true that she had never seen him until the opening of this trial, and asked if she could name any person who had ever seen him talking to her.

Again she asserted she had seen and talked to Lacy several times before, and said she could name two persons who had been present when they had conversed, "Wilfred Jones and Nellie Muench, and you have both of them right here."

Trying to break down her story, Lacy asked her to give a detailed description of his office, where she had said he gave her the money. She gave a general description of it, as she remembered it, and when Lacy quibbled over details, such as the kind of wood in the desk, Circuit Judge Higbee urged him to turn to something else.

Attacks P. T. Cross Story.

Lacy attacked also her story that she had three times seen Pross T. Cross, Kansas City attorney, who was one of Mrs. Muench's counsel in her trial on the charge of kidnaping Dr. Kelley—twice in the Muench home and once at the Mark Twain Hotel with Wilfred Jones.

Mrs. Thomasson had quoted Cross as having said in her presence at the Muench home during the Court of Appeals hearing that the only way to clear up the baby case was to "get another baby." She said he had promised to provide $300 for the purpose, and had asked her to call at his hotel room at 3 a. m. to get it, but that she did not go and did not get the money.

Assailing this narrative, Lacy demanded that she describe Cross. She did so only in a general way, and Lacy unsuccessfully sought to get her to be definite as to weight, height, color and amount of hair, and color of his suit. After many verbal tilts between Lacy and the witness, Judge Higbee suggested that the attorney had exhausted the subject. Lacy persisted and then the Court sharply ordered him to drop the subject. He did so under protest.

Five Lawyers Mentioned.

Mention of Cross and Lacy by Mrs. Thomasson brought to five the number of lawyers, in addition to Lawyer-Defendant Jones, said by her to have known of or participated in a scheme to get another baby to be represented as the Ware baby. The others were State Representative Edgar J. Keating of Kansas City, who was one of Mrs. Muench's counsel in the Kelley kidnaping case and also represented her and Dr. Muench in the Anna Ware habeas corpus proceeding; Carl Dubinsky, originally one of the respondents in the habeas corpus proceeding as to whom the suit was dismissed, and Shad Bennett.

She testified that Dubinsky and Bennett provided some funds for the search for another baby, and that she had made a trip to Kansas City to confer with Keating about the scheme. Lacy sought unsuccessfully to get her to admit that she had represented to Dubinsky, Keating and Bennett that she knew where the Ware baby was and could produce it.

EMBASSY GOES TO AID OF U. S. FIRMS IN SPAIN

Seeks to End Confiscation of Property and to Obtain Indemnity Where Seized.

By the Associated Press.

MADRID, Aug. 13.—Action by the American Embassy, is expected to end indiscriminate seizure of American properties.

More than 30 firms had applied to the Embassy for protection and a number reported their properties had been attached in varying degrees by unauthorized Government-Socialist party committees.

Albert Nufer, commercial attache, has issued certificates which have been posted on the doors of American establishments requesting that the property be respected. Confiscation, the bulletins advised, could be effected only on written order from the Government and if provision for prompt payment was made.

The Embassy also was negotiating for return or indemnification for property already confiscated. Return of several automobiles to American owners already has been effected through diplomatic channels.

Among the property seized by the unauthorized committees were 100 machines owned by the Madrid branch of the Singer Sewing Machine Co. The Capital movie theater, rented by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, was taken over and now is being operated by labor groups.

KETTERING'S LOSS IN INVESTMENT TRUST $240,000

General Motors Man Admits He Didn't Know They Were Not Regulated Like Insurance Firms.

BECAME DIRECTOR WITHOUT KNOWING IT

Name on Promotional Literature Made 'Effective Sales Material,' SEC Counsel Observes.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13. — Charles F. Kettering, inventor and General Motors vice-president, told the Securities and Exchange Commission yesterday that he put $260,000 into an investment trust in 1930, became a director without knowing it, and wound up with a $240,000 loss.

He testified he acquired 40,000 shares in Yosemite Holding Corporation of Detroit in 1930 because he regarded the deal as an opportunity to share in diversified security holdings.

He said he looked on investment trusts as "rather like insurance companies."

"You didn't know," asked David Schenker, Commission counsel, "that they were not subject to regulations like insurance companies?"

"No, I didn't know that," said Kettering.

"Do you think they should be subject to such regulations?" The witness paused a moment, then replied: "Well, you see, I am so far removed from that sort of thing I really wouldn't know."

Not Familiar With Activities.

He testified he did not know about various Yosemite activities reviewed by Schenker, and the attorney remarked that "all you know is that you came in with $260,000 and went out with $20,000."

"It wasn't very profitable," Kettering said.

He testified he liquidated his Yosemite investment when he sold 20,000 shares of stock in Equity Corporation of New York for $1 a share. This stock had been given him in exchange for his 40,000 shares of Yosemite when control of Yosemite was taken over by the New York Investment Trust in 1932.

Schenker asserted that Wallace Groves of Baltimore and New York, who controlled Yosemite, received three shares of Equity for each share of his Yosemite holdings when the exchange deal was made, while Kettering received only one-half share of Equity for each of his Yosemite shares. Kettering said he did not know this.

Questioned as to how he happened to become a Yosemite director, Kettering said he did not know how it happened, although he had "tried to find out."

Schenker asserted Kettering had been listed as a director on Yosemite stock promotional literature and that this "made every effective sales material."

Yosemite Officer Questioned.

Schenker questioned Ralph W. Simonds, former Yosemite vice-president and partner in Baker, Simonds & Co. of Detroit, regarding his activities in Yosemite.

Schenker contended that although Kettering agreed to purchase 40,000 shares of Yosemite treasury stocks, he was given only 30,000 shares plus 10,000 shares of Yosemite stock which Baker, Simonds & Co. had bought in the market.

This, the attorney argued, gave the proceeds from the 10,000-share sale at $6.50 a share to Baker, Simonds rather than to Yosemite and was in effect a move to use Kettering's money "to support the market" for Yosemite stock.

Simonds replied he did not remember details of the transaction, but disagreed with Schenker's assertion that it involved using Kettering's money to support the market.

He said he was positive that Baker, Simonds made no profit from the 10,000-share sale.

$180,000 Profit in Deal Alleged.

Grover O'Neill of New York, former president of Joint Investors, Inc., was questioned today regarding a transaction under which he and his associates, SEC officials said, made a $180,000 profit through the sale of stock in the investment trust. Schenker brought out that O'Neill and other management interests sold 20,000 shares of Joint Investors Class B common stock to Yosemite Holding Corporation in 1930 for $200,000, or $10 a share. Schenker said the sellers originally had paid $1 a share for the stock.

O'Neill testified "in view of all the circumstances at that time, I certainly think the stock was sold at a fair price." The circumstances referred to, he said, were asset value, investment conditions and prospective earning power.

A "detailed report" of the transaction was submitted to Joint Investors stockholders, O'Neill said, but Schenker asserted they were informed only that the stock had been sold to Yosemite, and were not told who sold it or at what price.

O'Neill replied that all stockholders knew the Class B common was owned by him and his associates and that all proper disclosures were made in the report.

POSTMISTRESS LOSES JOB AT WEST POINT

Miss Grace Harrington, Daughter of Custer Fighter, Disqualified.

By the Associated Press.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Aug. 13.—Miss Grace Harrington, postmistress at West Point, was notified yesterday by the United States Civil Service Commission that her application to enter the open competitive examination for this position was disapproved because she failed to meet specific requirements as to residence.

Miss Harrington has been living at Highland Falls, adjacent to the military reservation on which no quarters for a postmaster have been provided.

Reports in recent weeks that the incumbent, an "army junior," who has held the office for eight years, would be replaced aroused a controversy and brought army officers to her defense. Officers said the job at West Point had always been a non-political appointment and since 1847 has been filled by an army orphan.

Miss Harrington, daughter of Lieut. Henry M. Harrington, who lost his life in the Custer campaign of 1876, has been indorsed for the post by the superintendent of the academy, the Association of graduates, the Order of Indian Wars and many residents of the military reservation which she serves.

Reports became current here that Miss Harrington would be displaced to make way for a candidate named by the Democratic county chairman of Orange County. That started the clamor over the appointment.

The commission's ruling on the residence requirement had military academy authorities wondering just how the post could be filled legally. They pointed out that the only persons allowed to live on the reservation at West Point are officers, enlisted men and cadets of the military academy. But none of the men in these categories is permitted to hold a Government position.

WIFE SUES JACK ADLER FOR SEPARATE MAINTENANCE

Charges He Caused Disturbance, Resulting in Trip to Police Station in Patrol.

Suit for separate maintenance was filed in Circuit Court yesterday by Mrs. Sophie Adler, 6208 Rosebury avenue, against Jack Adler, president of the Adler Metal Products Co. They were married 12 years ago, and separated this month, according to the petition.

The suit charged Adler with general indignities, and stated that last Friday he caused a disturbance in an attorney's office in Boatmen's Bank Building, while discussing a proposed financial settlement with his wife, and, as a result, Mr. and Mrs. Adler and the lawyer were taken in a police patrol wagon to Central District Station. Adler, according to his wife's petition, has an annual income in excess of $50,000 and owns property valued at $100,000.

WOMAN, 22, 'DEEDED' TO MAN

Both Arrested at Home in Boston; Tell of "Deal" With Her Father.

By the Associated Press.

BOSTON, Aug. 13.—Charles H. Davis, 79 years old, who asserted a 22-year-old woman with whom he was arrested in his home here last night was "deeded" to him, went to jail for three months today. Judge Albert Hayden sentenced him and committed the woman, Miss Bertha McLeod, to the psychopathic hospital.

Both the woman and Davis told police of the "deed" by which he said her father, John D. McLeod, gave her to him four years ago "to adopt or to marry." Last month Davis filed applicatioon to wed Miss McLeod but the license was held up because of an alleged error in addresses.

Testify About Receipt of Money From Actor, But Differ on Certain Details.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Harry S. Hechheimer, formerly attorney for Harry Bannister, actor and theatrical producer and now one of the three men accused of extorting $1800 from Bannister, testified today he saw one of his fellow defendants give money to the third man on Dec. 15, 1934.

Hechheimer said he was riding in a taxicab with Jerome A. Jacobs, lawyer, and Raymond Derringer, formerly a private detective, when Derringer gave the money to Jacobs. It was on that day, the indictment charges, that Bannister, fearful lest affidavits giving him an unfavorable character be given his former wife, Ann Harding, movie actress, drew $200 from the bank and gave it to Derringer.

Hechheimer also admitted he got $300 from Bannister early in 1935.

Derringer, testifying after Hechheimer, said he received $200 from a sum of money Bannister gave him. Hechheimer, he swore, got the rest. Derringer said he received money from Bannister twice, receiving besides the $200 another sum of $60. He said he had done some investigating for Bannister.

The threats to make available to Miss Harding the affidavits were made, the State charges, while Bannister was engaged in a custody fight over his daughter, Jane, who is now with the actress in England.

EIGHT HELD IN ESTATE FRAUD

Arrests Follow Discovery of Swindle in Court Clerk's Office.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—Investigating a $9451 estate swindle discovered in the office of the clerk of the Circuit Court last June, Eugene O'Connor, investigator for the State's Attorney's office, ordered the detention of eight men last night.

Among them was a lawyer and a WPA worker. O'Connor withheld their names and would not discuss reports they had confessed that they may be involved in other frauds. The money involved in the swindle represented insurance on the life of Weir Williams, salesman, and apparently was paid out on a fraudulent court order. The swindle was disclosed when the rightful heirs claimed the money.

SWIFT CO. SELLS STOCKYARDS

Disposes of Holdings on Order of United States District Court.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—An order approving the sale of six stockyards by Swift & Co., packers, to United Stockyards Corporation of Chicago was signed today by Justice Jennings Bailey of United States District Court.

Nelson T. Hartson, an attorney for Swift, said the sale would divest Swift of all its interests in stockyards except that at St. Joseph, Mo. Justice Bailey, in 1932, directed the packing house to get rid of its stockyards holdings. His newest order directs the company to refrain from acquiring any interest, direct or indirect, in the purchasing corporation. The proceedings were part of protracted litigation intended to break up control of stock yards by big packing companies.

Queena Mario Gets Divorce.

ACTION BY MAYOR FOR PERMANENT REGISTRATION BILL

He Appoints Committee of Seventeen to Draft Measure and Calls First Meeting for Tuesday.

A committee of 17, named by Mayor Dickmann to draft a permanent registration bill, applying to St. Louis, for presentation to the next Legislature, will hold its first meeting in the Mayor's office Tuesday at 4 p. m.

Mayor Dickmann said today that if the committee named by him agreed on a measure he would go to Jefferson City at the proper time and work personally for its passage.

The Mayor's announcement, given out last evening, stated that he was interested in honest and clean elections and permanent registration for St. Louis. His first indorsement of the permanent registration plan was made after the Post-Dispatch's recent exposure of wholesale registration frauds.

As told yesterday, permanent registration laws go into effect this year on each side of St. Louis—in East St. Louis under the Illinois 10-city law, and in St. Louis County under an act of the 1935 Legislature, applying to that county only.

Members of Committee.

Those named by the Mayor as a committee are:

Thomas N. Dysart, president Chamber of Commerce; John Ely Weatherford, chairman legislative committee, Young Men's Division, Chamber of Commerce; Jesse A. McDonald, lawyer; Marion C. Early, lawyer; John B. Edwards, lawyer, and a former chairman of the election board; Charles Nagel, lawyer; Mrs. Ivan H. Light, president St. Louis League of Women Voters; O. K. Bovard, managing editor of the Post-Dispatch; E. Lansing Ray, president of the Globe-Democrat Publishing Co.; Elzey Roberts, president of the Star-Times Publishing Co.; Fred W. Pape, chairman of the Republican City Committee; Robert E. Hannegan, representing the Democratic City Committee; Edgar H. Wayman, City Counselor; and the four members of the Board of Election Commissioners, Chairman James A. Waechter, Secretary Charles L. Moore, Stephen M. Wagner and Joseph W. Hannauer.

In his letter calling the committee's first meeting, the Mayor said:

"You already know of my interest, as Mayor of St. Louis, in honest and clean elections and permanent registration for this city.

"Believing you feel as I do about this matter, I am asking you to serve upon a committee to consider and draft an appropriate registration bill for introduction into the coming session of the State Legislature.

"I am calling a meeting of this committee on Tuesday, Aug. 18, in my office at 4 o'clock for the purpose of organization. Will you be kind enough to advise me if you will accept this appointment and attend the meeting next Tuesday?"

Hannegan Opposed 1935 Bill.

Weatherford, named as a member of the committee, was active in the effort, at the 1935 legislative session, to pass a St. Louis permanent registration law. The League of Women Voters worked to this end with the Young Men's Division of the Chamber of Commerce.

Opposition to the measure, at that time, was led by Hannegan, then chairman of the Democratic City Committee, in his capacity as $3000-a-year lobbyist for the city. Hannegan complained that the framers of the bill had not consulted him, or Republican Chairman Pape, or the Election Board members. He objected to a clause requiring that hotels and lodging houses make sworn statements as to their lodgers and period of residence. Chairman Waechter and Secretary Moore of the Election Board appeared against the bill.

The supporting organizations tried to get the measure amended to meet objections, and to interest Mayor Dickmann. Waechter announced that he would prepare a substitute bill, and the Mayor withheld action pending the appearance of this bill, but the substitute did not materialize, and the measure died in committee.

The Mayor, in naming Hannegan to his committee of 17, appeared to assume that Hannegan would be elected chairman of the Democratic committee at the organization meeting of the latter body to be held Monday.

In the recent re-canvass of the registration caused by the fraud expose, Election Board deputies reported as "not found" nine of 12 persons registered from the two-family flat at 4143 San Francisco avenue, where Hannegan lives upstairs. Hannegan had two reinstated. Three others residing at other places had used the Hannegan address or that of the downstairs flat as a voting address, and two others found to be residing in St. Louis County also were shown to be registered in the county.

MOTORBOATS USED TO SUPPLY WATER TO OIL REFINERY

Pump Transfers It to Standard Plant at Wood River, Ill., Where Supply Is Threatened.

Four small motorboats, anchored in the Mississippi River, are in use today to force water up a long inland channel to a pumping station, to supply water to the Standard Oil Co. refinery in Wood River, Ill.

The refinery officials, faced with a shutdown through a lack of water, decided to use the motorboats after an old river man said such a method had been used by a sand washing plant. At normal stages of the river there is sufficient water in the channel to supply water to the refinery from the pumping station, 4000 feet from the river. Because of the low water, however, the pumping station was left almost dry.

A small dam was constructed at the entrance of the channel, and the wash from the anchored motorboats forces the water over the dam and into the channel. Engineers estimated that the boats were forcing about 15,000 gallons a minute into the channel, from which the regular pumping machinery transfers it to the refinery.

Grabs Woman on 12th Floor Ledge.

By the Associated Press.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 13.—Passersby saw a woman climb out on a twelfth story window ledge of the Columbus Building Hotel today. One of them told Edward Tydings, desk clerk, who hurried to the top floor room. Entering quietly, he grabbed the woman about the knees and pulled her to safety. She had registered Tuesday night under the name of Mary I. Davis of Tulsa, Ok. She refused to tell her name or give the reason for her action. Police sent her to a hospital for observation.

WOMAN CHARGED WITH MURDER OF HER FATHER

Body Ordered Exhumed in Alleged Insurance Plot at Bloomfield, Mo.

By the Associated Press.

BLOOMFIELD, Mo., Aug. 13.—The body of Thomas Bond, 63 years old, who died under unexplained circumstances three years ago, was ordered exhumed today for chemical analysis to determine whether there was any poison in his system, following the arrest of his daughter, Mrs. Beulah Fortner, 30, on murder charges in connection with his death.

Mrs. Fortner was taken to jail at Poplar Bluff, and Aubrey Edwards, 21, a neighbor, was arrested as a material witness and freed on $5000 bond.

Edwards, according to Sheriff George Barham, admitted he had been offered about $100 to buy poison to be used in home brew with the intent to kill Bond.

The Sheriff said he was informed the poison was alleged to have been administered in an effort to collect a $2000 insurance policy which named Mrs. Fortner as beneficiary.

"The premium on that policy," he said, "was raised by the company, a fraternal organization, and those paying the premium could no longer keep it up." The Sheriff said other arrests will be made in the next few days.

SLEEPS IN GARAGE DOORWAY; IS RUN OVER, BADLY INJURED

John Luschen, Mt. Olive, Ill., Had Been at Tavern; Driver Doesn't See Him.

John Luschen of Mount Olive, Ill., was run over by an automobile last night when he went to sleep in the doorway of a garage in the rear of a tavern at Eighth and State streets, Madison, after leaving the tavern.

The driver of the automobile, Charles Parker, who lives in an apartment over the tavern, was putting his car away for the night, and did not see Luschen. Luschen suffered a severe back injury. He was taken to St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Granite City, and then was moved to a hospital in Litchfield.

SUMMONSES FOR 10 DRIVERS

One Motorist Arrested by New Traffic Inspectors.

Ten motorists were handed Police Court summonses and one was arrested yesterday, for violation of city traffic ordinances, by traffic inspectors of the Department of Streets and Sewers, according to Joseph Schneider, traffic supervisor.

The summonses were for failure to observe stop signs at playgrounds, boulevards and major street intersections. The arrest was made in connection with an automobile accident. There are 22 traffic inspectors employed by the department.

Constable Held in Killing.

By the Associated Press.

WAYLAND, Mo., Aug. 13.—Guy Creger, Clark County Constable, is in jail here today pending inquiry into the killing of Edward Barth in a roadhouse last night. Witnesses said Creger threatened to take Barth to jail, that Barth refused to go without a warrant, and in the fight which followed Creger shot Barth.

MISSING FROM SHIP

MISS JANE CAREY, 20-year-old Smith College junior and member of a Lynn, Mass., family, whose mysterious disappearance from the liner Queen Mary was reported August 10 when the ship reached New York from Cherbourg. The girl was listed as having presumably jumped overboard. She was returning from Italy where she had spent a year in the study of the Italian language with a group of college classmates.

TEACHER'S SISTER-IN-LAW SUES TO GET ALL OF ESTATE

Mrs. Sadie S. Cooke Tells of Agreement on Housekeeping; Left $2000 in Will.

Mrs. Sadie Sheppard Cooke, 5075 Vernon avenue, yesterday filed suit in Circuit Court to have all the estate of her sister-in-law, Miss Kate E. Cooke, high school teacher, who died last April, turned over to her in payment for her services as housekeeper for Miss Cooke.

Mrs. Cooke alleged she entered into an oral contract with her sister-in-law, in 1924, to keep house for her. The value of the estate was set at $11,949 by Mrs. Cooke. She was to have received $2000 by the terms of the will. After making $1500 in other specific bequests, Miss Cooke left the rest of her estate to the Little Sisters of the Poor, 2209 Hebert street.

MAN, INJURED IN FALL, DIES

Frank J. Schloemer Jr., Clerk, Plunged Into Elevator Shaft.

Frank J. Schloemer Jr., 48 years old, a clerk, died today at St. John's Hospital of skull and internal injuries suffered July 13 when he fell into an elevator shaft at the Charles Monroe Stationery Co., 409 North Third street, where he was employed.

Schloemer was on the roof of the five-story building when he lost his balance. He was found on the roof of the elevator which had been stopped at the third floor. He lived at 3729 Utah place.

KILLED WHEN AUTO CRASHES INTO TREE

Curtis King, Nameoki, Loses Control on Curve Near Granite City.

Curtis King, 23-year-old laborer, 2802 Myrtle street, Nameoki, Ill., was killed early today when he was unable to make a turn from a Madison County highway into Illinois State Route No. 157 seven miles east of Granite City and crashed his automobile into a tree. He suffered a skull and internal injuries and was burned when the car burst into flames.

The automobile had been bought by King a few weeks ago. It was demolished. King's father told authorities that his son usually worked at night. He did not work last night, however, and the father did not know where his son was going when he was killed.

SHELTONS' ALIBI WITNESS QUITS AS EAST SIDE OFFICER

No Explanation of Sergt. Ray Cashel's Resignation, Testified for Gangsters in Bank Robbery.

Desk Sergt. Ray Cashel, one of three East St. Louis policemen who testified as alibi witnesses for Earl and Bernie Shelton, East Side gangsters, when they and their brother, Carl, were on trial in 1928 for robbery of a Kincaid, Ill., bank resigned last night from the Police Department, of which he had been a member since 1923. The resignation, for which no reason was assigned, was accepted by the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners.

The policemen testified the two Shelton brothers were in jail at East St. Louis at the time of the robbery Sept. 27, 1923, and produced the police blotter of that date with the names of the brothers entered in a different handwriting at the bottom of the page. The Sheltons were sentenced to from 10 years to life but won a new trial.

The other alibi witnesses were Detective Lieut. Thomas F. O'Brien, discharged from the police department in 1934 "for good of the service" and Sergt. Floyd Combs, who died in 1933.

EAST ST. LOUIS TO REMOVE 7 MILES OF STREET CAR RAILS

Council Authorizes Action as Preliminary to WPA Resurfacing of 11 Miles.

A resolution authorizing the Keeley Bros. Construction Co. to remove 7.2 miles of abandoned street car rails in East St. Louis as a preliminary step in resurfacing 11 miles of streets by the WPA was adopted last night at a meeting of the East St. Louis City Council.

The rails, estimated to have a salvage value of $40,000, will be given to the construction company for the work of removing them. A resolution for the purchase of necessary resurfacing materials also was approved.

FOREST FIRE AREA WIDENS; 25,000 ON FIGHTING LINES

Wind - Whipped Flames Spreading Along Several Fronts in Minnesota's North Woods.

TWO WISCONSIN BLAZES UNCHECKED

Two Villages Still in Danger—Smoke Pall Extends as Far South as St. Paul.

By the Associated Press.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 13. — Flames spread through a large area of northern forests today despite the efforts of 25,000 men who labored under increasing hazards. Adverse winds and low humidity handicapped the fighting forces.

Hundreds of men were picked up on the streets of International Falls, Minn., and enlisted along adjacent highways. They joined 1000 others who were striving to head off fire on the international boundary north of Kabetogama Lake. The flames there were said to be "completely out of control over 10,000 acres."

CCC Youths Aid in Fight.

Trucks rushed civilian conservation corps reinforcements and 8000 feet of hose to the Tom Lake front in the Grand Portage State Forest in northeastern Minnesota. The crest fire there remained unchecked after charring 6000 acres of virgin timber.

One thousand men failed to check flames creeping over woodland in the Markhampalo section of Minnesota. The fire flared anew after leveling 22 farm homes over the weekend. Residents of Bassett, Toimi and Fairbanks watched the flames anxiously.

Hundreds of men cut emergency firebreaks near Sandstone, Minn., in the path of a new fire. Another major fire roared near Pequaywan Lake, 25 miles south of Duluth. In the Moose Bay-Basswood Falls region 12 others burned.

Warnings to flee from menacing brush fires were carried to residents in the McGrath (Minn.) area by National Guardsmen. Other militiamen mapped the district and made arrangements for emergency transportation of residents.

Earlier unlimited power to protect life and property in the fire-ravaged north woods area were vested in Grover Conzet, State forester, by the State Conservation Commission. Conzet told the commission one district alone was reporting on 41 fires daily.

Two Major Wisconsin Fires.

In Wisconsin the fire menace centered in the Bennett and Pattison Park districts. Twelve families left Bennett. The village of Hawthorne also was endangered.

From Washington, D. C., the National Park Service reported the combined forces of the navy, the Coast Guard and the Civilian Conservation Corps appeared to be winning a 10-day fight with the forest fire on Isle Royale in Lake Superior off Houghton, Mich. A seaplane lent by the navy for observation reported only a few "hot spots" remaining in the 27,000 acres of island timber land burned over.

Demaray said the field force probably would have the fire well under control in two or three days unless fresh winds fanned new life in the receding flames. He said he believed the island moose herds had sought refuge in the unburned portion of the island and in the small lakes.

A heavy pall of smoke hovered over the fire zones and extended as far south as St. Paul and Minneapolis.

Forestry officials directed thousands of men in other sections of the north woods in a vigilant effort to guard against new outbreaks.

Small fires smouldered at points scattered over the northern half of Wisconsin and the northern two-thirds of Minnesota. The principal fear was that many of these minor fires would merge into a disastrous conflagration.

TRAPPED IN WELL 18 HOURS

Man, Buried to Shoulders at Irving, Tex., Rescued.

By the Associated Press.

IRVING, Tex., Aug. 13.—Ed Roberts, about 50 years old, trapped in a well bottom, faced death for nearly 18 hours while fire department pumpers fought a steadily rising stream of water.

He was semiconscious when a final desperate effort of workmen freed him today. He was taken to a Dallas hospital. Roberts was cleaning the well when a cave-in buried him to the shoulders.

Would Adjust St. Louis Rates.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13. — Rail carriers serving the territory between St. Louis and points in Southern territory asked the Interstate Commerce Commission today for relief from the long-and-short-haul provision of the Interstate Commerce Act on fertilizer and fertilizer material between St. Louis and Southern shipping points. The carriers contended the relief was justified by competition from other means of transportation.

"Woe to Him Who Betrays Labor," He Shouts in Rochester Speech.

By the Associated Press.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 13.—In an appeal for labor to uphold the democratic principles of majority rule, William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, yesterday assailed the "rebellious elements" which he charged with fomenting strife within the ranks of organized labor.

Speaking at the convention of the Hotel and Restaurant Employes' International Alliance and the Bartenders' International League, Green differentially attacked the Committee for Industrial Organization headed by John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers.

"Woe to him or her who betrays labor," Green shouted.

Stating that the federation's last convention in Atlantic City had voted down the principle of industrial unionism, Green argued that the minority should have abided by the decision. He said:

"When the majority decides a question all those who participate in the vote are obligated to abide by it. Any other way would lead to chaos, the rule of the jungle and the substitution of force for reason."

Green asked his audience if it would tolerate the organization of rival organizations in its own field by disgruntled minority leaders.

He referred to the schism in the federation early in his address as "our family troubles."

When a decision is lost in convention and the losing side rebels, said Green, that breach would reach through every local union from New York to San Francisco.

"Then your enemy and mine, the employer, would sit on some elevated point and laugh and say, 'My God, I couldn't have raised enough money to cause that fight. But I'm glad it's there.'

"Those who are responsible for discord, hatred and reprisal are not hurting me as president of the American Federation of Labor, but you and your family.

"The issue is not craft unionism as opposed to industrial unionism. It is the effort of a rebellious element to destroy the solidarity and unity of our federation.

"Solidarity transcends every movement within our ranks. No industry will yield to an organization wrecked by a family quarrel."

SLOT MACHINES ARE BACK IN ST. CHARLES SALOONS

Began Reappearing Two Weeks After Cleanup in May, Following Gambler's Murder.

Slot machines have reappeared in the saloons and taverns of St. Charles from which they were taken during a temporary cleanup last May, following the murder of Charles Maginness, petty gambler, who was killed in St. Louis on the eve of the opening of a gambling joint in St. Charles.

The machines began to filter back about two weeks after they had been removed. By now they are back in almost all of the saloons and 3.2 beer places, although they are not as prevalent as they formerly were in the stores and hotel lobbies.

Just before their disappearance at the end of May, Prosecuting Attorney Joseph B. Wentker, who was unopposed in the recent primary for the Democratic nomination for re-election, said he would like to do something about the machines, but that he thought he was powerless to move. Sheriff Charles Phelps said he, too, would like to do something.

But before either official had a chance to act, the machines made their mysterious, though temporary, disappearance.

CHRISTIAN ANDERSON HEADS PROGRESSIVE CITY COMMITTEE

Other Officers Include Mrs. H. Hoyer, Miss Helen Lippert, and B. C. Owen.

Christian Anderson, 4035 Gratiot street, was elected chairman of the recently organized Progressive Party's city committee at a meeting last night at 3955 Lindell boulevard.

Other officers elected were: Mrs. H. Hoyer, 3125 Russell boulevard, vice chairman; Miss Helen Lippert, 5787 Waterman avenue, secretary, and B. C. Owen, 3863 West Pine boulevard, treasurer. Mrs. Edward DiBella, 6230 Oakland avenue, was chosen committeewoman from the Twenty-fourth Ward.

H. R. Hay, Progressive Party candidate for Public Administrator, was named director of a research division.

RELIEF FOR BARROW ESKIMOS

Cutter Lands Four and Half Tons of Food.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13. — The cutter Northland advised coast guard headquarters today she had landed four and a half tons of food at Barrow, Alaska, and that the immediate famine situation among eskimos there was in hand. At the same time, the cutter said "existing destitution is not so serious as earlier reports indicated."

"We have landed enough food to take care of the immediate situation," the cutter's commander said, adding that additional supplies would be sent ashore "within a few weeks" by a Hudson Bay steamer.

The eskimos, isolated in tiny villages along the shore east of Barrow, were threatened with starvation when the usual schools of seals and whales failed to reach northern waters this summer.

Riders Beat Man, Steal His Auto.

By the Associated Press.

BELTON, Mo., Aug. 13.—Ernest Yeargin, 24 years old, of Auburn, Neb., was found bound and in a serious condition from blows on the head on a side road south of Belton early today. After receiving emergency treatment, he was taken to a Harrisonville hospital. Yeargin told officers two youths he had picked up in his automobile near Auburn yesterday had slugged him between Kansas City and Belton. After robbing him of $6 or $7 in cash, he said, they bound him and threw him from the car. He was en route to Bentonville, Ark., to visit his grandmother.

It's our family's whiskey, neighbor—and neighbor, it's your price!

Tom pointing to our Family's Whiskey being sent over some place

We can't hardly go any place these days but what we see our Family's Whiskey being sold to somebody. This here picture shows the three of us last week-end when we was up visiting some of our relations. It's Tom in front and then me and my brother William. Tom's hollering at Barney Wright "Hey, what you got there?" Barney claims he's got more Wilken Family Whiskey customers than any others, and Barney's got a good trade with a mighty fine class of people.

Harry E. Wilken

folks are fast finding out how they can enjoy the same whiskey as us distillers!

It don't seem to count much how well-to-do a person happens to be—you find him going for our Family's Whiskey just as much as folks that have got their eye on the neighborly price the Wilken Family is sold at.

So it can't be how little money everybody is charged for our Family's Whiskey that's making folks so excited over it. You just like what we distillers like in our whiskey. You like tastiness and something just as smooth as can be—so it just sort of oozes down your throat.

Well, you're getting just the same as us! The Wilken Family Whiskey has got everything that Dad and us and Grandad ever found out concerning making whiskey extra tasty and smooth. And you can count on this here Family's Recipe always being just one way—the way you like it!

"Prosperity" Scrip Issued by Alberta Government

CERTIFICATES issued in lieu of wages to provincial workers as part of a social credit system. The certificates, which resemble Bank of Canada $1 notes, are to be redeemed by the government in two years, with provision made for interim redemption from merchants and manufacturers in certain cases. During their 104 weeks of life, 1 per cent of the value, in a special stamp, must be affixed to a certificate each week. Thus at the end of the two years one certificate would bear $1.04 worth of stamps paid for by those through whose hands the scrip has passed.

URGES ADOPTION BY ST. LOUIS OF STANDARD MILK ORDINANCE

Dean Joseph McClain of Washington U. Law School Speaks at Consumers' Council.

Dr. Joseph McClain, new dean of the Washington University Law School, urged adoption by St. Louis of the standard milk ordinance of the United States Public Health Service at a meeting of the Consumers' Council yesterday at Hotel Kings-Way. The standard ordinance, pending in the Board of Aldermen, was introduced as the result of efforts of the Consumers' Council and the St. Louis Medical Society.

Dean McClain said the provisions of the standard ordinance authorizing the labeling of milk in accordance with its quality and providing for degrading of milk from uninspected sources or unapproved plants was necessary to proper enforcement of the ordinance. Louisville (Ky.) where he was head of the University of Louisville School of Law, before coming to Washington University, has the best and purest milk supply in the United States, he said. It is the largest of 540 cities having the standard ordinance with grading and degrading provisions.

Dean McClain said increased cost of meeting requirements of the ordinance was passed on to the consumer and consequently works no hardship on distributors.

RECEIVER'S QUARTERLY REPORT FOR JOINT STOCK LAND BANK

$643,189 in Mortgages and Kindred Assets Disposed of, $142,663 Under Carrying Value.

A report of S. L. Cantley, receiver of the St. Louis Joint Stock Land Bank, for the quarter ended June 30, published today, showed that mortgages and kindred assets disposed of during the quarter yielded $643,189, or $142,663 less than the receiver's carrying value. Similarly, assets disposed of since the receivership began, June 1, 1932, sold for $8,677,891, or $3,423,455 less than carrying value.

The balance sheet showed liabilities of $13,041,539 and assets of $9,972,553, but pointed out that assets were listed at book amounts, not at the receiver's valuation, and that accrued interest of $3,654,205 was omitted. The principal liability is $12,694,150 in farm loan bonds. Chief assets are: Cash, $1,606,419; net mortgage loans, $4,654,690; purchase money contracts, $1,805,915; real estate owned outright, $1,661,350, consisting of 284 pieces of property covering 64,291 acres in Missouri, Arkansas, Illinois and Indiana.

The report listed 1395 mortgage loans for $4,128,111, not in process of foreclosure, in the four States, of which 50 bore interest at 5½ per cent and the rest at 6 per cent. Of these, 955 were not in default, 213 were in default less than six months, 81 less than a year and 146 more than a year. There were 69 mortgages for $526,578 in process of foreclosure.

COUNTY HEALTH DEPARTMENT PLANS FIGHT ON MOSQUITOES

Will Seek Co-operation of Municipalities to Keep Oil on Breeding Places.

The great number of mosquitoes reported in sections of St. Louis County this year, during which weather conditions have been unfavorable for their breeding, has been traced to breeding places in open sewers and catch-basins in the vicinities from which complaints of excessive numbers of mosquitoes have come, Dr. Theodore R. Meyer, county health commissioner, said today.

The health department, lacking equipment to do so, will seek the co-operation of county municipalities in pouring oil on the breeding places at two-week intervals during the remainder of the summer. Street departments of Clayton, Richmond Heights, Brentwood, Webster Groves and Kirkwood will be asked to furnish a truck and an employe for this purpose. The health department will make tests and point out the breeding places.

Tests made by the department have indicated a huge number of eggs of mosquitoes of the pestiferous variety in these breeding places but none of those of the disease-bearing types, Dr. Meyer said.

8 OVERCOME IN Y.W.C.A. POOL

Girls Choked by Gas Used to Purify Water.

By the Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 13.—Two woman officers at the Kensington Y. W. C. A. said they had rescued eight girls from the swimming pool after a gas used to purify the water partially overcame the bathers.

Miss Mary Sansom, director, and Miss Nona Yochem, swimming instructor, said they pulled the girls from the water yesterday after noticing they were choking and gasping in the shallow part of the pool. Miss Sansom said an electric pump had put too much gas into the pool.

WPA RIVER CLEANUP 75 PCT. COMPLETE

Debris Along 18 Miles of Mississippi Cleared by 600 Workmen.

The job of cleaning up the 18 miles of Mississipyi river shore line in St. Louis, from the Chain of Rocks to Carondelet, undertaken last February by the Works Progress Administration, is 75 per cent completed with an expenditure of $294,690. The total allotment for the improvement, $650,335, apparently will not be entirely spent.

Just when, if ever, a similarly sweeping cleanup of the riverfront was made is not recorded. At the start of WPA activity the St. Louis bank of the river demonstrated by its unkept appearance the westward movement of the city. What was once the front yard of the community had become the back yard, a convenient dumping place for refuse of all sorts. And the Mississippi, rising and falling each year, had cluttered the bank with flotsam which no one made an effort to clear away.

About 600 Employed.

The changes brought about by the WPA workers, of whom an average of 600 have been working on the river front since February, were surveyed yesterday by a Post-Dispatch reporter. With the exception of two miles to which the WPA did not have access because they are owned privately, the river front has been cleared of rubbish, and debris, low places holding pools of stagnant water have been filled, and banks made steep by the cutting action of the river have been trimmed and sloped.

Accompanying the reporter on through the area were R. M. Bristol, representative of the city administration on WPA matters, and Thomas Byrne, city wharfmaster, who is supervisor of the waterfront undertaking. Byrne estimated six months would be required to complete the improvement, since the rest of the task will involve repairs of a permanent nature.

Cobblestone Paving Uncovered.

Byrne pointed out a section of the levee from Poplar street to Gratiot street where the removal of accumulated mud a foot deep revealed cobblestone paving like that of the rest of the section between the Eads and Municipal brides. Beneath the Municipal bridge the workers shaped a dirt bluff, eliminating an obstruction which helped form a sandbar at the outlet of the Mill Creek sewer, at the foot of Chouteau avenue.

Along the city waterfront there are more than 100 sewer outlets. At each the WPA workers have had to grade the banks on both sides and do extensive riprapping to prevent further erosion by the river. Many of the concrete outlet pipes had been stripped by the current of their protecting earth.

The need for protective banks at the sewer mouths was not known at the start of the undertaking but was revealed with the steady fall of the Mississippi during the spring and summer. The unprecedented low stage of the river has been helpful to the cleanup and repair job, according to Byrne, making parts of the bank accessible which for years have been under water.

Cleaning Up Shanty Towns.

Much of the refuse was adjacent to the shanty towns, strung along the river bank, where hundreds of persons live. Sanitary rules have been suggested to the river front dwellers to prevent the development again of the condition remedied by the WPA cleanings, according to Byrne.

City ownership of the shore line varies in size from strips less than 100 feet wide to sections more than 600 feet wide. Within such areas the WPA workmen cleared away the foundations of old buildings, filled in small swampy places, and covered up dumping grounds. Some of the cinder-covered dumps might be used as playgrounds for children, Byrne said.

The grounds of the armory of the United States Naval Reserve, at the foot of Ferry street, have been improved by the workers. A stone retaining wall was built at the top of the river bank and a large area was covered with crushed stone for a parade ground for the Naval Reserves. The workers are now constructing a marine railway down the bank for taking boats out of the water.

NEW SPECTRUM LINES FOUND IN CORONA DURING ECLIPSE

Head of Harvard Expedition Says Evidence Was Obtained on Electrified Layor of Atmosphere.

By the Associated Press.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Aug. 13.—Discovery of new spectrum lines in the solar corona during the recent total eclipse of the sun was reported last night at the Harvard summer school.

Dr. Donald Menzel of the Harvard Observatory, director of the Harvard-Massachusetts Institute of Technology eclipse expedition to Siberia last spring, said the discovery might aid in solving the riddle of the gaseous envelope surrounding the sun.

The expedition obtained important evidence of the effect of the eclipse on the ionosphere—the electrified layer high above the earth which reflects radio waves.

Dr. Menzel said the expedition's records indicated the chief agent causing the electrification of this layer travels with the speed of light, and it probably is an extremely intense radiation in the ultra-violet of the spectrum.

New U.S. Law on Gin Labels in Effect August 15th

An excerpt from Section 5, Paragraph E of the Federal Alcohol Administration Act reads as follows:

LABELING: ". . . will require an accurate statement, in the case of distilled spirits (other than cordials, liqueurs, and specialties) produced by blending or rectification, if neutral spirits have been used in the production thereof, informing the consumer of the percentage of neutral spirits so used and of the name of the commodity from which such neutral spirits have been distilled, or in case of neutral spirits or of gin produced by a process of continuous distillation, the name of the commodity from which distilled . . ."

What these new Federal requirements mean to you

After August 15, 1936, the American Public can tell from gin labels:

1. THE SOURCE from which the gin is made—grain, cane products, etc.
2. THE METHOD by which the gin is made—either compounded or distilled.

On the Fleischmann label you will find this statement:

"DISTILLED FROM AMERICAN GRAIN"

This means that Fleischmann's Gin is distilled in one continuous process, directly from American grain.

Since 1870, interrupted only by Prohibition, Fleischmann has been distilling gin in this, the time-honored American way.

Fleischmann starts with the purchase of the grain and controls every step in the smooth-flowing process which ends with the finished bottle.

Fleischmann is convinced that there is no better way a distiller can consistently produce a uniform, well-balanced gin, especially suited to the distinctive American taste. The Fleischmann Distilling Corporation, Peekskill, New York.

"DISTILLED FROM AMERICAN GRAIN" Fleischmann's Gin is distilled directly from grain . . . in one continuous process . . . the time-honored American way. 90 Proof.

A. M. GURLEY SR. HEADS LIBERTY NATIONAL LIFE

Succeeds James A. McVoy as President of Insurance Company.

A. M. Gurley Sr., it is learned at Jefferson City today, has succeeded James A. McVoy as president of the Liberty National Life Insurance Co. which has executive offices in the Franklin-American Building, Seventh and Locust streets. Gurley's son, A. M. Gurley Jr., is secretary-treasurer of the company.

A Mr. Gurley at the office of the insurance company, who would not say whether he was the senior or junior member of the family, was asked about the change in officers but told a reporter he had no statement to make.

McVoy formerly was president of the Central States Life Insurance Co., which he controlled. After a disagreement three years ago with State Superintendent of Insurance R. E. O'Malley, McVoy severed his connection with the Central States. McVoy could not be reached.

LORIUS CO. MAKES PROFIT; OWNER AND WIFE MISSING

Surplus of $860 Reported by Receiver for 11 Months Ending June 30.

A report on operations of the Lorius Coal Co. of East St. Louis filed yesterday in Circuit Court at Belleville by Miss Frances Hardwick, receiver, showed an operating profit of $860 for the 11 months ended June 30.

The owner of the business, George M. Lorius, his wife, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Heberer of DuQuoin, have been missing since May, 1935. They were last heard from in New Mexico, while on their way to California by automobile.

Miss Hardwick, who was Lorius' secretary, was named receiver for the business at the request of his relatives. For the 11-month period she reported receipts of $32,091 and disbursements of $31,230. Disbursements included premiums on $14,000 of life insurance and $9500 of accident insurance carried by Lorius.

'TERRIBLE THREE' THEFTS SOLVED; FIVE MEN HELD

29 Burglaries Cleared Up—Four in Custody Are Ex-Convicts, Including Note Writer.

Police announced today they had solved 29 burglaries and found the writer of the "Terrible Three" notes left at two places, where the robberies were unsuccessful, through the arrests of five young men, several of whom confessed.

Twelve warrants charging burglary and larceny were obtained against four of the prisoners, ex-convicts. Warrants will be sought against the fifth man, who has a record of arrests, but no convictions, on his admission he participated in eight burglaries.

Warrants were issued against Leeman Jerrold, 24 years old, 2332 South Ninth street, twice sentenced to the penitentiary; Ernest Stegall, 20, 2705 South Tenth street, sentenced to three years in the Boonville Reformatory for a burglary he committed when he was 15 years old; Rudolph Trubacik, 23, 2125 South Twelfth street, at liberty on parole from a two-year prison term for robbery, and Carson Patterson, 23, 1716 South Broadway, twice sentenced to the Boonville Reformatory and once to the penitentiary for burglary and larceny. The fifth man held is John Kevicki, 21, 1210 Russell boulevard.

Notes Intensify Police Hunt.

During June and July there were a series of burglaries in South St. Louis industrial districts, the most important being at the St. Louis Bank Building and Equipment Co., 906 Sidney street, where $200 and a submachine gun was stolen July 10. At two places where stout safes resisted the efforts of the burglars the following note was found scrawled on a slip of paper left on a desk: "We visited your place, your safe was too tough. Be back. The Terrible Three."

Chief of Police John J. McCarthy decided to catch the "Terrible Three," and he detached from the Inspector's office Capt. Andrew Aylward, a veteran with experience in "tough" districts, into the usually quiet Wyoming Street District to clean up the burglaries. Capt. Aylward took beat patrolmen off the streets and sent them prowling through alleys at night. The plan quickly proved fruitful. Early last Thursday Patrolman Conrad Heumann turned his flashlight on Jerrold and Stegall with revolvers and burglar's tools in their hands back of Peterson's Planing Mill, 2814 Lyon street. He drew his revolver and they dropped their weapons.

Stegall Admits Thefts.

Stegall talked, when questioned, telling police of the many "jobs," and naming participants. Trubacik was arrested next day and admitted authorship of the "Terrible Three" notes. At his home officers recovered the submachine gun stolen from the bank equipment company, eight watches, a typewriter, handbag, fishing rods, tools, clothing, stamps, an electric fan, electric clock, four revolvers and other loot which the burglars had been able to dispose of.

Police and court records show Trubacik was charged in an information issued by the Circuit Attorney with robbing Robert F. Rall, 3172 California avenue, of $18 last May 6. In May 15 he was permitted to plead guilty to a lesser charge, attempt to rob, and was sentenced to 2 years in the Algoa reformatory, and paroled from the bench for 2 years. He was ordered to report on his parole monthly, and had done so. The sentence and parole were by Circuit Judge Eugene L. Padberg.

When police sought Patterson they discovered he had left town. He was traced to Springfield, Ill., and returned. Kevicki was the last to be arrested.

Jerrold, recognized as the leader of the burglar gang, admitted ownership of the revolver and tools with which he was caught, but nothing else. He and Patterson were arrested three years ago as two of the four men who tortured with hot pokers an elderly farmer and his wife in their Franklin County home to force them to reveal the hiding place of $150.

APPEALS COURT DENIES KOPLAR CREDITOR'S PLEA

Affirms Buling Reorganization Plan Does Not Adversely Affect Central States Life.

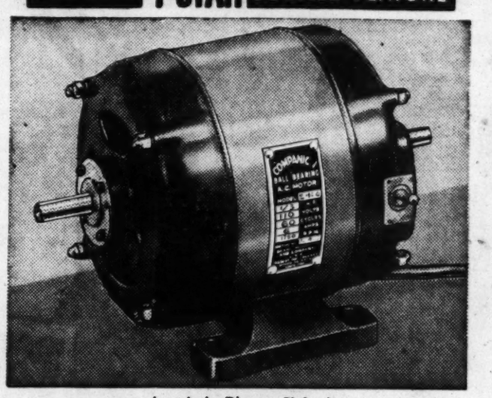

The United States Circuit Court of Appeals, affirming a ruling of Federal Judge Charles B. Davis, held yesterday that the Central States Life Insurance Co., which holds $3,070,000 of first mortgage bonds on the Park Plaza Hotel, was not adversely affected by reorganization plans of the Koplar Co., which owns the hotel.

Judge Davis had refused to modify classification of creditors of the Koplar Co. to enable the insurance company to be classified as a general creditor if any deficiency resulted from its secured claim. The insurance company contended its claim exceeded the fair market value of the Park Plaza and that any deficiency should be allowed as a general creditor against other Koplar properties.

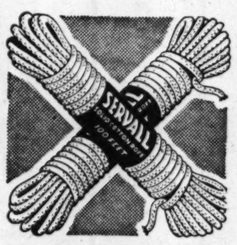

The Koplar Co. reorganization plan also affects the Congress Hotel and the Senate and Embassy apartments.

HAMILTON DEPICTS FARLEY AS CENSOR

Now That He Has Left Capital Facts Are Slipping Out, G. O. P Leader Says.

By the Associated Press.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Aug. 13.—National Chairman John D. M. Hamilton, opening the Republican presidential campaign in California last night, declared Democratic Chairman Farley's retirement as Postmaster-General and his subsequent absence from Washington "has removed from that city the political censor of Government reports."

"Doubtless it is a mistake," he told a banquet of California Republicans in a broadcast address, "that some of the real facts are beginning to slip out now."

He included among these an asserted report by the Bureau of Agricultural economics showing "among other things that the Government's policy (plowing under and restriction of cotton production) had worked very great hardships upon certain cotton growers, particularly upon cotton share croppers.

"This report further showed that the cotton scheme had forced scores of thousands of people into unemployment and on the relief rolls," he said.

Hamilton charged that a report concerning cancellation of airmail contracts was suppressed, and that it disclosed an investigation had been made which "apparently proved Mr. Farley was talking through his hat when he charged the airplane companies with collusion and fraud."

"I say apparently on purpose. The report has never been made public, and, therefore, I don't know and neither does anyone else outside of Farley's ring of friends. The fact that the Government has recently made a settlement with four of the airplane companies to a total of $601,511 damages caused by annulment of their contracts, at least indicates that it was Mr. Farley, and not the airplane companies, that were guilty of error."

Lewis Group Beholden to Roosevelt, Hamilton Says at Reno.

By the Associated Press.

RENO, Nev., Aug. 13.—John D. M. Hamilton declared here yesterday "the so-called labor non-partisan league headed by John L. Lewis and George L. Berry is under the direction of men who are beholden to the Roosevelt administration."

He said in a press conference "if the so-called non-partisan league's leaders were not beholden to the Roosevelt administration, they would have been perfectly satisfied with Gov. Landon's acceptance speech and his subsequent letter to Norman Thomas."

In his speech he declared Landon's attitude on the nation's monetary system "does not preclude a fair price for silver or any other metal."

10,000 EXPECTED TO SEE NEGRO HANGED IN KENTUCKY

Hotels at Owensboro Filling With Visitors for Execution Under Woman Sheriff.

By the Associated Press.

OWENSBORO, Ky., Aug. 13.—Authorities estimated today about 10,000 persons would witness at dawn here tomorrow the hanging of Rainey Bethea, 22-year-old Negro, under the direction of Sheriff Florence Thompson. As hotels began filling with visitors, city officials considered closing all liquor stores at 1 a. m. tomorrow. Authorities issued warnings against drunkenness and public disturbances.

The hanging—the first to be held in Daviess County since two men were executed 31 years ago, will be conducted in the fenced-in yard of the county garage. Bethea, in jail at Louisville, will be brought here an hour before the hanging.

While officers awaited arrival of G. Phil Hanna, Epworth, Ill., veteran consulting executioner, Mrs. Thompson declined to tell to what extent she will participate in the execution. Hanna, a cattle breeder, has adjusted the nooses about the necks of 80 persons, but never sprung a trap. He will superintend the erection of the scaffold.

Bethea was convicted of a fatal criminal attack on Mrs. Elza Edwards, 70, and sentenced to die July 31.

The Kentucky Court of Appeals refused his appeal, but his attorneys delayed the hanging by obtaining a temporary writ of habeas corpus in Federal Court. When the permanent writ was denied, the Negro's attorneys gave up their fight to save him.

MACON COUNTY SHERIFF ISSUES DISBARMENT SUIT STATEMENT

Attributes Action to Enmity Arising From His Law Enforcement and Political Activities.

By the Associated Press.

MACON, Mo., Aug. 13.—Sheriff Barney R. Williams, attorney and former Probate Judge, against whom disbarment proceedings were filed at Kansas City yesterday, in a statement today attributed the attempt to revoke his law license to enmity growing out of his law enforcement and political activities.

"As a law enforcement officer, who took his job seriously, I have been active in working with the Prosecuting Attorney in getting evidence in certain cases, and I have made some bitter enemies on that account," Sheriff Williams said. "I feel this is partly the cause of the investigation, which I believe was largely inspired by those opposed to my candidacy for Prosecuting Attorney." Williams was an unsuccessful candidate for the Democratic nomination for Prosecuting Attorney of Macon County at the recent primary election.

The disbarment proceedings, filed in the Kansas City Court of Appeals by the Bar Advisory Committee of the Missouri Supreme Court, contained 24 charges ranging from an alleged practice of permitting persons supposed to be confined in the Macon County jail to remain at liberty for 75 cents a day to attempted extortion, alleged acceptance of protection payments from gamblers and bootleggers, and alleged illegal acceptance of loans from estates while Williams was county Probate Judge.

BANKRUPTCY PETITION FILED AGAINST MARKET OWNER

Action by Creditors Who Allege Frank Blackshaw Owes Them $2500.

An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed in the Federal Court yesterday by creditors against Frank Blackshaw, as owner of four markets. The petitioners alleged unpaid debts to them totaled $2517. The creditors are Arthur Lewis of the Evarts-Etz Paper Co., the Commercial Coffee Co. and the S. & E. Glaser Packing Co.

The petition alleges Blackshaw's debts total $7500, and that the proceeds from his markets are being used for his own benefit without consideration of creditors. Markets operated by Blackshaw, according to the petition, are at 4168 Juniata street, 3509 Shenandoah street, 6479 Arsenal street and 2720 Sutton avenue, Maplewood.

178 AUTO ACCIDENTS, FIVE FATAL, IN CITY LAST WEEK

99 Persons Injured; Largest Number in Dayton Street Police District.

There were 178 automobile accidents in St. Louis in the week ending last Sunday in which five persons were killed and 99 injured, according to a report issued by the Police Department.

There were also three street car accidents and one railroad accident, in which one person was injured. The largest number of accidents occurred within the limits of the Dayton Street Police District, in which there were 25 in which 21 persons were injured and two killed.

STOCK MANIPULATION CHARGED

Securities Board Files Complaint Against Brokerage Firms.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—The Securities & Exchange Commission has filed in Federal Court a complaint alleging the stock of Dictograph Products Co. has been subject to "manipulation" while listed on the New York Curb Exchange.

The complaint asks the court to enjoin several individuals and brokerage concerns. Named in the papers were Archie M. Andrews, A. M. Andrews Investment Corporation, Pirnie, Simons & Co., Thomas Bracken, Raymond Cheseldine, Vincent J. McMann and Harry Aaron. The papers state that through a number of brokerage firms "matched" orders were placed to "stimulate" activity in the security.

ADMITS ATTEMPT TO WRECK ZEPHYR TRAIN FOR 'REVENGE'

Nebraska Prisoner Tried to Derail Flyer Carrying His Father and Stepmother.

By the Associated Press.

HOLDREGE, Neb., Aug. 13.—Sheriff Royal Hanson disclosed last night a scheme by which, he said, Cecil Hollenhors, 27 years old, attempted to kill his father and stepmother, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Hollenhors of Holdrege, by derailing the Burlington Railroad's Silver Streak Zephyr train here last July 24.

Hollenhors was arrested Monday night, and Hanson said he confessed he attempted to wreck the fast train by wiring two heavy angle bars to the rails 200 yards west of the Holdrege depot. He told the Sheriff he sought revenge, but he did not say why.

A wreck was averted by H. E. Nelson, a brakeman, who discovered the improvised derail 10 minutes before the Zephyr arrived in Holdrege.

Missing Boy's Body Found.

GLACIER PARK, Mont., Aug. 13.—The body of Herbert Gray, 16 years old, of Guilford, Me., missing in Glacier Park since July 26, was found late yesterday near Granite Park Chalets.

He apparently had fallen from a cliff and been killed instantly. Two park trail men found the body.

"—a great big smile, sweetheart!"

Right around home, so many Snapshots are waiting to be taken (Below) YOUNG LOVE may be able to get along without snapshots, but they help just the same.

—AND SHE SMILED. Seems like all America is saving smiles with snapshots. Look ahead to the time when she'll be older—make snapshots now.

Accept nothing but the film in the familiar yellow box.

YOU needn't take a trip to make the snapshots you'll treasure most. They're waiting for you right around home. Your little girl or boy. Perhaps a birthday party. Snapshots catch the happiest expressions on the faces of those you love best.

Your pets—that kitten or puppy or rabbit will make a picture to save, and laugh over. Get some views with your favorite flower bed as a background.

Take your Kodak on the trips, and give it a workout around home, too. You'll be so glad later. The snapshots you'll want tomorrow you must take today. Kodaks as low as $5; Brownies from $1 . . . at your dealer's.

P. S. For new picture opportunities—against emergencies—do you carry a Kodak in your car?

CRACK SNAPSHOT COMBINATION
Six-16 Brownie Junior—Kodak VERICHROME Film

Great though the Brownies always have been—simple, sure of results—now they're even better. Six-16 Brownie Junior has a Meniscus lens, rotary shutter with "snap" and "time" actions, two diaphragm settings, and two extra large finders. Decorative metal front, nickeled fittings. Pictures, 2½ x 4¼ inches. $2.75.

For snapshots that "turn out," load with Kodak Verichrome Film. It gives you clear, lively snapshots, even in the shade, or on cloudy days. Any camera is a better camera, loaded with Verichrome—use it always . . . Eastman Kodak Company, Rochester, N. Y.

DETECTIVE FIRMS' FILES SUBPENAED IN LABOR INQUIRY

Officers Also Ordered to Appear Before Senate Sub-Committee Investigating Espionage.

Post-Dispatch Bureau,
201-5 Kellogg Bldg.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—Twenty-one subpenas for the records of a large number of detective agencies were issued yesterday by the Senate subcommittee headed by Senator La Follete (Progressive), Wisconsin, which has been investigating labor espionage.

The detective agency officers were ordered to appear before the committee Wednesday and bring all records pertaining to labor espionage, strike breaking and similar activities. Federal agents in six cities acted at the same time. The cities were New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Atlanta, New Orleans and Detroit.

The action appeared significant because it comes in the midst of the campaign by the Committee for Industrial Organization to organize the steel industry and because of the increasingly active part the same labor group is taking in the political campaign.

The hearing next Wednesday is expected to be only for the purpose of accepting the records, but on Sept. 15 the committee is expected to resume the hearing of evidence. This hearing is expected to cover activities of employers in opposition to labor organization.

Subpenas were issued for the records kept in various of its offices by the Railway Audit and Inspection Co., and for some of the officers of the company, for records and officers of the Pinkerton and Burns agencies and for a number of individuals connected with other investigating concerns.

Mulqueeny. McGuire was one of the operators to respond.

DEBTOR SAYS HE OVERLOOKED $160,000 POTENTIAL LIABILITY

Jack M. Fishman Didn't List Law Suits Because They "Meant Nothing" to Him.

Jack M. Fishman, former proprietor of a dry goods store and dealer in real estate, who filed a debtor's petition in Federal Court last May in an effort to retain ownership of a building at Taylor and Easton avenues, failed to include potential liabilities of $160,000 in his schedules of assets and liabilities, it was brought out yesterday at a hearing in Bankruptcy Court.

In his schedules, Fishman had listed the building as his only asset, and stated it was encumbered only by a $50,000 deed of trust held by the Edward K. Love Realty Co. At the hearing he admitted that two suits totaling $160,000, growing out of his administration of the estate of Simon Gottlieb, a real estate dealer, were pending in Circuit Court.

He testified that the State court suits "meant nothing" to him, as he was not represented by an attorney in that matter. He said he had not mentioned the suits to the attorney, who is handling his debtor's petition. It was also stated that the indebtedness on the building was $68,000, including the deed of trust, interest and taxes. Fishman testified the property was worth $75,000, although he had listed it in his schedule as $100,000. He said he had not been in business for six years and was now an oil salesman.

MAN HELD IN DOUBLE KILLING HAS NOT QUIT AS CANDIDATE

St. Clair Grand Jury to Receive Evidence Against Constable Hamilton First Day it Convenes.

Facts surrounding the killing on Aug. 2 of Mrs. Wilma Hamilton and Thomas Grissom, business agent of the East St. Louis Teamsters' and Chauffeurs' Union, by Mrs. Hamilton's husband, Constable John Hamilton, will be presented to the St. Clair County grand jury the first day that body convenes, Sept. 21, because of Hamilton's candidacy for the St. Clair County Board of Review, State's Attorney Louis P. Zerweck announced today.

Hamilton, who is seeking advice of Democratic political friends as to his status in the party, has give nno indication that he would withdraw as a candidate. Zerweck pointed out that the last day for certifying candidates for the November election is Oct. 10. If indicted, Hamilton could be brought to trial as early as Oct. 5, Zerweck said.

Constable Hamilto nis held in jail at Belleville without bail pending the grand jury investigation. In a verbal statement to police he said he shot Grissom in self-defense when the labor leader pointed a pistol at him, and accidentally shot his wife, wh was in Grissom's automobile.

14 YEARS FOR MAN WHO KILLED WIFE'S CHAUFFEUR

John H. Collins Convicted of Murder of Roger Johnson at Aledo, Ill., April 21.
By the Associated Press.

ALEDO, Ill., Aug. 13.—A jury in Mercer County Circuit Court today returned a verdict convicting John H. Collins, New Boston lock carpenter foreman, of the murder of Roger Johnson, 19 years old, of Keithsburg, last April 21. The penalty was fixed at the minimum under the law—14 years in the penitentiary.

The verdict was reached late yesterday after 24 hours of deliberation, but court had adjourned a short time earlier and the verdict was sealed and delivered this morning to Judge L. E. Stelleen.

The shooting of Johnson followed a trip to California by Collins' estranged wife, Louise, whom Johnson served as chauffeur. After Johnson returned by plane, Collins went to the Johnson home, called Johnson downstairs and shot him with a sawed-off shotgun.

Train Robber Transferred Again.
By the Associated Press.

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Aug. 13.—Recent removal of Roy Gardner, southwestern train robber, to Leavenworth Federal prison from Alcatraz Island was confirmed by Leavenworth penitentiary officials today. In 1930 he was sentenced from Arizona to 25 years for train robbery and confined in Leavenworth. A few years ago he was transferred to Alcatraz Island. Previously he had been confined at McNeil Island but escaped and was later recaptured.

TOLEDO GAS STRIKE PEACE PROPOSAL REJECTED BY UNION

Wage Increase Refusal Said to Be Reason; Federal Conciliator on Job, Picketing Goes On.
By the Associated Press.

TOLEDO, O., Aug. 13.—A Labor Department conciliator sought to confer today with Toledo Industrial Peace Board officials to renew negotiations for settlement of the city's gas strike, following rejection of a peace proposal late last night by strikers.

Members of the Gas Employes' Union kept up picket lines at the properties of the Northwestern Ohio Natural Gas Co., and the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., the parent company, while company officers indicated willingness to take part in the new peace sessions.

The union workers voted, 120 to 65, to reject the settlement drafted by the peace board to end the three-day strike. Unofficial reports said refusal of the companies to grant immediate wage increases was the cause.

The peace plan provided for recognition of the union, seniority rights and abandonment of a proposed lay-off of 100 men. The wage issue would have been arbitrated.

28,000 MISSOURIANS NOW ON OLD AGE PENSION ROLLS

7000 Added in Last 30 Days; Applications to Be Handled at Rate of 1000 Per Week.

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 13.—Missouri—adding 7000 of them in the last 30 days—today had 28,000 old people on its pension rolls and contemplated putting on other applicants at the rate of 1000 a week.

Forrest Smith, State Auditor, said he had added a night staff of 17 persons to supplement his day staff in certification of the checks for approved applicants. Smith said he had been informed by Allen M. Thompson, State Old Age Pension Commissioner, that the rest of the applicants would be added at the rate of 1000 a week. The old age assistance department as well as the State Auditor's office has been working nights in certifying the 7000 in the last month.

Thompson, who a month ago suspended a retroactive clause of the State pension law to enable Missouri to secure dollar-for-dollar matching from the Federal Government in the program, said he expected to increase the pension rolls to 54,000 by November.

FORMER 'PEACHES' BROWNING WINS IN SUIT OVER ESTATE

New York City Supreme Court Upholds Her Claim to Widows' One-Third Share.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—The claim of Mrs. Frances Heenan Hynes of Denver, the former "Peaches" Browning, as the legal widow of Edward W. (Daddy) Browning was upheld yesterday in Supreme Court in her suit for dower rights to his real estate holdings.

Mrs. Dorothy (Sunshine) Browning Hood of North Carolina, Browning's adopted daughter, and the Title Guarantee & Trust Co., executor of his will, contended Browning's 1924 Paris divorce from his first wife, Adele Lowen Browning, was void and therefore his marriage to "Peaches" Browning was illegal.

Mrs. Hynes successfully contended that the separation suit filed against her by Browning resulted in a Supreme Court ruling that they legally married. She contended she was entitled to one-third of the profits and rents from Browning's real estate and real estate firm at the time of his death. Mrs. Hood seeks the greater part of Browning's estimated $8,000,000 fortune.

DECREASE IN REVENUE IN 1936 TAX BILLS

Total Will Be $352,000 Less Than in 1935, Due to Cut in Assessments.

Although 14,507 more bills for real estate and personal property taxes will be sent out for 1936 than in 1935, St. Louis revenue from these sources will be $352,475 less. Assessor Ralph Coale yesterday sent 237,959 bills for a total of $27,353,635 to Comptroller Louis Nolte's office for checking.

In about a month they will be sent to Collector William F. Baumann, who will notify taxpayers by postal card of the amount they owe. The rate for 1936 is $2.77 on the $100 valuation — the same as last year.

The difference in revenue is due to general reductions in valuation of small homes throughout the city. This year the total valuation is $987,562,000, of which $895,129,560 is for real estate and $92,432,440 for personal property. The 1935 valuation was $1,000,294,480, real estate being $917,263,570 and personal property $83,030,910.

The increase this year in personal property valuation was due to a more complete assessment on automobiles. For this year 106,000 automobiles were assessed at $22,449,000, as compared to 96,924 assessed at $18,237,780 for 1935. Further increase was due to assessment of money, notes and bonds of corporations and estates in Probate Court, which had been overlooked previously.

A discount of ¾ of 1 per cent will be allowed on tax bills paid in October; ½ of 1 per cent in November and ¼ of 1 per cent in December. After Dec. 31 penalties at the rate of 1 per cent a month accrue.

JULY BUSINESS FAILURES ARE LOWEST SINCE 1920

639 Total For Month, Liabilities Involved Less Than $10,000,000 Report Shows.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—A decline in commercial failures to the lowest figures since the post-war boom days of 1920 was recorded today as an index of improving business.

Figures compiled by Dun & Bradstreet for July made the lowest monthly total since September, 1920, and showed a continuation of the rate of decline in the first week of August.

On the basis of an index kept by the agency since the end of 1932, July insolvencies were at the annual rate of 38.2 for each 10,000 firms in business. It compared with 44.6 in June and 52.8 in July, 1935. In January, 1933, as business was heading for the banking holiday, it was above 170 and a former index, computed somewhat differently, soared above 200 at the peak of the depression epidemic of failures.

July 1936 failures totaled 639, the lowest with two exceptions for July since 1894 despite the growth of population and business. It compared with 902 in the same month last year and 2,596 in July, 1932.

Liabilities involved were less than $10,000,000 in contrast with $16,523,000 in July 1935 and $87,190,000 in July 1932.

MEXICAN PROTEST OVER CLASH BETWEEN CONSUL, POLICEMAN

Representative at Los Angeles Charges Officer Insulted and Manhandled Him.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—Luis Quintanilla, Mexican Charge d'Affaires, said he filed yesterday with the State Department a "formal notice of protest" growing out of a recent altercation at Los Angeles between Consul Ricardo G. Hill and a police officer.

Hill asserted he had been insulted and manhandled by Lieut. Peter Delgado. In a communication to Chief of Police James E. Davis he demanded "due satisfaction" in the name of the Mexican Government.

WARBURG TO AID EXPATRIATES

New York Banker Heads American Council for German Jewry.

LONDON, Aug. 13 (Jewish Telegraph Agency).—Felix M. Warburg, New York banker and philanthropist, today was named chairman of the American division of the Executime Committee of the Council for German Jewry. The world-wide organization was set up last spring to co-ordinate efforts to expatriate 100,000 German Jews within four years. Sir Herbert Samuel, First British High Commissioner for Palestine, was designated chairman of the executive's British branch.

Members of the excutive for America named were Paul Baerwald, chairman of the Joint Distribution Committee; Charles Liebman, vice-president of the Refugee Economic Corporation; Morris Rothenberg, chairman of the Administrative Committee of the Zionist Organization of America, and Dr. Stephen S. Wise, president of the American Jewish Congress.

WEDDING IN BATHING SUITS

20,000 See New Orleans Life Guard Wed Girl He Rescued.

By the Associated Press.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Aug. 13.—Elsie Hagner and Merlin Andrews were married in the surf of Lake Pontchartrain last night.

A crowd estimated at more than 20,000 cheered while the pair, dressed in bathing suits and standing knee deep in water, were married by the Rev. J. A. Simpson. The minister, who balked at discarding his ecclesiastical garb, stood on a diving platform. Andrews, a lifeguard, met Miss Hagner several years ago when he rescued her.

FOUR METHODS FOR GETTING LEMKE'S NAME ON BALLOTS

His Campaign Manager Says It Will Be Officially Listed in All States.

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—William Lemke's campaign manager, John Nystul, said today that Lemke's name as Union Party candidate for President would appear on the ballot in each of the 48 states.

Four methods have ben worked out to get official ballot recognition, as follows:

1. File the name of the Union Party ticket "wherever possible." Nystul said it was impossible now to list the states in which this could be done because deadlines for filing petitions varied "from 30 to 90 days" before election.

2. File under other names "where the name Union Party has been pre-empted by other groups." As an example, Nystul cited Illinois, where he charged "the Democratic machine made a deliberate attempt to rob" Lemke by "usurping the title 'Union Party' and incorporating it." Lemke's name will appear on the Progressive Union Party ticket.

3. File under the names of existing parties. Nystul siad Lemke had been invited to take a place on the Farmer-Labor ballot "and on others."

4. Where all other means failed, file under the individual nominations columns. This would be done, Nystul said, in North and South Dakota.

DELAWARE INDIANS SUE U. S. FOR $7,880,000 AND INTEREST

Ask for Judgment for 257,600 Acres of Land "Wrongfully Denied Them."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13. — The Delaware Indians had on file today in the Court of Claims a suit alleging violation by the Government of an old treaty and asking for $7,880,000 with interest at 4 per cent annually since Feb. 3, 1904.

The petition was filed by Attorneys Fred B. Woodward of Washington and Charles B. Rogers of Tulsa. An act of Congress authorized filing of the suit against the Government.

The Delawares, who once owned land along the Delaware River in New Jersey, Eastern Pennsylvania and New York, asked for "full and adequate judgment" for 257,600 acres of land "wrongfully denied them."

Violation of the treaty of July 26, 1866, under which the Delawares sold their holdings in Kansas and moved into the Indian Territory, was alleged.

Another suit asking for $62,000 with interest at 4 per cent annually since 1842 also has been filed against the Government by the Delawares. This action alleged violation by the Government of a treaty of July 4, 1805, in which the Government agreed to pay $1000 annually to the Wyandot, Munsee and Delaware nations. The petition said no payments have been made since 1842.

MUSSOLINI IS ITALY'S BEST DRAWING CARD FOR TOURISTS

Experiment Shows His Value; Many Concessions Made to Attract Travelers.

By the Associated Press.

ROME, Aug. 13.—As a tourist attraction in Italy this year, Mussolini comes near the top of the list.

Practically every tourist here wants to see him. Many are disappointed because generally he appears in public only on special occasions.

Recently, as an experiment, the ministry of press and propaganda arranged for a group of 150 visitors from Chicago and that vicinity to be received by Mussolini in Palazzo Venezia. Their enthusiastic reaction, communicated in appreciative letters to the ministry, opened officials' eyes to the Premier's importance as a tourist drawing card.

Italy is waging a vigorous campaign to attract foreign visitors to its shores hoping thereby to counteract the unfavorable balance of foreign trade. Political conditions elsewhere in Europe have helped this year.

Many concessions are offered tourists. Italian currency is obtained at a 20 per cent discount, gasoline at half price. There are reductions in railway fares and hotel rates. Travel is booming.

Prohibition Candidate to Speak.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—National headquarters for the Prohibition party announced today that Dr. D. Leigh Colvin, the party's presidential candidate, would make four appearances in Illinois during the campaign. His first appearance, according to Leo F. Jeanmene, who is directing the State campaign, will be at Mt. Carmel Sept. 14. He will return a month later for addresses at Greeneville Oct. 15., Freeport Oct. 16, and Chicago, Oct. 17.

Missing Bride Sought in Missouri.

BOSTON, Aug. 13.—Police of two states were on the lookout today for Mrs. Ruth Langdon Parker, 24-year-old bride of Arthur Parker, who disappeared, Inspector William Ross said, July 31. She was supposed to have left for Hermitage, N. Y., but her trunk was forwarded to St. Joseph, Mo. Parker reported a timetable in his home carried a check at the name of St. Louis. He could ascribe no reason for his wife's disappearance.

SOCIALIST LEADER 'RUN OUT' OF WARSAW, ILL., HE REPORTS

Maynard C. Krueger Says Five Men Gave Him and Union Organizers 10 Minutes to Leave.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—Maynard C. Krueger, Illinois secretary of the Socialist party, sent a complaint to Gov. Horner yesterday that he and Samuel Laderman, Chicago official of the Pocketbook Workers' Union, and C. H. Mayer of Carlinville, Ill., were "run out of" Warsaw, Ill., last Saturday, by vigilantes.

"We went there to arrange for a public meeting at which we planned to tell the Warsaw people about sweatshop conditions in the pocketbook industry," he said. "There is a factory there.

"Five tall, strong fellows approached and told us we had 10 minutes to get out of town. One man tried to drag Laderman out of the car. We sought out Town Marshal Guy Bell and asked him to take us under his protection to the Mayor. He advised us to get out of Warsaw. So we went."

Krueger said he would return to Warsaw despite his hostile reception. He is a member of the faculty of the University of Chicago.

Body Recovered From Rock River.

STERLING, Ill., Aug. 13. — The body of Theodore A. Trouth, 40 years old, who was drowned while trying to swim to shore from an overturned boat Sunday night, was recovered Monday from the Rock River. His companions, Robert Flock and Willis Burr, clung to the capsized craft, and then swam ashore after it was carried downstream. Trouth was a Sterling undertaker.

NEWLY WED PAIR FOUND DEAD

Mother of One Doubts They Ended Own Lives.

By the Associated Press.

FREMONT, Neb., Aug. 13.—Mrs. Christine Dunkel said today she did not think her son and his wife, Dr. and Mrs. G. Rainer Dunkel, married less than two months, took their own lives, a theory advanced by officials after the bodies were found in the young pair's home Tuesday.

"They had absolutely no reason to kill themselves," Mrs. Dunkel said. "They had been extremely happy together and had no cause for financial worry." Both were graduates of the University of California. Authorities were unable to find a red pencil in the Dunkel home, although a note left by the Dunkels was written with a red pencil. Mrs. Dunkel said the writing was unlike that of her son or daughter-in-law.

British Communist Says He Was Denied Visit to Sisters in U. S.

TORONTO, Aug. 13. — William Gallacher, Communist member of the British House of Commons, is quoted by the Canadian press as saying he had been refused admittance to the United States to visit his sisters.

Despite intercession of Foreign Minister Anthony Eden, the interview quoted Gallacher, Washington authorities refused to admit him "because of his activities in connection with the Communist party." Gallacher said he had not seen his sisters for 20 years.

'HERB DOCTOR' CHARGED WITH WIFE'S DEATH ON BURNING BED

John Spanglehour Denies Guilt at Florida Hearing and Talks of 'Curse' on Her.

By the Associated Press.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Aug. 13.—Tearfully pleading his innocence, John Spanglehour, 48-year-old self-styled herb doctor, heard himself charged yesterday with the fatal burning of his wife.

"I didn't do it I tell you, I didn't do it," Spanglehour cried while a constable read the charges ordered by a coroner's jury which investigated the death of Mrs. Spanglehour, mother of five children.

Mrs. Spanglehour died in flames Monday on an outdoor bed at their auto trailer home in woods south of St. Petersburg.

Spanglehour and his 12-year-old son, Ray, gave testimony before the coroner's jury in which the father discussed Indian witchcraft and told of a "curse" which he said neighbors placed on his wife and boy.

The son told the jury he saw his father standing over his mother with a rake.

"I grabbed the rake and tried to pull her from the fire, but my father told me to let her alone and get a bucket of water," Ray testified.

UNRESTRICTED GRAIN PLANTING CONSIDERED

Wheat Acreage to Be Expanded in Any Event, Owing to Drouth, Officials Say.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—Unrestricted planting of corn and wheat next year was under discussion today as a result of drouth damage.

Officials said the question whether there will be any government control of acreage devoted to grains is up to the growers themselves. Howard R. Tolley, AAA administrator, is conferring with the producers to learn their wishes.

Definite assurance was given that wheat acreage would be expanded. This was decided after a preliminary conference led by J. B. Hutson, acting farm administrator.

Restraint in planting either wheat or corn for next year, some AAA officials said privately, would not be a requirement for the receipt of Federal soil conservation payments.

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, in Chicago yesterday, expressed a hope that Congress would enact a crop insurance law.

Twenty-six Kansas counties were added to the emergency list yesterday and 10 were added in Nebraska. The total now is 956 counties in 22 States.

The agriculture department reported that cattle being fed for market in corn belt states on Aug. 1 were about 3 per cent more numerous than last year. Increases were listed for all States east of the Mississippi River and for Minnesota and Iowa. However, purchases of cattle for market feeding during the rest of the year will be lower than last season, it was said, with the corn belt decrease estimated at 30 per cent.

The department reported increases from July 1 to Aug. 1 in cold storage stocks of meat, poultry, eggs, butter, cheese and fruits.

The Resettlement Administration reported today it had advanced $750,381 to 47,385 drouth-stricken farmers through Aug. 8. This was an increase of 15,194 in the number of farmers aided since July 31.

The Resettlement Administration makes grants for subsistence to farm families that are destitute. Loans are made for quick maturing forage crops and next year's planting.

40 Pct. Reduction in Illinois Corn Prospects During July.

By the Associated Press.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 13. — Illinois corn prospects were reduced 40 per cent by July's heat and drouth, the Aug. 1 report of the Agricultural Departments showed today. A crop of 197,434,000 bushels was indicated.

"With the exception of 1934, when the crop totaled 167,808,000 bushels, this would be the smallest corn crop harvested in Illinois since 1887," said A. J. Surratt, agricultural statistician.

Since the Aug. 1 survey, further corn deterioration has been reported, although slight improvement resulted from recent showers in some places.

Illinois produced 318,510,000 bushels of corn last year and an average of 336,738,000 from 1928 to 1932.

Surratt reported that winter wheat was estimated at a half-bushel per acre above the 10-year average, oats 37 per cent below the five-year average and soybeans at 60 per cent of normal.

JEFFERSONIAN RADIO DIRECTOR

Dean Archer Coming to St. Louis for Committee Meeting.

By the Associated Press.

BOSTON, Aug. 13. — Gleason L. Archer, dean of Suffolk Law School, announced today he had been chosen director of the radio bureau of the National Jeffersonian Democrats, organized last week in Detroit. He said he would leave today for St. Louis, to attend the first meeting of the organization's Executive Committee.

Archer said in a statement that the Jeffersonian Democrats had "embarked on a crusade to rescue the Democratic party from a band of kidnapers and to restore it to its ancestral home."

Terry Moore Breaks Up a Cub Rally

Demaree, O'Dea and Galan opened the eighth inning with singles, scoring the Cubs' third run in their game with the Cardinals at Sportsman's Park yesterday afternoon, but when Jurges flied to Moore, O'Dea tried to score. Terry Moore fired the ball to the plate and Catcher Virgil Davis had it in time to put it on O'Dea as the Chicago catcher hurtled through the dust. Umpire Stewart, who was criticised no little for missing a decision in Tuesday's game, was determined to see what happened here.

Mize's 16th Homer Puts the Cardinals Back in First Place

By Dent McSkimming

Yes, gentlemen, John Mize CAN hit left-hand pitching. There seems to have been some doubt about that prior to 4:25 p. m. yesterday, but there isn't room for doubt any more. Mize at that hour crashed into one of the choicest left hand curves ever thrown by a high-class left hander—Larry French—and when the ball stopped traveling it was resting on the right field pavilion roof.

That was only an incident in the 5 to 3 victory of the Cardinals over the Chicago Cubs, a victory which sent the Redbirds back into the National League lead, but it was a very significant incident. Managers of ball clubs around the circuit will have heard all about it this morning and it will be a subject of comment in the clubhouse powwows. They all know Larry French for a great pitcher—the best the Cubs have got with a record of 12 victories and three defeats prior to yesterday's game, and they will judge Mr. Mize's batting strength accordingly. Had Charley Grimm known what Mize, a left-hand batter, could do to good left-hand pitching, the probabilities are that he would have ordered him passed and maybe the game would have had a different ending. But Grimm was not thoroughly convinced. His mind is quite clear on the matter now.

A Three-Run Wallop.

Mize's poke followed Moore's single and an intentional pass to Medwick, so it was good for three runs. Two others had been scored earlier; one in the second on Medwick's double, an infield out and Davis' long fly, and the other in the fourth when Jersey Joe hit into the right field pavilion for four bases.

But two runs were not enough to win for Si Johnson, making his first start as a Cardinal pitcher. The Cubs sent a runner across the plate in the second on three singles, and another in the seventh on Allen's double and Hack's single, and a third in the eighth on a succession of three singles. So, were it not for Johnny Mize's four-base smash, the league standing might not look quite the same today.

There can't be much of a change today, for neither the Cards nor the Cubs are engaged, but the Giants could slip up half a game on both the leaders. The Cards rest

OPEN DATE FOR CARDS

THE Cardinals had an open date today. The club will depart tonight for St. Paul where they play an exhibition game with Gabby Street's American Association team.

Immediately after the St. Paul game the Redbirds will entrain for Pittsburgh where they play three games in two days, a single game being scheduled for Saturday and a doubleheader Sunday.

Giants Win and Are Within Two Games of Second

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—The Giants pulled up to two games back of second place in the National League today by clubbing out a 6 to 4 victory over the Phillies. Jim Ripple and Travis Jackson hit homers for the Giants, and Rookie Bill Atwoood belted one for the Phils.

80,000 Persons Pay to See Demonstration of Baseball at Olympics

By John E. Wray.
Sports Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

BERLIN, Aug. 13. (By Cable)—Germany set another world record last night when what probably was the largest crowd in the history of America's national game, saw two amateur teams from the United States play a demonstration baseball game. Stadium officials said 80,000 persons paid to see the show, and others in attendance brought the total to nearly 100,000.

Germany received its introduction to the game under night baseball conditions. The floodlights were inadequate, shadows were numerous and from the press box it was scarcely possible to see the ball. There were many tedious delays and the crowd was a bit confused by the practice that preceded the game and hardly knew when the actual competition started.

There was only scant applause for plays, probably because the spectators could not see or did not know their significance. The announcer attempted to explain the fundamentals of the game over the public address system.

Umpire Steals the Show.

The "World Champions" scored a run in the first inning and in the second the "Olympic Champions" took the lead when a home run was hit into a dark area of the poorly-lighted field, scoring two runs. There was some applause for the

WRAY'S COLUMN from Berlin

By John E. Wray.

BERLIN, August.

REICHMINISTER DR. GOEBBELS, in charge of propaganda, threw a party for about 800 tired journalists the other night, and the boys accepted the situation in the right spirit.

That is to say they consumed about 1500 bottles of wine and after-dinner liqueurs in acquiring a frame of mind in which to applaud enthusiastically a very fine welcome speech by Dr. Goebbels.

This however, lost some of its point with many of us because the doctor spoke in German and the interpreter's subsequent translation came through in very fragmentary manner. When he also translated the same speech into English and then French, the international language of Europe, there was a lot of elbow bending done by way of punctuation.

If the propaganda was as good as the food and the wine, we know that Dr. Goebbels must have done a fine job. As for ourselves, sitting at a balcony table overlooking the main floor we caught only a few phrases, in one of which he described the Olympic occasion as a "Festival of

ADOLF KIEFER OF CHICAGO AGAIN BETTERS RECORD FOR 100-METER BACKSTROKE

Medica, Flanagan and Chr isty of United States Qualify in 1500-Meter Even t, Kaye, Kasley and Higgins in 200-Meter Brea ststroke.

By the Associated Press.

BERLIN, Aug. 13.—America's aquatic stars continued today to hold a full share of the Olympic swimming spotlight.

The United States' dominance in diving was further emphasized by Mrs. Dorothy Poynton Hill's successful defense of the platform championship, the Los Angeles aerial artist winning as Velma Dunn placed.

RESULTS OF FINALS

WOMEN'S PLATFORM DIVING—Won by Dorothy Poynton, Hill, United States, 33.93 points; second, Velma Dunn, United States, 33.63; third, Kaethe Koehler, Germany, 33.43; fourth, Reiko Osawa, Japan, 32.53; fifth, Cornelia Gilisen, United States, 30.53; sixth, Fusako Kono, Japan, 30.24.

WOMEN'S 100-METER BACKSTROKE—Won by Dina Senff, Holland, 1:18.9; second, Rita Masterbrock, Holland, 1:19.2; third, Alice Bridges, United States, 1:19.4; fourth, Edith Motridge Segal, United States, 1:19.6; fifth, Tove Brunnstroem, Denmark, 1:20.4; sixth, Lorna Frampton, Great Britain, 1:20.6; seventh, Phyllis Harding, Great Britain, 1:21.5.

A sweep, similar to those achieved by the men and women in the springboard diving competition, was presented by Germany's Kaethe Koehler, who nosed out Cornelia Gilisen of New York for third place.

In the women's 100 meter backstroke final, Uncie Sam's contenders, Alice Bridges of Uxbridge, Mass., and Edith Motridge Segal of Los Angeles did as well as expected, finishing third and fourth, respectively, behind Holland's stars, Dina Senff and Rita Mastenbroek. Miss Senff's winning time was 1:18.9, considerably slower than her Olympic record of 1:16.6 set in the trials.

Kiefer Betters Record.

Adolf Kiefer of Chicago established himself more than ever the man to beat in the men's backstroke event, winning his semi-final heat in 1:06.3, one-tenth of a second faster than the new Olympic mark he made yesterday, while Al Vande Weghe of Paterson, N. J., and Taylor Drysdale of Detroit also gained the final.

America's trio in the men's 1500 meter free style and 200 meter breast stroke events successfully passed preliminary qualifications, Jack Medica, Ralph Flanagan and Jim Christy qualifying for the semi-finals in the longer event, and Ray Kaye, Jack Kasley and Johnny Higgins qualifying in the butterfly stroke tests.

Mrs. Lenore Knight Wingard of Homestead, Pa. gained the 200 meter breast stroke semi-final, placing second behind 15-year-old Ragnhild Hveter of Denmark who was clocked in Olympic record-breaking time of 5:28. Mary Lou Petty of Seattle also qualified while Dorothea Dickinson of New York withdrew due to a lame shoulder.

Mrs. Hill, Los Angeles blonde who won the 1932 Olympic platform diving title, retained her crown in a close race with Velma Dunn of Monrovia, Cal., and Kaethe Koehler of Germany. Mrs. Hill, the favorite, scored 33.93 points in the four-dive program against 33.63 for Miss Dunn and 33.43 for Fraulein Koehler. By finishing third, the German girl broke America's monopoly on all the current Olympic diving medals. Dick Degener, Marshall Wayne and Al Greene swept the men's springboard finals and Marjorie Gestring, Katherine Rawls and Mrs. Hill finished in that order in the women's springboard event.

Mrs. Lenore Kight Wingard of Homestead, Pa., and Mary Lou Petty of Seattle qualified for the semi-finals of the women's 400-meter free style championship. Mrs. Wingard finished second in the first heat, which Ragnhild Hveger, 15-year-old Dane, won in the new Olympic rec-

TWO AMERICAN BOXERS REACH SEMIFINALS IN BERLIN MEET

By the Associated Press.

BERLIN, Aug. 13.—Lou Laurie, Cleveland flyweight, tonight went into the semifinals of the Olympic boxing tournament by winning a decision from Sobkowiak of Poland.

Both fighters were hit often during the battle. Laurie drove the Polish boy across the ring with a series of long left-hand blows to the head at the start, but Sobokowiak countered successfully, often hitting Laurie hard on the chin.

They had traded uppercuts in the middle of the round, and then Laurie landed a hard punch to the European's nose, which bled for the rest of the fight.

In the second round, Laurie kept setting the pace and landed one hard high left and followed with a right. For the brest of the round the Polish boy was dizzy.

The third round was fought at even a faster pace, with Laurie having an advantage all the way. Both boys were bleeding from the nose at the final bell.

Jackie Wilson, another Cleveland boy, was the second American to go into the semifinals. He scored a quick technical knockout over Larazabal of the Philippines in a minute and a half of the first round.

Wilson stunned Larazabal with a terrific left to the jaw as the bout opened, but the Filipino came in and took a quick hook at Wilson. The Clevelander took the punch and snapped back the Islander's head with a quick uppercut, then followed in, battering Larazabal against the ropes. So weak was the Islander after this flurry that a light grazing punch dropped him to the floor.

He took a nine count and then scrambled half-way up. Wilson was on him and crossed a one-two to the jaw. Again the Islander went down. This time when he got up he was utterly defenseless, and the referee led him to his corner.

Ted Kara, the other Clevelander in the quarterfinals, was eliminated when he lost a decision to Cateral of South Africa.

U. S. LOSES IN FIELD HOCKEY CONSOLATION

By the Associated Press.

BERLIN, Aug. 13.—Afghanistan today defeated the United States field hockey team in the consolation of the Olympics tournament, 3-0. The American team trailed at the half, 1-0.

In other consolation games, Japan beat Denmark, 4-1, and Hungary beat Belgium, 1-0.

Refuse to Reconsider.

By the Associated Press.

BERLIN, Aug. 13.—Peru's bid for reconsideration by the International Football Federation of its decision ordering a replay of the Peruvians' 4-2 Olympic victory over Austria, failed today.

Spokesmen for Peru were informed at the Federation Congress that the winner of the match Saturday between Italy and Austria would be crowned Olmpic champion.

UNITED STATES FIVE DEFEATS MEXICO, ENTERS OLYMPIC FINAL

By the Associated Press.

BERLIN, Aug. 13. — America's Olympic basketball team, made up mostly of members of the Hollywood Universals, turned back a ruggedly defensive Mexican quintet today, 25 to 10, and qualified for the finals.

The United States array had trouble penetrating the stout Mexican defense but put on an airtight defense of their own that held the losers to four field goals. Mexico failed to score a single field goal in the first half, which ended 13 to 2 in the United States' favor.

Sam Balter of Los Angeles and Frank Lubin of Hollywood, Cal. led the winners' attack with 10 and nine points, respectively.

In the final tomorrow, the United States will meet Canada, which today beat Poland, 42-15.

NEW CHAMPIONS TO BE CROWNED IN PARKS TENNIS EVENT

TITLE HOLDERS OF LAST YEAR NOT ELIGIBLE FOR TOURNEY

Welsh and McElvenny Are Now Members of Private Clubs — Drewes Has Chance to Regain Honors

New champions in both men's singles and doubles will be crowned in St. Louis next week when the United States Public Parks Tennis Association will conduct its fourteenth annual title tournament on the Jefferson Memorial Courts in Forest Park, beginning Monday morning.

Both championships will be undefended. Barnard Welsh in the singles and his partner, Ralph McElvenny, in the doubles, considered among the best players the national has had, have deserted public parks play and joined private clubs in Washington, D. C., thus making them ineligible here.

Welsh held the title for two years, last year defeating William Schommer of Minneapolis in the final. Schommer, injured in an auto accident, also has not entered. The team Welsh and McElvenny beat for the doubles title, William Hughes and Cecil Metz of Memphis, however, again are entered.

Drewes One of Leaders.

Washington is placing its hope for another title upon two younger challengers, Herbert Shenkin and Raymond Stocklinski, in both events.

Speculation as to the probable new singles champion concerns the possibility of St. Louis' own Ted Drewes regaining the title he last won in 1927 when he completed a four-year reign. Since then he has been runner-up once—in 1932; and in other years has generally lost to the player that ultimately won the title.

Drewes this year is paired with another veteran, Bob Norton, in the doubles, in which event the two won the city title. He did not compete in the singles because of suffering a sprained left wrist a week before the local tourney in June. Ted reports this wrist has completely recovered.

Other outstanding candidates are believed to be Frank Keaney, the young Muny champion of this season, who is believed to be at the top of his game and to rate with any entrant; Joe Turski of Buffalo, Louis Wetherell of Los Angeles, Carl Fisher of Detroit, Billie Hughes of Memphis and Scott Rexinger of Minneapolis. All of these are champions of their cities and veteran tournament players.

Miss Deike to Compete.

A different situation will exist in the women's divisions where the players will be attempting to overthrow defending champions—Miss Elizabeth Deike of Altadena, Cal., in the solo, and the team combination of Miss Constance O'Donovan and Mrs. Esther Politzer of Detroit.

Besides Washington's entrants, additional competitors have been received by the Municipal Athletic Association tourney sponsors, from Cincinnati, Clayton, Mo., and Jacksonville, Fla.—a total of five more players.

Cincinnati is sending a brothers team of Chalmers and James H. Ratliff in both singles and doubles, who hold city titles in these.

Oddly the brothers have met in the Cincinnati finals for the last three years, James beating Chalmers this year. A year ago at the New Orleans national, the brothers were a first-round victim of the defending champions.

Harris W. Everette will represent Jacksonville, Fla. He defeated Chalmers Ratcliffe last year in a hard five-set match.

Clayton is staking its hope on a men's doubles combination of Charles Sauselle and George Finger.

FORMER JOCKEY WALLS DIES AFTER BEING HIT ON HEAD BY BASEBALL

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Aug. 13.—Pete Walls, one of the greatest jockeys of the past decade, met death in a weird manner yesterday morning at the recreation field here.

Walls, playing for the assistant Race Track Starters' baseball team against the Turf Writers, tried to steal second. The first baseman tossed the ball to Second Baseman McCafferty.

Walls beat the throw by a slide but the ball was deflected by McCafferty with his glove. It rebounded from the glove to MaCafferty's head and then ricochetted to Walls' head. Walls arose, dusted off his clothes and finished the inning.

When Walls returned to the dugout he complained of a headache and a few minutes later collapsed. He was rushed to the Saratoga hospital but died ten minutes later after arrival at the hospital. Cause of death was believed to be a skull fracture. The death of the former star jockey put a blight on the racing yesterday, for Walls was one of the most popular boys that ever graced a saddle.

In his heyday he rode for J. K. L. Ross, W. S. Kilmer, James Fitzsimmons, Max Hirsch, J. E. Widener and many other leading stables.

four-bagger, but the man who got the biggest hand was Tiny Parker, former International League umpire, whose stentorian voice, loudly repeated by the stadium echoes, provoked much laughter.

Due to the unfavorable conditions under which the demonstration was held and because it followed lively exhibitions of soccer held in the Olympic Stadium, the show was something of a flop, although the crowd generously refrained from giving it the bird—that is, whistling. Even under daylight conditions it is doubtful if the Germans would be favorable to baseball because of its comparatively slow action.

Boxing at a Low Ebb.

After watching the international boxers work for several days, the conviction grows that Olympic sparring is at a low ebb. In two afternoons the writer did not observe one outstanding boxer. Most of the work done was very sloppy. Incidentally, the expected happened to the American heavyweight, Arthur Oliver, Chicago Negro, when he faced Ole Tandberg of Sweden. Ole is a husky, blond youth, rough and game but without science, but Oliver was even more poorly equipped and the result was a mauling match in which the Aryan outlasted the Ethiopian to gain the decision.

Lady divers, not to be outdone by the males of the "OO-Ess-Ah," as they say Unter den Linden, finished one, two, three in the springboard diving when Marjorie Gestring, Katherine Rawls and Dorothy Poynton Hill finished in the order named. America also slowed up the march of the Japanese men's swimming team by winning the 400-meter free style. Jack Medica was in great form, breaking the Olympic record by a full second in beating the Japanese, Uto and Makino. Ralph Flanagan of Miami finished fourth.

Although only secondary events are now on the program, the Olympic show continues to attract tremendous crowds and the Stadium is sold out every day.

World Champions Win Seven-Inning Contest.

By the Associated Press.

BERLIN, Aug. 13.—The "world champions" and the Olympics, both picked from the American Olympic baseball squad, played for seven innings here last night, the champions winning, 6-5.

Only a handful in the vast crowd had any idea who was playing or cared who won. But the Germans were eager to learn something about the game which, according to travelers returning from the United States, annually drives the Americans into strange paroxysms of athletic enthusiasm. The newspark band concert was in full swing.

The stadium wasn't lighted properly for baseball and few persons could see the ball when it was pitched or fielded. The two teams got a big hand when they lined up before the first inning and gave the Nazi salute.

Fans Boo the Players.

Ten minutes later, they were being hooted by some sections of the crowd, who couldn't imagine what it was all about. People were getting up and leaving at the end of the second inning.

The Germans liked the way the umpire yelled, "Bawl one, bawl two" He got a laugh until it got monotonous. Twice a great cheer shook the stadium, once when the announcer said there would be a review of tomorrow's military demonstration after the game, and again when he announced that the next inning would be the last.

Nevertheless, the great throng stood at attention and saluted when "The Star Spangled Banner" was played at the close of the game, which lasted seven innings. Les McNeece, Fort Lauderdale, Fla., hit a home run for the champs in the seventh and Hubert Shaw, University of Maine captain, one for the Olympics with one on in the first.

PAIRINGS FOR MUNY BASEBALL SERIES DRAWN

Managers of Municipal baseball teams today drew up pairings at the City Recreation Department for the championship playoffs which are scheduled to begin Saturday, Aug. 22.

With the first named team the home team, the following pairings were announced:

UPPER BRACKET.

Gaylords vs. J. Burke Democrats.
J. B. Smiths vs. Ray Dohles.
St. John Nepomuk vs. winner of the Y. M. C. A. Industrial League.
General Auto vs. Gualdoni.

LOWER BRACKET.

Feldkamps vs. Kelloggs.
Winner of City League title (Flori or Wagner Beers) vs. winner of South Side Y. M. C. A. Senior League (Emmetts or Brownies).
Winner of Walther League (Hope or Zion) vs. Meramec Merchants.
Winner of Polish National Alliance League (Zgoda or Polish Trades) vs. Schaeffer-Lafayettes.

Four seeded teams were designated. In the upper bracket the Kelloggs were ranked No. 1, and the Schaefer-Lafayettes fourth. The Burke Democrats in the lower bracket were seeded second and St. John Nepomuk third.

Playoffs for league titles yet undecided will be held next Saturday and Sunday. The Ford team will meet the Monsanto Chemicals for the Y. M. C. A. Industrial title at Fairground diamond No. 1 at 2:30 Saturday afternoon.

Sunday, Hope meets Zion for the Walther League championship at Fairground, and Zgodas and Polish Trades meet at Murphy Playgrounds, probably at 9:30 a. m.

As a preliminary to an all-star game at the Public High School Stadium Sunday, the Wagners will meet the Florie team for the City League title.

The Kellogg team will be defending title holder in the championship series this year. It was unseeded last year. St. John Nepomuk is the only seeded team of 1935 to gain a place in the playoffs this season.

With the first round of the playoff Aug. 22, quarter-finals are scheduled for the next day. Semifinals will be played Aug. 30 and a three-game final series will begin Sept. 5, the second game on the following Sunday and the third before Sept. 18, when the national tournament is to begin at Evansville, Ind.

American Girls Sixth.

By the Associated Press.

BERLIN, Aug. 13.—America's girl gymnasts finished sixth in a field of eight in Olympic competition today.

Germany won the title with 506.50 points. Trailing, in order, were Czechoslovakia, 503.60; Hungary, 499.00; Yugoslavia 485.60; Poland 470.30; United States, 465.65; Italy 442.40, and Great Britain 408.30.

HARVARD CREW IS ELIMINATED IN OLYMPICS

By the Associated Press.

GRUNAU, Germany, Aug. 13.—Harvard's four with Coxswain was eliminated from the Olympic regatta today, finishing second behind the French quartet in the consolation race which saw the tri-color oarsmen gain a place in tomorrow's final. The winners were timed in 8:00.6 as compared to 8:06.4 for the American shell.

The Americans again started poorly. Last off the mark among four crews, they trailed in third place past the 1000-meter mark, a length behind France and half a length behind Uruguay.

They overhauled the South Americans at the 1500-meter post and then challenged the French, who answered with a spurt increasing their lead in the last 100 meters, finally winning by a length and a half over the 2000-meter route. The French boat's tiller was handled by a 12-year-old brother of two of the oarsmen.

Denmark won the opening heat in the fours consolation competition, timed in 8:09.1 as Japan placed second in 8:14.4.

In the first consolation heat for pair-oared shells without coxswains Argentina outrowed the Britons, who are defending champions, thereby putting the South Americans in the final.

The initial heat also saw the elimination of the American pair, George Lewis Dahm Jr. and Harry Sharkey of Philadelphia. They rowed off the course 100 meters from the finish near the floating bleachers and did not finish the race.

The Argentines, clocked in 9:11.4, won by a length and a half, making a strong closing spurt to beat the Britons, who were caught in 9:14.4. The Brazilians, the fourth contenders, dropped out soon after 1500 meters.

The powerful Argentines, Pdesta and Curatella, rowed a superb race, fighting off the United States pair, which challenged gaining a brief lead at 600 meters, and then outsprinting the British in the final 500.

The United States combination of Joseph Dougherty and Tom Curran of Philadelphia was eliminated in the first heat of the pair-oared with coxswain, the first two in each heat qualifying for the final.

The heat was won by Denmark in 8:51.1 with Switzerland second, 8:58.9. Holland took third, 9:03.1, with the United States pair clocked in 10.5 seconds slower.

The United States four without coxswain, made up of Buffalo oarsmen, was eliminated, finshing third and last in the first consolation tests in which the first two qualify for tomorrow's final.

Holland scratched, leaving the Buffaloans to fight it out with Austria and Denmark. The Austrians led throughout, winning in 7:23.4.

The Danes and the Americans waged a close fight for the first 1500 meters, but the Danes had a much stronger punch in the last 500 and drew away, winning with open water. Denmark's time was 7:27.6, United States, 7:31.5.

Breaking America's losing streak Philadelphia's double scullers, Bill Dugan and John Houser, qualified for tomorrow's final, beating Czechoslovakia by two lengths for second place in the heat won by Great Britain.

The Briton's time was 7:48 flat, finishing seven lengths in front of the Americans clocked in 8:02.8 as the first two finishers gained the final.

Held at the Zoo.

WHEN the invitations were received some of our press representatives didn't know whether to laugh or make a face. The dinner was to be held at the Zoo! So we were to be put in with the other animals!

However, the reality was surprising. The Zoo hall was a most impressive place capable of seating many hundreds of persons on the main floor and balconies and perfectly adapted to the occasion.

On the first floor were four huge circular tables with 20 diners at each, seated at which were all the notables and speechmakers, with Dr. Goebbels at the head. Row on row of tables filled the remainder of the floor while tables extended around the entire balcony except at one end, where the band played.

Spotlights played on the personages present, flash lamps winked. Waiters lined up at the aisle entrances 20 or more in a row with trays. As soon as a speaker sat down, in rushed the waiters like patrons of a movie house when the ropes holding them back are let down. Kellners streamed through the aisles with food and bottles and in a jiffy the Olympic spirit was being blended with Rhenish.

Waves of Spirit.

THE first wave was 1934 Braunberger (Mosel), the second was Dittelsheimer Berg (Rhein), the third wave must have been a tidal one, to judge by the name: "1934 Oestricher Pfiaenzer Riesling (Reingau) Wachstum Joh, Bapt. Volimer Beerenauslese." And it wasn't hard to take at that.

Afterwards there was a wave of Duerkheimer Feuerberg (Pfalz), red wine, and then liqueur to close the incident.

Anyone whose Olympic spirit wasn't 100 proof by that time must have had a soul as dead as Tara's harp.

And the Eats—

ABOUT the banquet? Well, that was a little tough—no, not the "rost" of veal, which was the backbone of the menu. It was the conversation that was difficult.

On my left a member of the press from Czechoslovakia, on my right a German, across were a Swede and a gentleman from Oklahoma, considerably embarrassed because he had neglected to don his dinner coat.

There was an international exchange of cigarettes which was won hands down by Czechoslovakia, whose representative had by far the best brand of four countries.

But it didn't promote the conversation any because our German is primitive and our Swedish and Czechoslovakian do not exist.

Chicken salad princesse, oxtail soup, roast veal with all sorts of vegetables, cheese prepared so that it resembled small custard eclairs, ice cream and coffee made up the menu—and everything as usual in this country, was as it should have been.

If propaganda was the object of the gathering, the banquet and the service functioned better than the speeches, which many could not hear or understand.

No Military Display.

DR. GOEBBELS was not in uniform nor were there many military personages present—at least they must have been in mufti. Dr. Goebbels, a slight man with dark hair and aquiline nose, had a fine speaking voice and his address aroused enthusiasm.

The standout of the evening, however, was the interpreter who took down the speeches of Fred Rubien for the Olympic committee, of Dr. Goebbels, of the French representative and of other talkers.

After each speaker it was the interpreter's job to rise and repeat it in two other languages so that the assembly was literally three-timed. The interpreter seemed to do a fine job, but half way through the evening his voice began to crack under the strain and he finished gamely, but weak.

On Delicate Ground.

THE most difficult effort of the evening was that of the French representative, in view of the recent relations between the two countries; but the assembly gave the French speaker the best hand of the evening.

He wound up by congratulating Dr. Goebbels on the fact that "the French idea of the Olympic revival, originated by Baron de Coubertin of France, had reached its fullest realization in Germany."

Bows, handshaking all round, spotlights playing on smiling visages, flashlights and—more bottles. The Olympic spirit reached its peak.

Just a Dash of Cold Water.

THE better half, waiting up for our return, had the benefit of all our built-up Olympic spirit. She had to listen to a recital of the great strides toward peace the Olympic games were bound to make; and how the barriers now being built up by national hate would be broken down by "international friendships begotten by sports"—

"Remember," we reminded her, "this idea originated in Ancient Greece when the States were constantly at war. Yet when the ancient Olympic games were held, war was stopped, and a truce was declared. Modern Olympics some day will pave the way to peace," etc.

"Well," yawned the brains of the nartnership, 'after all, they don't seem to have made much progress toward it the last 2500 years, do they?

That's the way. You can't work up a little enthusiasm without some pessimist pouring cold water on you.

FRENCH WOMAN REACHES FINAL IN RYE TENNIS

By the Associated Press.

RYE, N. Y., Aug. 13.—Mme. Sylvia Henrotin of Paris, France, entered the final of the Eastern grass court championship here today with a straight-set victory over the top seeded Alice Marble of Palm Springs, Cal.

The French ace crushed the Californian, 6—1, 8—6. She took the opening set by running up five games in a row and then taking the seventh after Miss Marble had managed to win one. Mme. Henrotin had three love games in the initial heat.

Mme. Henrotin became a finalist through her steadiness and Miss Marble's inability to keep her drives inside the lines in the opening set.

The French woman's love games were the first, fourth and fifth.

The top seeded star assisted her own downfall with a series of double faults and spotty work in front of the net in the opener.

Robert L. Riggs of Los Angeles, Cal., advanced to the semifinals of the men's singles when he upset John McDiarmid, Princeton University professor, 6—3, 6—4. Riggs will meet Bryan M. Grant, Atlanta, in the semifinals tomorrow.

The 18-year-old junior from the coast, who holds the national clay court singles and doubles crowns, was in superb form against McDiarmid, who won the Seabright tourney. Riggs' service was impregnable, and he repeatedly stopped McDiarmid's net charges with amazing passing shots.

Don Budge, Davis cup star, completed the semifinal bracket for tomorrow by defeating John Van Ryn, veteran internationalist from Philadelphia, 6—0, 6—3. Budge will meet Parker in the semifinals, while Riggs tackles Grant.

In a quarterfinal women's doubles match today, Dorothy May Sutton Bundy, Santa Monica, Cal., and Dorothy Workman, Los Angeles, Cal., easily defeated Margaret Osborne, San Francisco, and Evangeline McLennon, Atlanta, Ga.

Mrs. John Van Ryn of Philadelphia and Carolyn Babcock of Los Angeles, Cal., defeated Helen Fulton of Chicago and Theodosia Smith of Los Angeles, 6—3, 3—6, 6—3, in the second doubles match of the day.

The victory brought Mrs. Van Ryn and Miss Babcock into the semi-final round.

LEWIS EASILY DEFEATS NICHOLS IN POOR 10 ROUND BOUT

BUFFALO BOXER ABLE TO LAND ONLY ONE REAL PUNCH IN BOUT

Champion's Opponent Spends Most of His Time in Clinching— Alcanter and Rightmire in Draw.

AUDITORIUM RESULTS

John Henry Lewis, Phoenix, Ariz. (180), outpointed George Nichols, Buffalo, N. Y. (176½), 10 rounds. Walter Heisner, referee.

Everette Rightmire, Sioux City, Ia. (128⅝) and Joe Alcanter, Kansas City (133½), drew, 10 rounds. Harry Cook, referee.

Dynamite Jackson, Los Angeles, Negro, (136¾), defeated Willie Davis, Chicago, Negro, (131¾), 6 rounds. Harry Cook, referee.

Kid Irish, Alton, Ill. (122¾), outpointed Mickey Genaro, Chicago (133), 6 rounds. Harry Cook, referee.

Jimmy McFarland, Terre Haute, Ind., (148), defeated Joe Huff, St. Louis (151), 6 rounds. Tommy Sullivan, referee.

Judges—Al Graf, Sullivan, Cook.

By W. J. McGoogan.

So far as John Henry Lewis and his world's light heavyweight championship are concerned, George Nichols, Buffalo, might just as well have remained in retirement, in the opinion of the majority of the 10,602 fans who saw George take a 10-round lacing from Lewis at the Auditorium last night.

Certainly George, who a few years ago held the championship in the division by grace of the National Boxing Association, is no threat to Lewis, for the best he could do through 10 long rounds was to lead and clinch, principally clinch.

At the same time the victory added few laurels to Lewis, for he was unable to make much of an impression on Nichols, of slighter build and lacking most everything else except the desire to stay 10 rounds.

If John Henry plans to enter the heavyweight ranks, now that he has cleaned up the last of the available 175-pounders, he will have rough sledding if his showing last night is any criterion, for against a washed-up opponent such as Nichols appeared to be, he didn't make such a great impression himself.

Lewis' Knees Buckle.

Bigger by 3½ pounds, at least; stronger, younger, Lewis was unable to put Nichols on the floor and the most obvious signs of distress were shown by John Henry in the fifth round when his knees buckled under him from the force of probably the only picnic punch which George landed throughout the match, a left-hand smash to the chin.

Not that there was any doubt as to the ultimate victor, for Lewis had at least seven of the 10 rounds to one for Nichols, and the other two even. But John Henry certainly didn't act the part of the champion which he has done in his other bouts here.

Nichols made the sorriest showing of any of the five or six opponents who have faced the champion. He started out evidently with the idea of staying the limit. That he accomplished, much to the disgust of the assembled multitude who would have been glad to have seen the dull match end much sooner.

The best George could do was to hold and fall in, clinch, hold, and do everything within his power to keep Lewis from hitting him. He succeeded very well. So well, in fact, that the customers started to file out of the building long before the finish.

Smalley Makes Decision.

It was the climax to the worst card which has been offered here in nearly a year. There was not a knockout on the five-bout program and very little of interest outside the semifinal contest in which Everette Rightmire of Sioux City, Ia., and Joe Alcanter, Kansas City Mexican, fought to a 10-round draw.

That was a scrap of moments, with the battling being so close that one judge voted a draw, one for Alcanter and the referee for Rightmire, which so confused Biz Kenny that he had to call a ringside meeting of the Missouri Athletic Commission before he could determine the result.

Fortunately, Garrett Smalley, chairman, was on hand and he explained the Missouri Commission's rule that stipulates when the two judges and referee disagree the majority rules. In this case there was no majority, so the proper ruling was a draw.

Alcanter was the stronger and more rugged of the two boxers. In fact, he is a lightweight, while Rightmire is a featherweight. It was a poor match to start with, and Alcanter weighed 134 pounds at weighing time in the afternoon, two pounds more than the contract called for, while Rightmire weighed 128¾.

Joe was forced to go through some exercises to take off a few ounces, but when the boys entered the ring, Alcanter probably weighed eight pounds more than Everette.

Rightmire's cleverness and fast left hand seemed to earn him a shade in the number of blows landed, but his powder puff punches did not carry the sting of those by Alcanter. At the same time, Alcanter presented a difficult target from his crouch, leaving little but the top of his head to hit. Rightmire fought a retreating fight, stabbing with his left as he ran away, and his blows carried little steam. Joe, when he got in close, did what little damage that was done in the fight.

At the same time, the Mexican was guilty of wrestling Rightmire to the floor on at least two occasions, so when points were subtracted for those offenses and from Rightmire for his bicycling, it came down to who landed the greater number of blows, and that seemed to give Rightmire a slight edge, in the opinion of the writer. However, there was a disagreement and it was called a draw. Which probably was just as well, for it was a foolish match to begin with. Neither boy had much, if anything, to gain by a victory over the other.

Rightmire's manager, Tommy O'Loughlin, said he did not think there was any danger of a rematch, as he could see no percentage in his boy taking on Alcanter again and the only regret he had was that it might affect Everette's chances for a match with Petey Sarron, featherweight champion of the world, here next month. The fear is groundless, for Rightmire's showing against a boy weighing six or eight pounds more than him has, or should have, no bearing on what he might do against a lad of equal weight.

Fans around the ringside seemed to think that the disagreement was part of a scheme for a long rematch due in part to the careless statements of followers of each who got into an argument over the result and then they said, 'let's keep it up, maybe we can steam up a rematch over a longer route.'

Managers Not In Argument.

It must be said in fairness to the boxers and their managers, that none officially connected with either was involved in the argument.

Dynamite Jackson, a Los Angeles Negro, making his first appearance here, had nearly 25 pounds advantage over Willie Davis, Chicago Negro, and just squeezed out a victory in a very uninteresting bout, while in another preliminary, Kid Irish, Alton, Ill., defeated Mickey Genaro, Chicago, in six rounds.

Genaro, a happy-go-lucky fighter, twice as old as Cass avenue, has been boxing everybody in the featherweight, lightweight and what have you divisions for many years, but all his experience went for naught in the face of the determined attack of the Alton youngster.

Joe Huff received what probably is his last warning to forget boxing and stick to his trade when he lost to Jimmy McFarland, Terre Haute, in six rounds. Huff started well, but was knocked down for no count in the third and in the sixth he went down for a nine count, the blow which probably decided the match.

A crowd of 10,093 attended. Receipts were $10,296.95; Federal tax, $997.33; city and state, $440.35 each.

The American Retailers' Association, in convention assembled here, attended in a body and there were 1500 members present, it was announced, representing 33 states from New York to California.

Before the main event it was stated that an agreement had been reached that fouls, so far as low blows were concerned, would be disregarded, because the men had the latest protection. There was hardly a foul blow struck, however, nor a fair one, either.

Nichols entered the ring with collodion packs over each eye to protect scars from former cuts, and presented a grotesque appearance when they were knocked loose. Before the end of the match he bled a little from a cut over one eye, while an old cut in Lewis' right eye was reopened.

In the bout between Rightmire and Alcanter, in dispute, Sullivan, a judge, voted for Alcanter; Al Graf, the other judge, a draw, and Referee Harry Cook, for Rightmire.

today and bind their wounds before boarding a train for St. Paul where they oppose the American Association club tomorrow in an exhibition game. Then they open a series in Pittsburgh, playing a single game Saturday and a doubleheader Sunday.

A Winning Pitcher.

Mize's wallop was cheering to the Cardinal spirit and so was the fact that Si Johnson was able to stick it out the full nine innings and score a victory. Si was hit hard; there is no getting away from that, but he seemed always to have something in reserve and he had remarkable control. Not only did he not issue a single pass, but he was rarely in difficulty. He was fast and he seemed to know what he was about.

Johnson had Frisch a bit worried late in the game but, to the surprise of many, the Cardinal manager decided to permit Si to stick it out. The situation in both the eighth and the ninth was such as to justify his removal for a relief man, but Frisch let Silas know that the Cardinals were depending upon him and had faith in his ability to win the game. In both these delicate spots, Johnson bore down hard and escaped with little damage—and a victory and increased confidence.

He won't have to beat a Larry French and a Chicago Cubs team each time he goes to the hill and on the strength of his showing yesterday he may be expected to take his regular turn.

RED BIRD NOTES

Mize's two hits brought his average up to .384. He's getting closer every day to that charmed .400 mark. He is tied at 16 with Medwick in hitting home runs.

Perhaps the turning point of the game was the failure of First Baseman Phil Cavarretta to go the limit in trying for Terry Moore's foul fly at the start of the sixth. The ball fell beside the Cub's dugout and it appeared that Cavarretta could have made the catch. On the next ball pitched, Moore singled to center; then came Frisch's sacrifice, Fullis' fly, a walk to Medwick and Mize's homer.

Davis was hitting in bad luck. He smashed the ball with terrific force in his three trips to the plate—each time straight at the outfielders.

Umpire Bill Stewart made one of those split hair decisions at the plate on O'Dea in the eighth. With none out, O'Dea on third and Galan on first, Jurges flied to Terry Moore. The Cards' center fielder caught the ball in stride, whipped a perfect low throw to the plate where Davis put the works to O'Dea. Very close it was. Then Johnson retired Cavarretta on a fly to Fullis.

There was another good crowd on hand—22,337 of whom 17,000 were cash customers.

Not the slightest indication of hard feeling between the two teams in the final game. They all left the umpires severely alone.

WELTERWEIGHT BOUTS FEATURE AMATEUR SHOW

Two out of town boxers will seek verdicts tonight as the St. Louis A. C. holds a seven-bout amateur program at West Side Softball Park. The fighting will start at 9:15 o'clock and will be preceded by a softball game.

The two visiting fighters are Herby Baker, Green Bay, Wisconsin, welterweight, and Oscar Gardner, Cleveland, also a welterweight, who did a lot of mixing in the Golden Gloves tournaments held in this city. Baker is down to oppose Ollie Russo, and Gardner gets his opposition from Al Brendel.

While the two inter-city affairs are expected to headline the show, two local stars, Roland Beaustring, St. Louis A. C., and Al Beauhuld, Tower A. C., are expected to furnish their share of the excitement as they will be meeting for the second time. Al, who is a brother of Billy Beauhuld, captured the decision in the first encounter, and Roland, is also set to even up accounts.

Baker, during his stay in St. Louis, has been training at the police gymnasium, and will represent them in tonight's battle. He is being handled by Les Martin, former pugilist, now a member of the police force.

Brendel, rapidly becoming one of the best of the simon pures, has realized that he will get plenty of opposition from Gardner, and is in perfect condition.

Johnny Randazzo, representing the St. Louis A. C., who started out by stopping eight rivals, will meet Snowball President, Negro, in a mixed match.

Roland Beustring, St. Louis A. C., vs. Al Beauhuld, Tower A. C.; welterweights.
Herby Baker, Green Bay, Wis., vs. Ollie Russo, Italian A. C.; welterweights.
Oscar Gardner, Cleveland, vs. Al Brendel, St. Louis A. C.; welterweights.
Johnny Randazzo, St. Louis A. C., vs. Snowball President, Brown Bomber A. C.; welterweights.
Jack Conway, Tower A. C., vs. Dick Newcomb, West End Gym.; lightweights.
Bob Abel vs. Jimmy O'Brien, South Side "Y"; 90-pounders.
Eddie Lee, St. Louis County, vs. Charley Cassani, Italian A. C.
Starting time, 8:30 p. m.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

WES FERRELL, Red Sox, and HARRY KELLEY, Athletics—former pitched nine-hit ball and drove in six runs with two homers in winning doubleheader opener; Kelley allowed three hits in nightcap.

JOHNNY MIZE, Cardinals—Hit homer, driving in three runs, as Cubs were defeated, 5-3.

GABBY GABLER, Giants—His twelfth inning triple drove in winning runs in 2-1 win over Dodgers.

JAKE POWELL, Yankees—Batted in two runs with homer in win over Senators.

GENE MOORE, Bees—Hit homer and single, scoring two runs in 4-2 victory over Phillies.

BILL SWIFT, Pirates—Pitched six-hit ball to down Reds.

MARVIN OWEN, Tigers—Drove in four runs against Indians with double and single.

ZEKE BONURA, White Sox—Hit three-run homer and batted in another run with single against Browns.

SPORTS by L. C. Davis

Bring the Kiddies!

THE fight card out at Sportsman's Park
Begins at three and ends at dark,
And rivalry is keen.
The semifinals and prelim
You might say in a measure dim
The ball game in between.

With interchange of words and thumps,
The fans, the players and the umps
Put on a "Custer's Stand."
Sporadic sorties from the trench
While verbal shots from bench to bench
Fly over No-Man's-Land.

Come out, the prices are the same
As for an ordinary game,
No more you'll have to pay.
Not only can you see the fight,
But there's a coupon that entitles
Les you to join the fray.

No Dice!

The Cards lost a game of ball somewhere in the vicinity of second base Tuesday afternoon. They suspected Umpire Stewart of having it concealed somewhere on his person and gave him the third degree.

The only thing they got out of him was the bum's rush.

A superheated customer tried to push Umpire Stewart around, but the best he got was a poke on the chin. You can't just get anywhere with those boys in blue.

See where the Indians are closing the gap on the Yankees. And Pennantville 20 miles away!

"Red" Lucas has beaten his former team mates, the Reds, 10 times since they traded him to the Pirates in 1934. They make him see Red. And vice versa.

The Giants beat the Dodgers on their home grounds for the first this year Tuesday afternoon. The Flatbush patrons were beginning to wonder if the Giants were still in the National League.

See where 999 golfers have shot holes in one in the last seven months. Not even one in a thousand can do it.

Besides Dizzy Dean the Cardinals organization has another prospective 30-game pitcher in Bob Weiland who is doing his stuff for Rochester. And could the Cards use a guy like that right now?

Today Lou Gehrig is the only ball player who breaks a record in every game he plays.

Following the pop bottle throwing episode in Chicago a rule was established in the American League abolishing the custom of announcing the names of umpires. Who cares? The fans never call them by their right names anyway.

Jack Johnson is pressing his luck. He picks Jack Sharkey to whip Joe Louis.

NO matter who the Bomber fought
He picked the other guy;
The wish was father to the thought—
Was that the reason why?

It seems that Jesse Owens' right name is James instead of Jesse. After the highhanded manner in which he ran away with everything in sight Herr Hitler probably thought it was Jesse James.

RAY SCHWARTZ AND MRS. BAUMAN WIN IN GOLF TOURNEY

Ray Schwartz, professional, and Mrs. J. L. Bauman of Algonquin Golf Club, scored a 76 to win the low gross prize in a district invitation two-ball competition at Norwood Hills Country Club yesterday.

Charles Martin of Norwood and Mrs. Bowers were second in the division with an 81.

First among the low net scores were Bob Cochrane and Lenore O'Connor, who scored 71. Second were Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Grizzelle.

MAEDIC WINS THIRD STAKE IN THREE SARATOGA STARTS

VICTOR OVER THIRD COUNT IN SANFORD BY NEARLY LENGTH

Murph, Favorite, Sets Pace Early and Winds Up Fifth; Third Count Forces Others Wide in Stretch.

By the Associated Press.

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 13.—Maedic, winner of the Flash and Saratoga Eales Stakes for Dewitt Page's Maemere Farm, became the first triple-stakes victor of the meeting here this afternoon, when he won the Sanford for his third triumph in as many local appearances. The $1550 yearling staged a mighty stretch rush to beat Mrs. W. H. Furst's Third Count by three-quarters of a length. The two horses were coupled as the Trainer G. E. Phillips entry.

Privileged, representing Warren Wright's Calumet Farm, was a length behind in third place, failing to duplicate the victory of his stablemate, Crossbow II, in last year's renewal.

There was considerable delay before the official sign was posted. Third Count carried several horses wide at the home turn which aMedic was coming through on the inside and on to victory, but the stewards finally decided to let Third Count retain second money.

This was the twenty-fourth running of the six-furlong juvenile stake, which annually recalls the only defeat suffered by Man O' War. The wonder horse lost to Upset in the 1919 renewal. Maedic picked up $2780 and his time was 1:13.

Murph, owned by Mrs. E. V. Hars, was split favorite at 2 to 1 with the Phillips entry. The black gelding was making his New York debut. After taking an early lead, he gradually dropped back and wound up fifth in the field of seven.

Maedic broke well, but Litzenberger let him drop back to last position in the first quarter mile, while the leaders ran closely bunched. The brown Bostonian colt gained around the bend and saved ground while spurting to the front in the stretch. Third Count held on well to beat the unfortunate Priviledged, which closed stoutly after being carried out. No Sir was a good fourth.

NEW CLASS D LEAGUE IN MISSOURI PROPOSED

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 13.—Organization of a new Class D baseball league will be proposed at meetings to be held within the next 10 days in eight Missouri towns who have been invited to become members.

H. G. Reinagel of Kansas City, representative of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, said he would hold meetings at Sedalia, St. Joseph, Moberly, Hannibal, Chillicothe, Trenton, Columbia and Jefferson City to discuss the proposed circuit.

CORK COURT WILL BE USED FOR TENNIS PLAY

By the Associated Press.

UTICA, N. Y., Aug. 13.—Uticans will begin playing tennis on a cork court in a few days, City Engineer Shaw said today. The cork-top court, an innovation here, was installed as an experiment.

Shaw said the court will be available for use almost immediately after any rain, while clay courts must be allowed to dry out.

Tennis Tourney Aug. 22.

The West Side Tennis Club of Gillespie (Ill.) will hold its annual open tennis tournament Aug. 22. Entries must be in by Aug. 18. Richard Philpot, St. Louis, won the title last year. Send entries to Joseph S. Frew, West Side Tennis Club, 317 E. Elm street, Gillespie, Illinois.

A Perfect Lady, as You Can Plainly See

Her name is Ruth (Ruth M. Mac in the official register) and she's of the upper crust in the horse set, but she isn't a bit snooty over her standing and is gentle with human beings and likes dogs. She is scopping here for a bit of a nuzzle with her driver, Tommy Berry, and two stable mascots. Ruth runs with the best horses, or rather trots with them. She trotted with them yesterday in the Hambletonian, and what if she didn't win? There's more to a horse's life than winning old races.

Mrs. Hill Retains Olympic Platform Diving Championship

ord time of 5:28. Miss Petty, barely recovered from an attack of ptomaine poisoning, was third and last in her heat, with the first three in each trial qualifying for the next round.

Medica in Dead Heat.

Jack Medica, Seattle flash who captured the men's 400-meter free style title yesterday, raced to a dead heat with Noburo Terada of Japan in the second heat of preliminary competition in the 1500-meter free style competition. Medica and Terada each was clocked in 19:55.5. Sunao Ishiharada of Japan won the first heat in 19:55.8.

Mrs. Hill's victory in the diving championship offered little excitement to the crowd of 5000 who sweltered under a hot sun. It was apparent almost from the outset that the Los Angeles star would take the top place unless she fell off the platform.

She scored 7.81, 8.36, 9.36 and 8.40 points, respectively, for the four dives, which were a swan dive from five meters, swan dive from 10 meters, running swan from 10 meters and a back somersault from five meters.

How Points Were Scored.

Miss Dunn dampened the enthusiasm of the crowd, predominantly German, by beating out Miss Koehler for the silver medal.

Here's how the first six finishers scored:

	First	2d.	3d.	4th.	Total
Mrs. Hill	7.81	8.36	9.36	8.40	33.93
Miss Dunn	7.59	7.92	8.88	9.24	33.63
Miss Koehler	7.26	8.25	8.40	9.52	33.43
Miss Osawa	7.59	7.04	8.52	9.38	32.53
Miss Gilisen	6.88	7.81	7.44	8.40	30.52
Miss Kono	7.04	7.04	7.20	8.96	30.24

It all seemed very silly but Mary Lou Petty of Seattle and two other starters loafed through the fourth heat of the women's 400-meter free style trials in which the first three in each heat qualified for the semi-finals.

The crowd chanted "eins, zwei, eins, zwei" as the trio enjoyed a leisurely swim. Miss Carlsen of Denmark coasted in, the winner in 5:57.1, followed by Miss Jeffery, Great Britain, 6:12.7, and Miss Petty, who is barely recovered from an attack of ptomaine poisoning, in 6:16.6.

Dorothea Dickinson of New York failed to compete in the second heat because of a lame shoulder caused, doctors fear, by a bone infection. The old lameness, which returned a few days ago, kept Miss Dickinson from practice and led her to withdraw.

Shumpei Uto, Japanese favorite, beat Flanagan by a length in the third heat of the 1500 which was strictly a duel between these two.

Flanagan led almost to the halfway mark when the Japanese pulled ahead and stayed there with the Miamian making no serious effort to catch him. Freese of Germany was third almost 50 meters back.

Uto was clocked in 19:48.3 and Flanagan in 19:49.9.

Jap Star Betters Record.

Detsuo Hamuro of Japan won the first of five heats in the men's 200-meter breast stroke preliminaries and set up a new Olympic record of 2:42.5. The former record of 2:44.9 was set in a trial heat of the 1932 Olympics by Reizo Koike.

Seitas of Germany, in second place, was clocked in 2:44.6, also under the former record. Ray Kaye of Detroit was third in 2:48.5.

Hamuro swam half the length of the pool under water at the start and gained a length lead, which he held. Kaye had difficulty beating Adjaluddin of the Philippines who was fourth in 2:50.2. The first three in each heat and the fastest fourth qualified for the semifinals.

Jack Kasley, University of Michigan star, from Detroit, finished third in the second heat which was won by Saburo Ito of Japan by one meter over Balke of Germany. The American was exactly even with Ito at the halfway mark but rapidly dropped back at the finish and wound up a length back of Balke. Ito was clocked in 2:45.8, Balke in 2:46.4, and Kasley in 2:54.4.

Johnny Higgins of Providence, R. I., won the third heat in 2:48.8, beating Alpad of the Philippines by a length and a half. Higgins jumped into the lead at the outset, using his powerful butterfly stroke, and held it easily despite Alpad's sprint on the last lap.

For the second day in succession, Adolf Kiefer of Chicago bettered the Olympic and listed world's record for the 100-meter back-stroke. Swimming in the first semifinal, Klefer was clocked in 1:06.8, one-tenth of a second faster than the time of 1:06.9 he set up in the first trials yesterday. Al Vande Weghe of Paterson, N. J., was second in 1:08.6.

The former Olympic record of 1:08.2 was set by George Kojac in 1928. The listed world record of 1:07.4 was set by Vande Weghe in 1934.

Kiefer led all the way and won by a meter over his teammate with Oliver of Australia third.

Vande Weghe stayed close to the Chicagoan practically throughout, shaking off the others after 50 meters.

Taylor Drysdale of Detroit won the second semifinal of the 100-meter backstroke in 1:08.6, beating Shoji Kiyokawa of Japan by one meter with Yasuhiko Kojima, also of Japan, third.

INTERNATIONAL BOARD ADOPTS BASKET RULES OF AMERICANS

BERLIN, Aug. 13.—American basketball rules, including the much-discussed elimination of the center tip, entered the world sports picture in a big way last night when the International Basketball Federation approved a set of rules presented by an American-headed committee.

As a result of this meeting, future Olympic basketball competitions will be held under new regulations which the United States delegation carefully maneuvered through the federation in an effort to prevent foreigners who are new to the game from making the game too different from that played in America.

The federation also stamped its approval on the "10-second" rule, which was installed in the United States to prevent stalling. Under the rule, the team in possession of the ball is allowed only 10 seconds to move the ball across the center line toward its opponent's basket.

Other new Olympic provisions included a demand for two officials for each game instead of one, and the displacement of the present basket by one without underbraces.

EDWARDS WILL SCOUT FOR MISSOURI ELEVEN

COLUMBIA, Mo., Aug. 13.—Coach Don Faurot of Missouri University, said yesterday he would have only the assistance of Chauncey Simpson, first assistant, and Phil Bengston, line coach, in handling the Tiger varsity this fall.

Faurot said basketball Coach George Edwards, who helped with football last fall, would scout this year, but otherwise would devote his attention to early training of a green court team, and that Anton Stankowski would be occupied with his new duties as director of intramural athletics.

Faurot said he expected about 60 men to report for first practice, and that from that number he could concentrate on four teams, instead of six or seven carried last season.

13 CHAMPIONS DEFEND TITLES IN MUNY SWIM MEET TONIGHT

Twelve of the 24 events on tonight's twenty-third annual Municipal Swimming meet at the Marquette Pool, Osage and Minnesota avenues, will offer defending champions.

The finals will begin at 8 o'clock with men's and women's fancy diving. These championships will be preceded by preliminaries, starting at 6:45 p. m.

Besides the 24 competitive events, Muny officials have arranged several novelty events, including clown diving and a pair of swimmers in a fire dive. Bleachers capable of seating 2000 spectators have been erected. There is an admission charge of 25 cents.

The events will include five for women and 19 for men. The women's events will be in three divisions, Class A, B and C, with the latter added this year. Men's events are divided into M. A. A. championship and Classes A, B and C, and special events for lifeguards.

An entry record was set this year when 207 individuals registered for the meet, surpassing the record of 203 set in 1933. Last year 201 competed.

Among the champions who will defend titles will be Miss E. Staley of the Y. W. H. A. in women's Class A 100-yard free style and Class B 50-yard free style; Miss Lorraine Morrison, unattached, in diving; J. Bronk of Westborough Country Club in the Class A men's 50 and 100 yard free style events; his brother, R. Bronk, in the 100-yard breast stroke of the same division; Taylor Sweeney of Westborough in the M. A. A. 200-yard breast stroke; and five relay teams, namely, Fairground Pool in the lifeguard 200 relay and 300-yard medley; Downtown Y. M. C. A. in the M. A. A. 200; Carondelet Y. M. C. A. in the Class A 200; and the Y. M. H. A. in the Class B 200 relay.

None of the individual recordholders are competing in events in which they have set marks.

Westborough Country Club, defending champions, are advance favorites again because of registration of 34 entrants. Other organizations are Fairground Pool, 32; Marquette Pool, 26; Y. M. H. A.-Y. W. H. A., 22; Downtown Y. M. C. A., 19; South Side Y. M. C. A., 14; Carondelet Y. M. C. A., 11; North Side Y. M. C. A., 7; University City Pool, 7; Sayman Town Club, 6; Crystal Lake, 2; one each for Buder Pool and Meadowbrook Country Club; and 25 as unattached.

SUNDAY MORNING LEAGUE TO HOLD ANNUAL FIELD DAY

The Sunday Morning Baseball League will hold its annual field day next Sunday at Harlem Park, on North Broadway, at which field the circuit has been playing for more than 25 years. Many old-timers have played in the league and it is still being maintained by former minor and Municipal League performers.

Leaders this year in batting are: Krash .565, Lampert .500, Moog .486, and Keating .417.

OWENS EQUALS WORLD RECORD IN DASH EVENT

By the Associated Press.

BOCHUM, Germany, Aug. 13.—Jesse Owens, star of the United States Olympic track team, last night equaled the world 100-meter dash record of 10.3 but disappointed 8000 spectators by broadjumping only 7.02 meters (23 feet 1 inch) and losing to Wilhelm Leichum of Germany, who jumped 7.2 meters (23 feet 9 7-16 inches) in an international track meet.

Flashing Olympic speed despite his third straight night of barnstorming, Jesse outraced two Germans, Gerd Hornberger and Erich Borghmeyer, by two and three yards in the 100. Bunta Suzuki of Japan was fourth.

Glenn Cunningham of Lawrence, Kan., runner-up in the Olympic mile, won the 1500 meters in 4:00.1. He was a stride ahead of Friedrich Schaumburg of Germany.

Bill Sefton of Los Angeles cleared only 3.80 meters (12 feet 5¾ inches) in the pole vault and was beaten by Kiyosni Adachi of Japan, who vaulted four meters (13 feet 1 5-32 inches).

Delos Thurber, another Los Angeles boy, tied for second in the high jump with Gustav Weinhoer of Germany, as Hiroshi Tanaka of Japan won with a jump of 1.98 meters (6 feet 2 13-16 inches). Thurber and Weinkoetz jumped 1.85 meters (6 feet 27-32 inch).

The shotput was won by Hans Woelke, the Olympic champion from Germany, with a toss of 15.68 meters (51 feet 5 21-64 inches). San Francis of Lincoln, Neb., was second, with 15.52 meters (50 feet 11 1-32 inches).

Bill Rowe of Pontiac, R. trailed Germany's hammer-throwing stars, Erwin Blask and Karl Heim.

ROSALIND SET THREE MARKS IN WINNING THE HAMBLETONIAN

By the Associated Press.

GOSHEN, N. Y., Aug. 13.—The Hambletonian books today listed three new records as the result of Rosalind's sensational two-heat victory over the pick of the nation's three-year old trotters.

When the daughter of Scotland whirled around the triangular track yesterday before a capacity crowd of 45,000 in 2:01¾ and 2:02¾, she made the fastest time ever recorded by a winner of trotting's richest stake. It displaces the old marks of 2:02¾ and 2:02¾ hung up by Greylast year.

Only one faster mile has ever been trotted in the 11 years of the stake and that was by Hollyrood Dennis, which went a mile in 2:01¼ to win one heat in 1932 when the Marchioness carried off the award.

Second Victory for White.

Ben White, who drove Mary Reynolds to victory in 1933, became the first driver to win two Hambletonians. The 63-year-old Lexington trainer also teamed with his 21-year-old son, Gibson, owner of the filly, to form the first father-son combination to win the rich stake.

Back of their quest for the purse of $19,269.11, the victor's share of $25,642.83, is a story.

Two years ago Gibson was seriously ill. His father, knowing his son's interest in horses, gave Gibson two yearlings, a pacer and a trotter, with instructions that the boy select their names and supervise their training.

The pacer was called Jack Orr. The trotter was named Rosalind, from Shakespeare's "As You Like It."

Rosalind blossomed into the champion two-year-old trotter last year, winning six of her nine starts. Then Gibson had hopes of being the youngest driver to win the Hambletonian. He regained his strength until this year he was at the track every morning.

The doctors finally said Gibson was strong enough to drive, but a few weeks ago his mother asked that he turn the reins over to his more experienced father. He reluctantly agreed.

In Front in Each Heat.

Rosalind got away in front in each heat. Brownie Hanover from Lawrence B. Sheppard's Hanover, Pa., farm was second in the first heat, but he was three lengths away.

Ed Lasater, also trained by Ben White and owned by W. N. Reynolds of Winston Salem, N. C., took runner-up honors in the final brush, but he, too, was three lengths back at the judges stand.

CHICAGO TEAM PLAYS CINCINNATI IN TYPO BASEBALL MEET FINAL

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—First place in the International Union Printers' Baseball League tournament was the prize today as the two remaining undefeated teams, Cincinnati and Chicago, were paired off.

Cincinnati held the leadership with three victories, the third a 3 to 1 decision over New York yesterday. The Chicago team, with two victories, drew a bye.

In the other games today, Washington, champion for the past two years, which eliminated Pittsburgh, 6 to 1, was matched with New York, and Boston was paired with the St. Paul-Minneapolis team.

Boston eliminated St. Louis, 6 to 4, while the twin cities removed Baltimore from the double-elimination affair, 7 to 4.

JUMPERS PROVE ACES IN JUNIOR OLYMPIC MEET

The final day of preliminaries in the Greater St. Louis Junior Olympic track field meet began late this afternoon starting at Francis Field with 49 heats in various running events in the five divisions scheduled. The athletes will rest tomorrow. The finals in all events are scheduled for Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

Yesterday's trials were devoted to field events. The athletes were required to better a set standard in each event and the majority of the athletes, at least of those that came out, easily bettered the arbitrary standards.

The most remarkable group took part in the senior boys' broad jump, no fewer than 15 jumpers clearing the required 19 feet. Among them were such athletes as Al Seidel, Eugene Donzelot, Ray Alsbury and Herb Meredith, all former Roosevelt High competitors and representing Harlem Place Methodist in this meet; Vince Finazzo, formerly of McBride; Sol Schumitzky, University City High; James Mears, Christian Brothers High; and Ed Posage, East St. Louis High.

The senior high jump was almost as good, ten jumpers clearing five feet five inches on the first jump. Among them were Posage, Alsbury and Finazzo.

Today's preliminaries will complete the elimination meets which began six weeks ago with athletes from St. Louis, St. Louis County and the southern Illinois district competing.

THE SUMMARIES

Mrs. Mars Pays $18,000 for a Yearling Colt

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 13.—Mrs. Ethel V. Mars of Chicago, who spent more than $100,000 in the Saratoga sales ring last year, passed that figure for the 1936 sales last night with a couple of expensive purchases of yearlings.

The Chicago woman equaled her own top figure for the year's sales when she bid in for $18,000 an imposing looking son of Sir Galahad III-Sari, consigned by Robert A. Fairbairn. Mrs. Mars won out in a bidding battle with Joseph E. Widener and Morris Vehon of Chicago, the latter stopping at $17,000. The colt is a brother to the stake winner Sarada.

In addition to the $18,000 colt, Mrs. Mars bought a filly by Sir Galahad III-Malvina B. for $6500; a filly by Hourless-Hero Girl for $3600, and a filly by The Scout-Be Careful for $800, bringing her total for the night to $28,900.

Ogden Phipps of New York, owner of White Cockade, paid the second highest price of the vendue, $10,600, for a bay son of Sortie out of One Hour, also from the Fairbairn consignment.

Princeton Graduates.

Princeton's 1936 graduating class included Pepper Constable, fullback; Levan and Pauk, halfbacks; Mac Millan and Lea, ends; and Weller, guard.

H. L. Griesedieck breaks ground for huge Stag Brewery addition

● This second addition to our plant will make Griesedieck Western one of the largest brewery units in the St. Louis district. We shall always be prepared to increase our facilities sufficiently to meet any demand for Stag Beer. But under no circumstances will we hurry our beer in any way that will affect its character in the slightest degree.

H. L. Griesedieck

First addition, nearly completed, will insure adequate supply of Stag to meet immediate demands

OUR ENLARGED BREWERY in Belleville, Illinois, has been working day and night during the past few months to keep pace with the constantly-growing demand for Stag Beer. But even with increased facilities we have not been able to keep our dealers and distributors supplied with all the Stag they want.

These distributors have had sales increases on Stag as high as 1,000% over last year! So you can understand what a big job we've had adjusting our production to meet the demand.

We don't want to disappoint any of our friends. We want to make enough Stag to satisfy everybody. But at the same time, we refuse to hurry our beer in any way that might alter its character.

So now we're breaking ground for the second huge addition to our brewery. It will be completed this winter and will make the Stag brewery one of the largest in the St. Louis area. We are very grateful to all of our friends who have bought so much Stag Beer that this expansion was necessary.

P.S. You'll really be a Beer Drinker when you stop drinking sweet beers and switch to Stag — H. L. G.

FOOTBALL ALL-STARS REPORT TO BIERMAN

EVANSTON, Ill., Aug. 13.—Grid-iron stars of 1935 from all corners of the country reported to Coach Bernie Bierman of Minnesota and his assistants today to begin organizing for their battle with the Detroit Lions at Soldier Field the night of Sept. 1.

Today's schedule called for a meeting with Bierman, and the other members of the coaching staff, Elmer Layden of Notre Dame, Albin (Bo) McMillin of Indiana, Lou Little of Columbia, and Lynn Waldorf of Northwestern, and the issuing of equipment for practice sessions at Dyche Stadium. The first workout will be held tomorrow. Most of the squad of more than 50 players were already quartered at Northwestern University dormitories, with the rest due to arrive today.

Greentree Has Same Lineup.

The Greentree polo team, national open champions last year, is back with the same lineup for this year's competition. The stars are Pete Bostwick, Tommy Hitchcock Jr., Gerald Balding and Jock Whitney.

YOU NEVER SAW SO MUCH TIRE FOR YOUR MONEY!

Buy THE NEW Firestone STANDARD

FIRST GRADE QUALITY—The new Firestone Standard Tire is built of first grade materials by skilled workmen, in the world's most efficient factories.

GUM-DIPPED CORD BODY—Every cotton fibre in every cord in every ply is soaked in liquid rubber, preventing internal friction and heat, which provides greater strength and blowout protection.

TWO EXTRA LAYERS OF GUM-DIPPED CORDS UNDER THE TREAD—This patented Firestone feature cushions road shocks, protects against punctures and gives longer life.

LONGER NON-SKID MILEAGE—The non-skid tread is wider, flatter, with more and tougher rubber on the road, giving longer wear and thousands of extra miles.

LOW PRICES—Volume production makes these low prices possible.

THE FIRESTONE NAME AND GUARANTEE—Every Firestone Standard Tire bears the Firestone name, your guarantee of greater safety, dependability and economy.

HUSKIES' CREW IS FAVORED TO WIN HONORS IN 8-OARED EVENT

By the Associated Press.

GRUNAU, Germany, Aug. 13.—America's hopes of salvaging any gold medals out of the Olympic waters rested squarely today on the University of Washington's magnificent eight, still unbeaten anywhere this year, after surviving a record-smashing preliminary battle with the pride of Britain's sweep-swinging navy.

For a few moments yesterday it looked as if Washington's huskies had met their match in the great British crew which exceeded itself by leading the Americans from the start of the race to within 100 meters of the finish.

But as Coxswain Bob Moch of Montesano, Wash., said without apologies, "We didn't come to lose," the Huskier lifted their beat up to 42 strokes a minute, overhauled the Britons opposite the grand stand, and beat them by a scant half-length in the unprecedented Olympic time of 6:00.8.

The British also were under the record in 6:02.1, but they had to row again today in quest of a place in the finals, and the extra strain is likely to cook their chances of pressing the Americans so closely again.

The Americans, though worried by the condition of Don Hume of Olympia, Wash., stroke of the crew, not yet recovered from a severe cold and still seven pounds under weight at 158, are regarded as strong favorites to take the premier rowing title tomorrow, with the Europeans fighting it out for the other six Olympic gold medals.

Hume virtually collapsed after the hard race yesterday, but recovered and assured Coach Al Ulbrickson that he would be ready to do it all over again and if necessary sustain the same high beat in the final.

Coach Ulbrickson was frankly surprised by the class shown in the three eight-oared trials, wherein five crews lowered the Olympic mark of 6:03.2 set by the Californians and the British in 1928.

"Under the circumstances, we were pretty lucky to come through that first test and get that extra day of rest," he said.

Unless the British had unusual stamina in addition to sufficient speed to pass the last qualifying test in today's "repechage," the Hungarians are likely to give the Americans their toughest race.

The European champions whipped Italy and Canada decisively, in 6:07.6, and appear capable of slicing several seconds off that mark.

Chilean Heavy Who Stopped Firpo in Three Rounds Plans An Invasion of United States

By Damon Runyon

(Copyright, 1936.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Arturo Godoy, of Chile, now the heavyweight champion of South America, is contemplating a trip to the United States in the near future.

This announcement, a few years ago, would have had the promoters palpitating. Now it will leave them quite cold. South American heavyweights aren't what they used to be in any market.

Arturo Godoy is a rather short fellow, with a fair punch, and considerable ring skill. We saw him fight several times in Florida a number of years back, but he never worked his way north of the Mason and Dixon line.

His latest exploit was the stopping of old Luis Angel Firpo, the erstwhile "Wild Bull of the Pampas," down in Buenos Aires, no considerable feat in itself, perhaps, but noteworthy because it halted "Dead Pan Looey's" comeback, and drew a gate that sounds like old times.

We gather from the accounts in the Buenos Aires newspapers that Firpo topped his own best record for taking knockdowns by hitting the deck eight times in four rounds. If memory serves, he was down seven times in his famous battle with Jack Dempsey.

Then, like Jess Willard the day Dempsey licked him in Toledo and won the heavyweight title, "The Wild Bull" declined to step forward for another round. He retired in his corner, and under the circumstances you can scarcely blame him.

Firpo Did Pretty Well.

As a mater of fact, it strikes us that Firpo did pretty well to last three rounds. He had been out of pugilistic action for nearly twelve years when he decided on a comeback, and he must be 40 years old.

His last fight in this country was with Charley Weinert in 1924. Then he went back to Buenos Aires from which he came in a rubber collar around 1922, and embarked in the automobile business. He must have had plenty of money then. He got some fat purses in the United States, and he was quite provident in those days.

We used to hear occasional rumors of Firpo's return to the ring, but not until a few months ago did he really start a comeback, and it is doubtful if any other fighter in the modern history of the game ever tried a return after so long a layoff, especially at Firpo's age.

He belted out a couple of blokes before he got the match with Godoy, and the gate they drew indicates the hold that "The Wild Bull," even in the sere and yellow of his fistic career, had on the imagination of the South Americans. They packed a big field in Buenos Aires.

A comeback by Gene Tunney would have been more logical than the return of Firpo. "The Wild Bull" had been out of the ring two years before Tunney won the heavyweight title. Between the time of Firpo's retirement and his return, six different men have held the title, including Tunney. It wasn't in the cards for the old boy to get very far, but made the short trip pay.

Godoy Fought in Florida.

Godoy is managed by Louis Bouey, who brought Stanislaus Loayaza, a pretty fair Chilean lightweight, to this country some years ago.

Three or four years ago, Godoy reached Florida by way of Cuba, and did quite a bit of fighting around West Palm Beach and other towns. He knocked out big Ben Logan, Irwin Askenazzy, Tony Ferranti, Joe King, Johnny Hock, and Chick Rains, and he fought ten rounders with Gordon Fortenberry, Cyclone Smith, Frankie Palmo and Frankie Edgren.

Several managers, including Luis Guiterrez, manager of Kid Chocolate, wanted to bring Godoy north, but he finally went back to South America, stopping in Cuba for a couple of fights. He has also done some fighting in Spain.

He boxed Tommy Loughran three times when Thomas was on his South American tour, and the fact that he couldn't do much with the aging Loughran is a line on his general ability. Godoy is in his mid-twenties, and has had considerable experience by now.

STANFORD FRESHMAN AMONG STUDENTS IN CONZELMAN SCHOOL

High schools in Missouri and Illinois will be represented at Coach Jimmy Conzelman's third annual football course for high school players that begins next Monday morning at the Washington University campus.

Jack Grover, Exeter prep quarterback who reports for freshman practice at Stanford in early September, is one of the latest to enroll. The former Kansas City all-star signal caller begins his third year under Conzelman's summer direction. Ralph McKelvey, fullback star on Belleville's strong eleven last fall, is another player who will take part in the course for the third time.

Don Faurot of Missouri University had sent word that he will be in St. Louis August 22 to take charge of the day's instruction. Coach Cecil Mullerleile of St. Louis University and Assistant Coach Gale Bullman of Washington University are also scheduled for several classes.

It is Conzelman's intention to have members of the Bears varsity aid in the individual instruction of the high school boys. The course calls for two sessions a day, with practical work on tackling, blocking dummies, augmenting the theories of class work.

The course is open to high school boys between the ages of thirteen and twenty and is designed to give a comprehensive football background to the young players.

OUT-STATE ENTRIES EXPECTED FOR WOMEN'S GOLF EVENT, SEPT. 14

Many out-of-town entries are expected for the second annual women's Missouri State golf tournament to be held at Algonquin Golf Club Sept. 14-19, due to a good-will tour being made by Mrs. Holbrook Ashton, president of the association.

Mrs. Ashton, who is visiting Kansas City, St. Joseph, Moberly, Joplin, Columbia and other cities, reports that many of the women to whom she has talked have promised to enter the event.

BUFFALO TRAILS ROCHESTER CLUB BY TWO GAMES

By the Associated Press.

BUFFALO, Aug. 13. — Rapidly slashing away at the barrier that separates them from the International league lead, the Buffalo Bisons were only two percentage points away from the league-leading Rochester Red Wings today. By the other system of counting the clubs were in a virtual tie, but the fact Rochester had played two less games counted in the Red Wings' favor.

The pace-setters could get no better than an even break with the cellar-dwelling Syracuse Chiefs last night while the Bisons continued their remarkable winning streak with a 5-4 triumph over Newark, their third straight over the Bears and their 13th in 14 starts.

The Bisons took the home run route to victory after the third-place Bears had scored twice in the opening inning. Frank McGowan tied the count with his 20th four-master in the third; Ed Phillips contributed one in the sixth and finally Johnny Dickshot clouted the winning blow over the fence in the eighth.

Syracuse handed Rochester a 5-1 setback in the opening game when a three-run rally in the eighth broke up a strikeup duel between Stew Bowers and Bob Weiland. The Wings came back swinging and hit Frank Pearce with everything but the bat hag as they romped to a seven-inning 11 to 5 victory on a 17-hit assault that included a homer by Estil Crabtree.

Meanwhile the Baltimore Orioles took another step toward making fourth place safe from Toronto's threats when they trimmed the Maple Leafs for the third successive time, 5 to 2, to increase their margin to two games. The flock got all its runs in the first inning by belaboring Jake Mooty for four hits, to which the Leafs added an error. Sheriff Blake kept things under control for Baltimore with a safe working margin.

Montreal and Albany remained idle.

WAR DEPARTMENT POLO TEAM CAPTURES CUP

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., Aug. 13.—The War Department polo team from Washington, D. C., defeated the Fort Hoyle (Md.) four, 12 to 7 yesterday in the final game of a series for a silver julep cup.

The Fort Hoyle quartette took the first two games.

Leading, 5-0, in the second chukker, the War Department added four points in the third. Lieutenant-Colonel C. H. Franke scored five for the War Department and Brigadier-General Azcarate counted three.

Lieut. Scott rode a beutiful game for Fort Hoyle, scoring four goals.

McHarg Named Coach.

By the Associated Press.

KIRKSVILLE, Mo., Aug. 13.—Lynn (Red) McHarg, Columbia, MIAA all-star center of the Kirksville Teachers, undefeated football teams of 1933 and 1934, has been elected coach of Unionville High School. He also will teach social science.

McHarg assisted Coach Fritz Faurot with the Teachers last year.

Milwaukee Holds 4 1-2 Game Lead In Association

By the Associated Press

CHICAGO, Aug. 13. — Toledo's lowly Mud Hens apparently have found a happy hunting grounds for base hits up in Minneapolis.

After blasting out 24 hits in walloping the Millers Tuesday, Toledo came right back yesterday with a 15-hit assault to make it two in a row over Donie Bush's club, 11 to 8, in an 11-inning struggle. The Hens rammed over six runs in the first inning, but the lead lasted only until the sixth, when Minneapolis scored two runs to take the lead.

Mike Powers' homer tied it up in the seventh and each scored a run in the tenth before the Mud Hens staged a three-run drive in the eleventh to clinch the decision.

Milwaukee retained its four and one-half game lead over St. Paul by outpointing Indianapolis, 7 to 5, as the Saints blanked Columbus, 4 to 0. The Brewers bunched 11 hits off Dizzy Troute, while Clyde Hatter kept 10 Indian safeties fairly well scattered.

John Rigney stopped the Red Bird sluggers with seven hits, spread over six innings, to give St. Paul its first victory of the series with Columbus. Henry Steinbacher, with a double and a single, and Phil Iodt, who connected for a pair of singles, paced the Saints' 10-hit attack on Nelson.

Kansas City knocked over Louisville twice in a night doubleheader, 6 to 3 and 7 to 3. Niggeling hurled steadily to win the first game, and Vance, limiting the Colonels to seven hits in the afterpiece, won it by tripling with the bases filled in the fourth inning. Bit McCulloch, Blues outfielder, combed Louisville pitching for three triples and a homer in the two games.

OPENS A CHECKING ACCOUNT IN THE ★ CheckMaster PLAN

NO MINIMUM BALANCE REQUIRED AT ANY TIME!

For a trifling cost, you enjoy all the conveniences of paying by check, without ever having to "keep up" ANY balance in the account! It's better to pay by check than cash, because it's risky to keep money on hand or carry it around. It's also easier and more economical to issue a check than bother with a money order. Your check for a dollar or $1,000 costs you just a nickel.

Compare: A money order for $2.50 costs 6 cents; for $10, it's 11 cents; a $25 money order costs 15 cents; and so on up to 22 cents for $100.

Besides the economy and convenience, a check is more business-like and makes a better impression than cash or money order — and your CheckMaster check looks just like any other check. You can open a CheckMaster account in person or by mail.

PARIS, Aug. 13.—The Government today barred recruiting in France for Spanish armies.

The Blum Government cannot prevent individual volunteers from crossing the Spanish border, Roger Salengro, Minister of the Interior, said, but mass recruiting will not be permitted.

The decision followed consideration by the Cabinet of questions propounded by Premier Mussolini of Italy on the proposed non-intervention agreement.

Mussolini specifically had brought up the question of recruiting and the collection of funds to help either side in the Spanish rebellion.

The Cabinet decided, Salengro announced, that the Government could not prevent organizations from raising funds for Spain by popular subscription.

Negotiations for the accord on non-intervention in Spain was discussed at length in the Cabinet meeting.

The Foreign Office said Germany's reply as to adherence had not arrived despite Berlin dispatches saying the Government would join in the neutrality proposition.

Salengro said the Cabinet approved his orders sending forces of the Mobile Guard to many Spanish border points where customs guards were swamped by the influx of French and foreign refugees from Spain. He said measures would be taken to provide food and shelter for refugees and facilitate their return home.

Socialist Government to Take Over Control of Bank of France

Labor Leader First Man Named to New Council—Old Board of Regents Apprehensive of Liberal Credit Policies.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, Aug. 13.—The century-old Board of Regents of the Bank of France, abolished because the Government charged it represented an oligarchy dominating French fiscal affairs, will surrender its power tomorrow to a new, Government-controlled council. The Government will appoint most of the 20 council members directly.

Leon Jouhaux, president of the Confederation of Labor, was the first man named to the new bank council. Six other appointments were announced by the Ministry of Finance.

They included representatives of the Ministry, savings banks, consumers' co-operatives, handicrafts, chambers of commerce and chambers of agriculture.

The council is expected to continue the anti-devaluationist policy of the retiring board of the bank which, since the time of Napoleon, has issued the nation's currency and has been the repository for its gold reserves.

Promise on Inflation.

Maintenance of the French franc not only has been a Government policy, financial circles pointed out, but also officials promised to refrain from using the new council's powers for inflation.

Vincent Auriol, Finance Minister, repeated the Government's opposition to inflation when the bill was approved July 16 by a Chamber of Deputies vote of 430 to 111.

The measure fulfilled a campaign promise of Premier Leon Blum, head of the popular front government, to eliminate the so-called "200 families," who it charges controlled the bank.

The change also created such fear for the future of the franc that trading in bank stocks was suspended during some of the Parliamentary debate.

Regents Are Apprehensive.

The Regents professed 'great apprehension" for the nation's financial future. They expressed concern that the new government, if it adopted liberal credit policies, would raise hopes "of generous manna."

The financiers also pointed out that the Senate inserted a provision in the bank reorganization law which forbade discount of Government obligations for the French treasury.

Under another Senate change, two members of the new council will be elected by the bank's shareholders.

The way the others are chosen under the new system is as follows:

The Ministry of Finance names six from a group nominated by commercial organizations; three others are named to represent the Ministries of Finance, National Economy and Colonies; heads of Government financial boards fill six other seats and of the remaining places, one is chosen by the National Economic Council, one by the savings banks, and one by a secret vote of the Bank of France employes. A Governor and two Vice Governors will sit in the council.

Controlled by "200 Families."

Under the bank's expiring 136-year-old control, drawn up by Napoleon, the Board of Regents has been elected since 1800 by the 200 largest stockholders. The Blum campaign attack on the "200 families" came from that rule. The Leftists charged places in the Board of Regents were handed down in family dynasties. The records show there always has been a member of the Mallet banking family, from the Board's founding to Ernest Mallet, the present Regent and fourth in the line.

Because the Regents—and the shareholders who elected them—often were directors in other corporations, banks and insurance companies, the Leftists charged they regarded dividends above the national welfare.

When the bank was organized there were only 300 share holders, so that the 200 largest owners controlled more than two-thirds of the stock. Now there are 40,947 stockholders, of whom 65 per cent, or 26,854, own only one or two shares.

Until now the Governor of the bank has been obliged to own 100 shares of stock. The Leftists contended that rule usually meant an incoming Governor had to borrow money to buy the stock and thus fell under the influence of the Regents and large stockholders.

NEW 'TRAFFIC CONTROL' RULES FOR PLANES

Altitudes of East, West, North and South Airways Fixed as Safety Measure.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—The Bureau of Air Commerce will institute a wider system of aviation "traffic control" Saturday.

Designed to guide planes flying a countrywide network of airways, officials said today, the new regulations fix altitudes at which the craft must fly. They also set up standards for "blind flying" by operators of private planes.

Already the bureau has established "traffic control" stations at the Newark, Cleveland and Chicago airports. It is planning others at Detroit, Pittsburgh, Washington, Los Angeles and San Francisco. These stations will keep track of all planes moving over the airways and may issue radio orders for changes of speed and direction to insure a smooth flow of traffic with maximum safety.

The new regulations require that all westbound planes fly the "air highways" at even altitudes, such as 2000, 4000 and 6000 feet, and that eastbound craft fly at odd altitudes. As an additional safeguard against collisions, planes crossing an airway must fly at altitudes half way between those for west and east bound planes, such as 2500 or 3500 feet.

Several "emergency altitudes" are designed for use whenever two-way radio communication fails.

The new "blind flying" regulations provide that any pilot of a non-scheduled plane seeking to use the designated airways must inform the bureau of his flight plans and must hold a satisfactory "rating" for such flying. The ratings are granted only after pilots have demonstrated their ability through flight tests in hooded cockpits during which they rely entirely on radio and instruments.

To carry out the new program, the bureau has set up a special section of "airway traffic control."

WARNING TO MISSIONARIES

Americans Advised to Leave Eastern Kansu Because of Reds.

By the Associated Press.

NANKING, Aug. 13.—American missionaries were warned by the United States Embassy today to evacuate Eastern Kansu Province where Communists from Sikang are advancing.

The missionaries were told to travel by rafts down the Yellow River because of dangers of bandits on the highways. The Communists were reported pushing northward to join other Red forces in Szechwan Province.

GOV. LANDON COMMENTS ON BORAH'S RENOMINATION

Victory "One of Great Leadership and Statesmanship," Says Presidential Candidate.

By the Associated Press.

ESTES PARK, Colo., Aug. 13.—Gov. Alf M. Landon, in Colorado for a rest, said last night that the victory of Senator William E. Borah in the Idaho primary was "one of great leadership and statesmanship."

Landon paused only briefly in Estes Park village before continuing to his ranch, eight miles away, to join Mrs. Landon and his children.

At Boulder, on the 100-mile automobile trip from Denver, the Governor stopped twice to acknowledge greetings. One stop was at the University of Colorado campus. The other was at the courthouse where a crowd, wearing the Kansas sunflower, awaited him.

TOPEKA, Kan., Aug. 13.—John G. Stutz, Kansas Relief Director, took issue yesterday with published statements attributed to Leslie Doud, editor of the Kansas Labor Weekly.

"Gov. Landon has made no appointments on the Kansas emergency relief committee whatever," Stutz said. "All officers were appointed by Gov. Woodring. Deane Ackers, appointed by Gov. Woodring, is still chairman."

Harry H. Woodring, Assistant Secretary of War, was Governor before Landon. He is a Democrat.

WORLD JEWISH CONGRESS APPROVES GERMAN BOYCOTT

Unanimously Adopts Resolution; Nazis Accused of Developing Racial Hatred in World.

GENEVA, Aug. 13.—A resolution proposing a boycott of German products was adopted unanimously today at the World Jewish Congress.

German national Socialism, said the resolution presented by the Committee on Boycotts, has declared war on the whole Jewish people and in three and one-half years has carried on a war of unexampled severity.

It recited further that the Jewish minority in Germany had been deprived of its most elemental civil rights and had been eliminated from the economic life of the country which drove it back to a new Ghetto.

The resolution charged that German national Socialism had developed an unprecedented propaganda of hatred against Jews over the entire world.

Defeated G. O. P. Pair for Botz.

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 13.—Otto C. Botz of Jefferson City said today he had been promised support by both Claude L. Lambert of Kansas City and James J. Barrett of St. Louis, defeated candidates for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, in his campaign for Governor this fall on the nonpartisan ticket.

FEDERAL REPORT ON SHARECROPPER UP TO GRAND JURY

Cummings Sends Findings —Evidence of Possible Violation of Peonage Laws, He Says.

SURVEY CONFLICTING, HOWEVER, HE THINKS

Aid to Attorney-General Reports Arkansas Flogging Does Not Involve Federal Statutes.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13. — Attorney-General Cummings will send to a Little Rock, Ark., grand jury today a report which he said contained evidence of possible violations of Federal peonage laws by Southern planters.

The report, prepared by Samuel E. Whitaker, a special assistant to Cummings, contained "conflicting" evidence, the Attorney-General said. He declined to explain use of the word "conflicting," but said there was a question as to what Federal laws were involved.

Whitaker's investigation, Cummings added, failed to produce any evidence that a Federal statute had been violated in connection with the alleged flogging of Miss Willie Sue Blagden, Memphis, Tenn., social worker, and the Rev. Claude C. Williams of Little Rock, near Earl, Ark., last June 15.

Evidence on the reported flogging were forwarded a month ago to Gov. Futrell of Arkansas for possible State action, the Attorney-General disclosed.

He named a special assistant, George P. Jones, attached to the Justice Department's criminal division to present the evidence in the peonage cases at Little Rock.

Announcement late yesterday of the department's action was greeted with outward unconcern by Arkansas planters. Miss Blagden, here to lecture on living conditions of Southern cotton workers, said she was "very glad" to hear that the Justice Department was "going to carry on the peonage charges." "There will be full cooperation," she added, "from those of us in sympathy with the sharecroppers."

Val Lorwin, chairman of the committee to aid agriculture workers, struck a different note.

"The thing we want to see most," he said, "is a full and unbiased investigation. We are not satisfied that such an investigation has been made."

The Federal statute which would be invoked by the Government if it should press peonage charges was born of the Civil War. Drawn in 1867, it provides a fine of $5000 or one year in jail for any person causing peonage. The Supreme Court has ruled that peonage is a state of compulsory servise based on indebtedness of a person to his master.

Federal law provides that "the system known as peonage" shall be forever prohibited in the United States. The statute which makes this prohibition declares void all state laws which established or maintained "the voluntary or involuntary service or labor of any persons as peons, in liquidation of any debt or obligation, or otherwise."

Suit for Damages in Flogging of Woman Being Prepared.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 13.—Counsel for the Southern Tenant Farmers' Union said today civil suits seeking damages for the alleged flogging last June of Miss Willie Sue Blagden, Memphis social worker, will be filed soon in Federal Court at Jonesboro, Ark.

Miss Blagden and the Rev. Claude Williams of Little Rock said they were flogged when they went to Earl, Ark., to investigate the reported death of a Negro sharecropper during a strike called by the Tenat Farmers' Union. The attorney for the union said there would be no action on the alleged flogging of Williams, since he is a resident of Arkansas and the Federal Courts would not have jurisdiction in his case.

Attorney-General Cummings said at Washington the Government found no basis for Federal prosecution in the flogging charges.

NOT OVER 100 VOTES BY REED PARTY IN STATE, CLARK SAYS

Senator Has No Doubt of Democratic Victory in Missouri; Comments on Eastern States.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 13. — Senator Bennett Champ Clark said yesterday former Democratic Senator James A. Reed "and his independent party won't poll more than a hundred votes" in Missouri this fall.

"I consider that a liberal estimate," Clark added. "There is no question about Missouri going Democratic this year."

Discussing conditions in the East, Clark said, "I find a distinct edge for Roosevelt in New York and Pennsylvania. In New Jersey we will have to fight; but I think the State will go Democratic."

KING EDWARD TAKES UP YUGOSLAV GAME OF BOTSCH

Watches Contest Then Orders Set Sent to Yacht; Learns About Lobster Fishing.

By the Associated Press.

SIBENIK, Yugoslavia, Aug. 13.—King Edward VIII learned today how to catch lobster and play the Yugoslavian game of botsch. The British monarch, sailing along the coast on a vagabond cruise, gained his knowledge from fishermen and peasants who cheered him at Novigrad. The royal yacht Nahlin started south early today toward Zrmanja.

With the halting assistance of three fishermen the King got information on lobsters and the various kinds of fish in the waters near the coast. He also discussed tackle with them.

Later, on shore, King Edward watched peasants playing botsch. The game is played with three to five men on each side, each equipped with a wooden ball. Each has a turn trying to hit a larger red wooden ball and the side getting the most small balls near the big one is declared the winner.

The King ordered a complete set sent to his yacht.

GERMANY AND AUSTRIA INITIAL TRADE AGREEMENT

Obstacles Blocking Free Travel Removed; Exchange of Quota Increases on Exports.

BERLIN, Aug. 13.—Initialing of an economic accord between Austrian and German ministerial officials was announced here last night.

The signatures were a first step toward facilitating trade between Austria and Germany. They removed obstacles blocking free travel between the neighboring countries and increased such quotas for Austrian exports to Germany as horses, cattle, lumber and dairy produce in exchange for increased coal shipments from Germany to Austria. Further economic arrangements are pending.

BRITISH-EGYPTIAN TREATY COMPLETED; SIGNING AUG. 27

Britain Agrees to Abolish Extraterritoriality If Other Powers Do Likewise.

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, Aug. 13.—The final section of a new British-Egyptian treaty was completed yesterday with the initialing of a clause regarding extraterritoriality of British subjects. It was announced the formal ceremony of signing would be held in London Aug. 27.

Although no details of the agreement were made public political sources said it provided for gradual reduction of British military forces in Egypt after the Egyptian Army is strengthened, for an increase in the British air force strength and for creation of a British naval base at Alexandria.

It was understood Great Britain undertook to abolish extraterritoriality provided other Powers agreed to do so also at a conference to be held in Cairo next January.

DISPUTES PRESIDENT'S FACTS ON BUSINESS

Professor Under Liberty League Auspices, Challenges 'Economic Royalists' Speech.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—The American Liberty League has made public an open letter to President Roosevelt from Dr. Gus W. Dyer, professor of economics at Vanderbilt University, asking for "the specific facts on which you base your most serious charges against American business."

Written from Ridgetop, Tenn., the letter quoted the President's reference to "economic royalists" in his speech accepting renomination, and said:

"You say in your address, 'There was no place among this royalty for our many thousands of merchants who sought to make a worthy use of the American system of initiative and profit.'

"In 1929, 1,543,158 retail stores were in operation in this country. These stores were classified as follows:

"Total number of chain stores (royalists), 144,598.

"Total number of single store independents (little fellows), 1,230,000.

"Total number of two and three-store independents, 64,583.

"Total number independent stores, 1,294,883."

After citing other statistics, Dr. Dyer concluded:

"The figures here given, Mr. President, indicate that the conditions you described in your Philadelphia address do not exist and never have existed, and couldn't exist under the Constitution in this country. The conditions you portrayed exist only in the minds of Socialists, Communists and other radicals who are grossly ignorant of the facts of our industrial life."

THE POST-DISPATCH PLATFORM

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles; that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare; never be satisfied with merely printing news; always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

We Get a Bouquet.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

"A FREE press is a protection of the liberties of a free democracy." We hear this doctrine, dressed up in different language, time and again, and yet we do not often find it demonstrated in a practical way.

Your exposure, first of the small-time swindle in the matter of the insurance code amendment, and again in the registration of ghost voters in the City of St. Louis, is a practical demonstration of this doctrine.

This letter is primarily written to satisfy my own desire to express to you my utter admiration and appreciation of your vigilance in tracing these frauds, your unselfish courage in exposing them, and your persistence in hammering away at the grafters until they were driven to the wall and had to quit.

I know that this may sound mushy, but I have no other way to express what I feel. Except for your work, these grafters would have gotten away with the boodle. And you did it all, notwithstanding and in spite of the indifference of the general public. You did it in spite of the fact that you knew that while you might temporarily raise the mind of the general public to a pitch of resentment, these exposures seem to have no lasting effect.

I think the most discouraging thing to a newspaper willing to expose graft is the utter indifference of the general public.

About every four years, this same public works up some interest in the election of its public officers, usually upon false issues and usually induced by the artificial stimulus of the politicians. Immediately after election is over, this public loses all interest and turns the politician loose to work his will upon the public treasury and graft to his heart's content.

When newspapers like yourself expose at great expense this graft, the general public is very likely to shrug its shoulders, perhaps cynically smile and dismiss the matter with the statement, "Oh, well, it has always been that way and will always be that way."

It is your persistence in the face of this utter indifference and stupidity of the general public that commands my utmost admiration and respect. I think there must be many thousands of other people who feel the same way about it, but hesitate to express it. I just could not keep still.

WALTER ROLAFF.

For Light and Grand Opera.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I SHOULD like very much to see the Municipal Opera return to light opera, for which the open air show place was originally intended.

Certainly such gems as "The Firefly," "Naughty Marietta," "Fortune Teller" and "Nina Rosa" should have a place in the 1937 repertoire.

I should also like to see the association give one week to a grand opera presentation. I could not imagine anything more wonderful than "Madame Butterfly" given from the picturesque stage of the Municipal Theater. R.

For a Secret Ballot.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

AS A READER of your paper for many years, I wish to commend you for your persistence in publishing the names of the four culprit election commissioners daily on your editorial page. I trust that you will continue to do this until you have either succeeded in reforming them, (if such a thing were possible), or else, until your efforts will have become the tombstone on the grave of their political career.

I fear that your success in either event will be of little avail as long as a voter's ballot continues to be marked with a number which corresponds with another number placed behind the said voter's name on the registration books. A city employe, and his host of so-called friends who expect favors of him (at the taxpayer's expense), cannot afford to jeopardize his job by voting against unscrupulous politicians, or against those who are responsible for his appointment, when he knows that his ballot is subject to scrutiny.

A genuinely secret ballot, automatic ballot casting, permanent registration and civil service are all interdependent and essential for securing honest elections and competent officers. DEMOCRAT.

For Old-Fashioned Government.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

WE have the greatest form of government on the face of the earth and, when run by the Republican party and Democrats who value our liberty, it always brings prosperity and happiness.

The New Deal has experimented to our hurt. It destroyed cotton, hogs and cows and reduced crops and borrowed money. It has created bureaus and boards and agencies until our land is full of office-holders and supervisors drawing great salaries. It has spoken against our Supreme Court and Constitution. If it had not been for our Supreme Court, we would by now be helpless. Millions are unemployed and no one seems to know head nor tail about the whole New Deal. I think God is now sending drouth and calamities on the nation as a warning.

Now is the time to return to our old-fashioned government.

W. O. SPRINGER.

Barber, Ark.

AS DEC. 1 APPROACHES.

Chairman Connett of the St. Louis Relief Committee has warned Mayor Dickmann that all local relief funds will be exhausted by Dec. 1. Beginning Oct. 1, only $600,000 of bond issue funds will remain of the $3,600,000 bond issue passed in April, 1935. This $600,000 is sufficient to meet relief needs for only 60 days. No funds are in sight for December, when, with cold weather, relief expenditures soar, or for the following months. The Legislature does not meet until January, and, as Mr. Connett says, "probably could not pass a relief bill until next March or April, so that we must make provision for the entire winter. It becomes the city's responsibility."

Complete financing of local relief has been the city's responsibility since last April, when the funds appropriated by the last Legislature ran out and St. Louis no longer received $300,000 monthly from Jefferson City out of the State sales tax. It has been the city's responsibility since Gov. Park, ignoring a great volume of pleas that he call the Legislature into special session, cavalierly washed his hands of the matter, declaring his belief that relief had ceased to be a state-wide problem.

While the State continues to collect the sales tax, and huge sums of money pour into its treasury, much of it from St. Louis, this city has the job of footing its entire relief bill, without a dime from Jefferson City. It is absurd. It is ridiculous. The Legislature did an incompetent job in drafting a relief measure and the Governor compounded the error by refusing to correct it.

If the City of St. Louis does not put on a terrific battle at the next session to get its share of the sales tax funds, it will deserve the ride for which it is being taken by the State administration.

Meanwhile, relief bankruptcy on Dec. 1 faces us. We have repeatedly urged the Mayor to take decisive action in anticipation of that time. Action now becomes imperative. We offer no concrete suggestion as to the steps to be taken, except that the Mayor should feel free to invite representative citizens to help him work out the problem. It is a hard task that confronts him and one that should be shared by representatives of the community at large.

There are two immediate goals to be attained:

1. Provision of funds to tide us over the emergency period.

2. Formation of battle plans to carry the cause of St. Louis to the Legislature.

FLOUT IS THE WORD.

We do wish the Republicans could get straightened out on the difference between "flout" and "flaunt." Their platform has the Democrats "flaunting" the Supreme Court, which is to say, fluttering the Supreme Court to the breeze. Now comes the Chicago Tribune, quoting on its first page from Gov. Landon's address at the Kansas Diamond Anniversary. "No flaunting of the Constitution, whether by executive evasion, loose legislation," etc., are among the words Col. McCormick's paper attributes to the Republican nominee. The word Gov. Landon and the Republican platform meant to use, of course, was "flout," meaning "to treat with contempt; to insult, to mock." Whatever else comes out of the present campaign, it will not have been in vain if the Republicans can be taught to stop flaunting flaunt and flouting flout.

THE NATIONAL CHAIRMAN.

Chairman Hamilton of the Republican National Committee has had a romantic success in politics. Unknown to the country at large a little while ago, his management of Gov. Landon's pre-convention canvass, with the final strokes at Cleveland, was a masterpiece of strategy and tactics. He had astute associates, of course, who were content to remain in the background while the leader basked in the limelight. Mr. Hamilton continues to occupy the center of the stage.

The first murmur of criticism, as far as we know, appears in David Lawrence's syndicated column. In a friendly spirit, Mr. Lawrence points out that the somewhat prosaic work of organization has not been pressed with the vigor and attention demanded; that it has, in consequence, bogged down, the reason being that Mr. Hamilton has been out on the firing line instead of directing affairs from headquarters. The fact that an office executive has been brought in to get the machinery into action would indicate that the necessity for correcting an unsatisfactory situation has been recognized.

That the office of national chairman is of major, at times of maximum, importance does not have to be asserted. On the incumbent's ability may depend the result of the election. Was not that demonstrated in the campaign of 1916? Legend has charged Mr. Hughes' defeat to that California incident, in which the candidate was placed in the position of snubbing Senator Hiram Johnson. It was an awkward affair, of course, and not without its effect, but the fact is that the Republican chairman had little aptitude for the exacting duties of the post. Indeed, the confusion at headquarters was such as to occasion a flash of temper from the urbane standard bearer himself, on whom devolved, in a measure, the burden of managerial direction in addition to that of party spokesman. Two years later Will Hays stepped out of Indiana on to the national stage during the mid-term congressional campaign and quickly proved himself a field marshal. Had Hays arrived in 1916 instead of 1918, our political history might well have traveled a very different road.

As an orator, Mr. Hamilton is dashingly effective, which is an item of substance, but the job of chairman calls pre-eminently for the vigilance and skill and clockless hours that make the wheels go round.

IN MEMORY OF EUGENE FIELD.

Those who read the Post-Dispatch's story yesterday on the rare collection of Eugene Field relics which has been assembled for the poet's birthplace and childhood home at 634 South Broadway now know what an intimate shrine is in the making. They also must have read between the lines to find that the collection has meant many hours of time and a considerable outlay of money for Jesse P. Henry, who is in charge of the restoration and the outfitting of the museum. The fact is that while some money has been raised through the Board of Education and solicitation of school children for certain costs of the restoration, Mr. Henry has gone into his own pocket repeatedly and is still going into it to meet such expenses as those arising from contacts with the Field family, trips to Wisconsin and Chicago for items for the house, transportation charges on shipments and the like. There should be other St. Louisans interested enough in honoring the memory of Eugene Field to share this expense. Contributions sent to Mr. Henry at the Pierce Building will contribute to a civic asset which will attract countless visitors through the years to come.

A SENSIBLE ATTITUDE.

The Securities and Exchange Commission's investigation of investment trusts is being received variously by objects of the inquiry. As we noted the other day, a shareholder in Equity Corp. has brought suit against the SEC in the District of Columbia Supreme Court to enjoin the inquiry. On the other hand, there is the co-operative attitude of one of the oldest American companies of this sort, Massachusetts Investors Trust of Boston.

The stand taken by this latter company is so weighted with good sense that we quote from the current issue of Brevits, weekly bulletin of Massachusetts Distributors, Inc., the distributing company:

> The purpose of the investigation is simply to provide a basis for recommendations to Congress for regulatory legislation. Such legislation, soundly conceived and embodying proper investor safeguards, should be highly constructive to the investment trust business. From the character of the investigation to date and the experience of the Massachusetts Investment Trust management with the investigating authorities, there is every reason to expect the SEC recommendations will be in the interests of investors.
> The airing of the mistakes and unsound practices of the gilt era of investment trust financing during 1927-29 is necessary in order to provide a background for legislation for preventing repetition of past mistakes and possible future abuse. There will undoubtedly be some confusion of the facts by the press and through propaganda designed to cloud the issues involved. This, however, is a natural accompaniment to an investigation of this type and magnitude. The aim of the investigation is a laudable one and the administration is not hostile to investment trusts which serve a useful purpose and are conducted on a sound basis.

This is essentially what the Post-Dispatch was saying in other words last Saturday: "The investment trust which is providing the small investor, or any investor, with a useful service at a reasonable cost and at the same time keeps in mind its responsibility to employ 'other people's money' fairly and honestly, should have nothing to fear from this investigation." It is good to have the testimony of one of the leading investment trusts in support of this position.

Incidentally, here is further proof that the final test of a law is its administration. The generally wise way in which the Securities and Exchange Commission has administered the duties intrusted to it by Congress has won it widespread respect among many who were at first apprehensive, not to say afraid, of what it might do.

NOTE ON THE YOUNGEST SENATOR.

Young Rush Dew Holt of West Virgina, "baby" of the Senate in age, must be a disappointment to many who were holding out high hopes for him two years ago. The summer of 1934 saw him, then barely 29, winning the Democratic nomination for the Senate, although not old enough to take his seat should he be elected. The next November he defeated a sitting Republican member, Henry D. Hatfield, by approximately 70,000 votes. Then for most of the session he sat on the side lines, waiting for his thirtieth birthday and an opportunity to take the oath. As a Senator he has spent much of his time in a factional row with the other West Virginia Senator, Matthew M. Neely, who was a West Virginia Mayor when Rush Holt was a babe in arms.

Now the 31-year-old Senator has taken up with the Townsend-Lemke-Coughlin combination, and, so it has been announced, will deliver the keynote address for the convention of the radio priest's National Union for Social Justice Friday in Cleveland. The latter connection will be variously viewed, according to one's opinion of Father Coughlin. To many it will be an indication that the promise of the "promising" young Senator is far from fulfillment.

FLATTENING CORRUPTION.

Observing the local grand jury's investigation of the registration frauds, the Kansas City Times asks: "What of Kansas City?"

Kansas City will, of course, have to find the answer. It might be remarked, though, that the grand jury, as an institution, has pretty well ceased to function in Kansas City. By way of evidence, there is the statement of the foreman of a Jackson County grand jury, some two years ago, that it was merely "a gesture at law enforcement." The second item was the reported statement of a United States District Court to a Federal grand jury that no help could be expected from the Police Department.

That the Pendergast machine rules Kansas City by fraud and violence, as instanced in the Times' forceful summary of the situation, cannot be questioned. Nothing short of an uprising by the decent citizenship of Kansas City will overthrow the despotism now in arrogant power. It may be taken for a certainty that, sooner or later, that uprising will occur.

Meantime, Missouri could, with a word, blow St. Louis' organized political corruption into the river and, at the same time, encourage Kansas City to start its war. If Gov. Park would summarily remove the St. Louis Election Commissioners on the ground of proved unfitness, and appoint a new board, the effect would be electrifying, not only in St. Louis and Kansas City, but throughout the whole State. Such action would be a kayo for political corruption. That would be landing "on the button," on the solar plexus and the Achilles heel, all at once.

AN ACTRESS SAYS GOOD-BY.

Ethel Barrymore's retirement from the stage, as informally reported, will invite a graying generation to a stroll down the evergreen paths of reminiscence. What "a blessed damozel" she was in her youth and beauty and bewitching talent, and so endeared to the public by a family tradition unique in the annals of the American theater! Other actresses have inspired affection and admiration, but was there ever another so joyously adored as this "phantom of delight when first she gleamed upon our sight"? The larcenous years may rob us of all our illusions, but there are memories burglarious time cannot embezzle. Among them is the Ethel Barrymore of hallowed long ago.

Among the horrors of war in Spain is the prospect that California will have to produce all our Spanish sherry.

A Conservative Speaks

Former radical says wealth is more widely diffused under capitalism, contrary to Marxian theory; democracy continues to flourish in capitalistic countries; cites evils of capitalism, such as monopoly, bureaucracy and excessive wealth, but points out remedies by which capitalism can be made to work beneficently for all.

George E. Sokolsky in the Atlantic Monthly.

I SPEAK as a Conservative. In my youth I ran the gamut of revolutionary movements. Anarchist, pacifist, I. W. W. sympathizer, I have sought this path and that to a better, a more commodious life, not only for myself, but for all men.

Let no man think of me as a Tory, as a Bourbon, as a heartless marauder in a predatory world. For I have nothing to defend—not even chains to lose.

In terms of goods, poverty has been most general in non-capitalistic countries. For the immediate objective of capitalism is that standards of living shall ever be on the rise. More particularly, capitalism seeks that the purchasing capacity of a constantly increasing number of purchasers shall ever be on the rise.

Mass production, modern merchandising, advertising, the creation of new commodities, the popularization of old ones, have but one objective—namely, increased usage, increased consumption. And in pursuance of this single objective it has become altogether clear, beyond the barest shadow of a doubt, that not the expensiveness of a commodity but its cheapness makes it of greater value to its producer. The less it costs to buy an article, the more readily that article comes within the purchasing power of an increasingly large number of people.

This, then, is the only economic system in which it is possible to give practical application to the moral dictum of the greatest good for the greatest number without utilizing political disturbance as a means to that end. In this alone, if in nothing else, capitalism justifies itself.

It is evident from this statement of the situation that in capitalistic production it is essential for wealth, in the sense of purchasing power, to be widely diffused. Thus, contrary to Marxian theory, in the United States the ownership of wealth is more widely diffused than in any other country on earth.

Three specific characteristics mark the operations of the capitalist system at its best:—

(1) A higher return to the investor than he can receive from economic passivity, as when he invests in Government bonds for security only.

(2) Wages so scientifically just that the purchasing power of the worker constantly increases.

(3) An adequate return to the farmer so that manufactured goods and the benefits of urban living are more generally available to him.

These three characteristics are normal in the United States.

The relationship between democracy and capitalism is not an inherent one, but this is a self-evident truth: democracy continues to flourish in countries where capitalism is most developed; it declines and disappears in those countries where the capitalist system is underdeveloped or does not exist.

In Communist, Fascist, and precapitalist countries, democracy does not exist.

To those for whom political liberty as enunciated, for instance, in the Constitution of the United States has no significance, the preservation of democracy is futile. But the current view of the world forces the overwhelming conviction that for the individual man there can be no will, no personality, no character, almost no value in life, unless he enjoys that liberty.

The capitalist system is by no means perfect. It is an evolving, changing, flexible process of production and distribution. Like every dynamic human experience, it contains within itself the germs of its own destruction, and against the spread of these germs we who seek to conserve the benefits of the system must be eternally vigilant. These evils may be summarized as follows:—

(1) The principal weakness of capitalism is a tendency to monopoly. Large-scale production, the control of capital by banking groups, government price-fixing as under the NRA, control of operations during wars, the nationalistic stabilization of essential industries, are but a few of the causes which may result in monopoly.

(2) The tendency to bureaucracy is not only evident in government, but in business as well. After the initial pioneering group has disappeared from an enterprise the organization tends to become stabilized into a more or less self-perpetuating bureaucracy in which seniority rather than capacity marks men off for advancement.

In the capitalist system there is no room for uncompetitive overhead, and that is what a bureaucracy represents.

(3) Excessive wealth often defeats itself in Caligulan exhibitionism. Really the evil is limited to the individual. In fact his excesses, in economics, act as a means for a swifter redistribution of wealth.

(4) Under both Communism and Fascism, class distinctions are inevitable, whereas we seek to avoid class distinctions altogether.

As beneficial as this is to the individual in a democratic state, it has this essential weakness, that when an attack is made upon the capitalist system there are no capitalists to defend it, and when an attack is made on democracy there are no democrats to defend it. That sounds like a rhetorical inexactitude, but when we look at current literature, at current lecturing, even at the current drama, the emphasis is all in opposition and the defensive forces are weak. Even the so-called free press, even the great capitalistic monthlies, publish vicious, unjustified, and badly conceived attacks on the very system which keeps them alive.

The objective should be the improvement of the capitalist system and the conserving of democracy.

First comes the whole problem of employment. In the United States unemployment and re-employment during the depression and the recovery have been considered politically. Both have become political weapons for the destruction and retention of political power.

The fact that no one in the United States knows how many unemployed there are as compared with the unemployed in 1929 is not only astonishing, but a self-evident criticism of government.

An employment census is the most essential economic step which can be taken in the United States today.

Secondly, in the United States we face the specific task of restoring orderly processes of democratic government. These processes have become disorganized and confused by the depression and the assumption of emergency permissive powers.

Thirdly, we have set up a form of relief to care for our marginal population. The problem is so to reorganize relief activities that they become focused on their own elimination.

Fourthly, restrictions placed upon economic activity, particularly state-imposed rigidities and exorbitant taxation, prevent private industry from expanding sufficiently to re-employ the total number of unemployed. These restrictions should be removed as rapidly as possible.

Finally, capitalism depends for its advance upon the stimulation and expansion of markets. In the United States this is always possible if prices are brought down so that increasingly numerous brackets of the population find that their purchasing power available for greater consumption. But stimulation and expansion must be left to the ingenuity and inventiveness of private enterprise and to the competitive process.

The Employment Puzzle

From the Memphis Commercial Appeal.

BUSINESS in general is moving steadily and rather swiftly back toward what we consider normal. The pages of the newspapers, the stock market quotations, bank clearings and all sorts of barometers record the improvement. Not even the summer season, coupled with a presidential campaign, has stopped the onward movement, and, in general, the attitude is one of optimism rather than otherwise.

The thing that frankly puzzles a great many observers is the fact that re-employment does not seem to them to be keeping pace with the upswing otherwise. More people are getting jobs, of course, but the rate does not appear to be as rapid as should be the case.

Explanations are many. One is along the line of thought that holds machines are doing so much of the work of the world that every nation is faced, for the time being, with permanent unemployment in the sense that there is no place for people in the lines they have formerly followed. This argument disregards the fact that machines ordinarily create more jobs than they destroy.

Then, it is insisted that employers are postponing by making employes work longer hours and that the only remedy is a shorter work week, made compulsory.

None of these arguments holds up all the way along, however, and that fact leads straight to a reminder of how foolish it is that we have battled along in the dark for several years past when a bona fide census of unemployment would have shed a lot of light. The fact is that no one knows even nearly how many people are unemployed or how many unemployable. There is likewise no adequate body of data on any single phase of the proposition. It will remain a puzzle as long as that is so.

It all adds up to the conclusion that a reliable census of unemployment would probably be the most helpful thing the country could have in many respects.

HOW TO KEEP COOL ON A HOT DAY.

From the Toronto Daily Star.

ABOUT as good a way as any for keeping cool on a hot day is to be absent from the city on holiday, not learning that the day had been particularly hot until reading of it in the newspaper next day.

It had been our intention to go into the matter at greater length, but find that we cannot think of any other way of keeping cool on a hot day.

OPIE READ AT 83 LOOKS BACK ON HIS BUSY LIFE

Recalls Narrow Escape in Civil War and Interview Years Later, With Grant.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—Opie Read, noted wit and author, is 83 years old but he says he does not "know what it means to be tired."

At his home on Chicago's South Side he reads, often lying in bed with a book until 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning; listens to radio music—"my hearing is as good as it was when I was a boy"; takes daily exercise in walking, and eats pretty much what he pleases.

It was only recently that he gave up golf, because "the course was too far away and usually so crowded."

He no longer smokes his large curved and charred pipe. "I stopped smoking 10 years ago," he said, "chiefly because I thought tobacco might impair my memory."

6 Feet 3 Inches Tall.

Of unbowed stature—he's 6 feet 3 and of sturdy frame—Read sat in an easy chair. His chin tucked into the folds of his Windsor tie as he discussed many matters with the interviewer.

"Wouldn't it be wonderful if Plato and a Socrates were here," he said, "and if we could walk up and down with them and talk with them as men did in old Greece?" Plato is one of his favorite philosophers because "he is so clear."

"Some say 'a dog dies, a man dies—what's the difference?'" Read continued. "My answer is: Has a dog produced a 'republic?' Has an animal created such things as 'dialogues' or 'Hamlet?' Each man mind is part of an immortality, though we may not know precisely what that immortality is."

His conversation was filled with quotable sayings:

"One new thought in a day makes all that we endure worth while. Even a new worry is worth nothing.

"Many a man surprises himself with a sensatice thought. We know so little about ourselves."

"True thought is a spear that stabs arrogance."

"Poetry is the impulsive rhythm of thought."

"Humor is the smile of philosophy at play."

Favorite Book and Play.

The greatest book, in his opinion, is Taine's 'History of English Literature," because 'it has all the great English books in it."

The foremost play, to Read's way of thinking, is Shakespeare's "Henry IV." "There's so much human nature in it."

What man or men exercised the greatest influence on him?

"Certain men I never heard of before or since. I remember a shoemaker I knew when I was a boy. He used to sit in his shop with his mouth full of wooden pegs. Every time he removed a peg a new thought came with it."

His most "thrilling" experience, he said, was when as a youngster in Tennessee he rode into a battle behind a Confederate bugler who was killed. As Read told it: "I got a canteen of liquor from a Negro and gave it to the bugler to let me ride behind him in a fight with the Federals. In the thick of the scrap I felt blood on my hand and saw the soldier slumped over. I guided the horse to a barn, the bugler fell off and I ran home. A buckle on the bugler's uniform prevented the bullet from going through me, too."

A General Grant Story.

One of his most interesting interviews, he related, was with General Grant. "It was at Little Rock after Grant had returned from Europe. I persisted in trying to reach him and, finally was ushered to his hotel room. He said: 'I was curious to see the kind of human being who is a human being, who insists on seeing me when I do not want to see anyone.' I told him I had

I persisted in trying to reach him and finally was ushered to his hotel room. He said: 'I was curious to see the kind of human being, if he is a human being, who insists on seeing me when I do not want to see anyone.' I told him I had no wish to discuss politics, but that I knew hundreds of thousands of boys would want to know what was Gen. Grant's first ambition and how he attained it. Well, he softened and told me that he had first wanted a pony, and used the first money he earned by carrying water from a town pump to a store, to apply on the purchase price."

The conversation reverted to literature:

"I should have mentioned 'Pilgrim's Progress,' too," Read said. "Just think of it. Bunyan had command of only about 700 words, and out of that vocabulary came that fine book. How often have you heard someone say 'If I only had a vocabulary to express myself.' Fact is, many have more words than ideas. Nearly every great writer could have cut his vocabulary in half without hurting himself a bit."

Born in Tennessee.

Born in Nashville, Tenn., Dec. 22, 1852, Read was reared and received his formal education in that state. He started in newspaper work in Franklin, Ky., and moved later to Little Rock where he edited the Arkansas Gazette from 1878 to 1881. In 1883 he established the humorous Arkansas Traveler, considered the cornerstone of his fame. He came to Chicago in 1891.

Read said his newest book, "Satan's Side of It: Autobiography of the Devil as Dictated to a Sinner," was under consideration for motion picture purposes and would be published as a book later. He is the author of "A Kentucky Colonel," "The Jucklins," "An Arkansas Planter," "The Starbucks," "I Remember" and many other books.

THIRTY CHILDREN TO SING IN "RED MILL" NEXT WEEK

Ages Range From 4 to 10; Dutch Costumes Designed for Them.

About 30 St. Louis children, between the ages of 4 and 10, will take an active part in next week's Municipal Opera presentation, Victor Herbert's "The Red Mill." Dutch costumes have been designed for them. The children will appear in the songs, "Because You're You" and "In Old New York."

They have been trained by the St. Louis Academy of Allied Arts. The children are Rosalee Fuchs, Esther Averbach, Betty Lou Sutter, Betta Lou Berra, Mary Jane Rannells, Betty Jane Helfer, Georgia Phyllis Luckett, Grace Riedy, Joan Sellenriek, Irene Wisneswski, Myerna Fisher, Gloria Vie, Marjorie Fielding, Patsy Mae Curry and Mary Sue Curry, Carl Luckett, Ted Komen, William Besch, Thomas Cain III, Howell Word, Harold Bell, Jack Koslow, Billy Moser, Miles Holt, Bob Reinert, Marvin Weinshelbaum and Richard Cudahee.

With "Red Mill" having a story that appeals to children as well as to adults, the Municipal Opera has announced that the operetta will include novelties especially pleasing to children.

MRS. CLARE WHITE MORRILL BURIED IN BELLEFONTAINE

Services for Widow of Frisco Railway Vice-President Held at Home of Son.

Funeral services for Mrs. Clara White Morrill, who died Sunday at York Harbor, Me., were held this morning at the home of her son, Charles H. Morrill, 4534 West Pine boulevard, with burial in Bellefontaine Cemetery.

Mrs. Morrill, widow of Maj. Henry L. Morrill, a member of the First Iowa Cavalry in the Civil War, and later vice-president and general manager of the St. Louis-San Francisco Railroad, had been spending the summer at Ogunquit, Me., when she became ill. She was 90 years old.

Besides her son, who is an insurance broker and former chairman of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce, Mrs. Morrill is survived by two daughters, Miss Grace Morrill, with whom she lived at the Park Plaza Hotel, 220 North Kingshighway, and Mrs. Osborn van Brunt of Bronxville, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred C. Eppley, 438 Columbia place, East St. Louis, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary Sunday at their home with their five children and seven grandchildren. Mr. Eppley, a foreman, is 73 years old and his wife 72.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

MRS. JOSEPH L. CHAMBERS, 4969 Pershing avenue, is spending the summer at the Hotel del Coronado, Coronado, Cal. She has been there since the early summer, will be away until fall.

Miss Delphine Polk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Julius Polk of Florissant, and granddaughter of Mrs. Chambers, left early this month to visit Miss Jean Kiley of Boston, a frequent visitor here, who is spending the season with her family at their summer home at Osterville, Mass. Miss Polk will be in New York to meet her sisters, Miss Grizelda and Miss Alicia Polk on their return from Europe. For some time they have been visiting their aunt, Mrs. Claude Chichester of Tile Barn Farm, Upton Grey, Basingstoke, England. They will sail for home from England Monday. Miss Grizelda Polk will be presented to society this coming season.

William Julius Polk Jr., and Victor Davis will leave Saturday by motor for the East. Mr. Polk will visit Hamilton Wright at Hempstead, L. I., and Mr. Davis will join his mother, Mrs. J. Lionberger Davis at her summer home at Quoque, L. I.

Mrs. Paul Bakewell Jr., 5505 Lindell boulevard, her daughter, Miss Mary Caroline Bakewell, and her son, Francis F. Bakewell, will be home this evening from their summer trips. They visited Pointe-Aux-Barques, Mich., Atlantic City, N. J. and New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold T. Jolley, 50 Kingsbury place, arrived in St. Louis last night from New York. They landed there Tuesday on the Santa Elena on a cruise from California.

Mr. and Mrs. Hayward Gatch, 1 Lenox place, have gone from Watch Hill, R. I., to Swampscott, Mass., for the remainder of the summer. In the Rhode Island resort they visited Mrs. Gatch's father, Col. Joseph Gilman Miller. In Swampscott they will be the guests of Mr. Gatch's father, Elias S. Gatch. His son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson B. Gatch, 47 Portland place, and his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lockwood Hill, are also with him.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Maestre, 4393 Westminster place, plan to leave Friday, Aug. 21, for a six weeks' trip through the West. They will stay for a time at Valley Ranch, near Santa Fe, N. M., later visiting in Taos, N. M., the Yosemite Valley and California. After stops at Victoria and Vancouver, they will return by way of Banff and Lake Louise in the Canadian Rockies.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert M. Keller of Carrswold, and his mother, Mrs. Ida Keller, who have been spending the summer in Swampscott, Mass., will leave there the last of this month to spend a few days in New York before returning home.

Mrs. Arthur H. Feuerbacher Jr., 7521 Buckingham drive, and Mrs. Joseph W. Folk, will leave St. Louis today for North Michigan resorts. Mrs. Feuerbacher will stop for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John David Ferguson in Charlevoix, where her husband will join her and accompany her home. Mrs. Folk will go on to Wequetonsing, to be with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bailey Jamison.

The wedding of Miss Harriet Anne Sullivan, daughter of Mrs. Daniel Sullivan, 7018 Lindell boulevard, and Dr. Louis A. Reuter will take place Tuesday at 8:30 o'clock mass at Our Lady of Lourdes church. The Rev. Francis J. O'Connor will officiate.

Miss Sullivan has chosen as her only attendant her cousin, Miss Emma Lucy Stuever, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Steuver, with whom the prospective bride and her mother make their home. Miss Steuver will make her debut this fall.

Dr. James A. Ready will be best man. The ushers are to be Harry Hageman and Lawrence Schleicher.

Immediately following the ceremony, there will be a wedding breakfast at the Glen Echo Country Club for the two families and a few close friends. The young pair will depart afterwards for a honeymoon trip to Bermuda. They will make their home at 444 Hanley road.

The prospective bride was graduated from Maryville College. Dr. Reuter is a graduate of the St. Louis University Medical School, and the son of Mrs. J. H. Reuter, 4227 Russell boulevard.

MR. AND MRS. ADALBERT VON GONTARD of Huntleigh Village will entertain 25 guests at a dinner party tonight in the garden of their home.

Monday night Mr. and Mrs. von Gontard will give a dinner at their home in honor of Mrs. E. Dick Slaughter of Dallas, Tex., who is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Adolphus Busch III and Mr. Busch at their home, Grant's Farm. Twenty guests have been invited.

Col. and Mrs. John Neal Hodges, 370 Walton avenue, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Mollie Hodges, and John Knight of Grand Rapids, Mich. The wedding will take place in the fall.

The prospective bride, who moved to St. Louis from New Orleans about a year ago, attended Holton Arms in Washington, and the McGhee School in New Orleans. At present she is visiting in Charlevoix, Mich., where she will remain until late this month. Part of the time she was a guest of Miss Elizabeth Clark at the summer home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Vernon Clark. The Clark family and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Delano Avery, the latter formerly Miss Elizabeth Bemis, are also close friends of Mr. Knight, who has spent many summers in Charlevoix. He is a graduate of Culver Military Academy and of the University of Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Hellrung, 6330 Forsythe boluevard, are spending a month at the Belvedere Hotel in Charlevoix, Mich. Their son, Francis Hellrung, will join them soon for the rest of the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis M. Stewart, 10 Algonquin lane, Webster Groves, and their daughters, Miss Peggy and Miss Louise Stewart, arrived home yesterday from a trip abroad. They landed in New York Tuesday on the Queen Mary.

Miss Mary Lou Tindall has returned to St. Louis after a visit with her father, Maj. R. G. Tindall, at Estes Park. Until time for her return to Washington, where she will again attend Trinity College, she will be with her grandmother, Mrs. W. H. Smith, 5545 Cates avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Bardenheier Jr., 4 Sunset Court, Normandy, their daughter, Ann Clara, and Mrs. Bardenheier's brother, A. C. Leber Jr., left last week for Douglas, Mich., where they will spend several weeks.

THE engagement of Miss Adrienne Fabacher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Fabacher of New Orleans, La., and William G. Vollmer Jr. of St. Louis, was announced yesterday at the Fabacher summer home at Biloxi, Miss. News of the engagement was contained in notes received by relatives and friends here yesterday. The wedding will take place in the early fall.

The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Vollmer, 6942 Waterman avenue. He attended St. Louis University High School and Notre Dame College at South Bend, Ind. He left last week for the Fabacher summer home and will remain there about 10 days.

Miss Fabacher is related to St. Louisians and has visited here frequently. Her mother was Miss Clementine Trorlicht, whose twin sister, Miss Laura, later became Mrs. Max William Feuerbacher Sr., 3551 Sidney street. On her most recent visit to St. Louis the prospective bride was an attendant in the wedding of her cousin, Max William Feuerbacher Jr. and Miss Virginia Weidemueller which took place late in April. Mr. and Mrs. Feuerbacher Jr. are visiting Miss Fabacher in Biloxi at the present time.

Miss Fabacher was educated at St. Mary's College in Indiana, where she met her fiance. Her father is president of the Jackson Brewing Co., the largest in New Orleans.

Mr. and Mrs. Vollmer, parents of the prospective bridegroom, returned to St. Louis recently after a three weeks' motor trip to Canada.

Miss Virginia Lee Gorly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent J. Gorly, 4550 St. Louis avenue, was married to Thomas John McDermott, son of Mr. and Mrs. James McDermott, 4512 Laclede avenue, at the Church of the Blessed Sacrament this morning at 7:45 o'clock. The Rev. John W. Marren officiated. Miss Noma Mattingly was the bride's only attendant. William Burns was best man. The ceremony was followed by a breakfast at Hotel Statler for about 50 guests.

The altar was decorated with palms of white lilac, white gladioli and white larkspur and lighted by candles. At the entrance of the chancel were four large baskets of white summer blossoms.

Mr. Gorly gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a tunic gown of gray crepe designed with a round neckline banded with black astrakhan and long tight sleeves. The street-length skirt had triangular-shaped pockets of the fur and the vest was of blue satin. The bride wore a hat of gray felt trimmed with an ornament of feathers in several shades of blue. She wore a shoulder corsage of orchids. The maid of honor wore dark green crepe with a small green felt hat and a corsage of gardenias. Mrs. Gorly was gowned in flowered chiffon trimmed with violet chiffon. She wore a black hat and a corsage of gardenias. Mrs. McDermott, mother of the bridegroom was in black chiffon with a black hat. She wore gardenias.

A wedding breakfast was served in the Adams room of the hotel. Baskets of white gladioli and white larkspur against greenery were used in decoration. The guests were seated at a U-shaped table decorated with bouquets of white larkspur, white gladioli, lilies of the valley and deep orange sprays of bird of paradise flowers.

After a short honeymoon Mr. McDermott and his bride will live at 4560 St. Louis avenue. She is a graduate of Visitation Academy and he is a graduate of Christian Brothers' College.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl G. Stanza, 7201 Greenway street, University City, and their two children, are making an extended visit at the Del Mar Club, Santa Monica, Cal.

Of interest to St. Louisans is the engagement of Miss Helen Bernice Levin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin S. Levin, 6136 Waterman avenue, and Edward J. Goldman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel D. Goldman of Los Angeles. The announcement was made recently in Los Angeles at a luncheon at the Ambassador Hotel.

Miss Levin is visiting in Los Angeles, but expects to return home the latter part of this month. She attended the School of Fine Arts of Washington University. Mr. Goldman formerly resided at the home of his grandfather, Morris Goldman, 5572 Waterman avenue.

A. J. Brauer Jr., Lockwood and Berry road, Webster Groves, and James Marra, 5952 Clemens avenue, left Saturday for a two weeks' vacation in Grand Haven, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cannon of the Greystone Apartments have returned after a trip by automobile to Michigan resorts.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Solari, 7060 Washington boulevard, and Frederick C. Bright, 7526 Wydown boulevard, will leave today by automobile for Les Cheneaux Islands, Mich., where they will remain until after Labor day.

107 PRINTS ON VIEW AT CITY ART MUSEUM

Chosen From Lithographs and Wood Cuts Shown at Chicago Institute.

A representative selection of 107 prints from the Fifth International Exhibition of Lithography and Wood Engraving is on exhibiton at the City Art Museum in Forest Park. The prints were assembled by the Art Institute of Chicago and shown there Nov. 1 to Jan. 6.

The collection is in the downstairs galleries of the Art Museum and will remain on view until Sept. 13. The prints were chosen from the 326 in the Chicago show so as to include representation from each of 16 countries and to give a balanced impression of the original jury selection.

The fifth in the series of lithography and wood engraving exhibitions stands out from its predecessors in the quality of the use of lithography in the American group, a spokesman of the Art Museum pointed out.

"At last it may be said that there are a significant number of artists who have come to realize the potentialities of this pliable medium and have made more of it than a simple juxtaposition of blackest black against whitest white," he said.

Attention of visitors has been directed to Charles Locke's "Docks," which won the prize offered by Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Logan in Chicago. Other outstanding individual prints are those by Agnes Miller Parker, Tom Chadwick and Hughes-Stanton of England. Their work is said to show a high level of technical excellence.

Poland, Hungary and Mexico are among the countries represented in the exhibition. Orozco and Charlet of Mexico have several striking lithographs. Prints by Andre Derain, Leopold Survage, Louis Joseph Soulas and others are included in the group from France. From Germany there is work by Hans Fischer, Hedwig Heise-Kruse and Karl Hofer.

The jury which selected the original show was composed of Henry Keller, Cleveland lithographer and painter; William Zorach, sculptor and teacher of New York, and Morton D. Zabel, Chicago teacher and writer on art.

FINER INGREDIENTS..A SPECIAL RECIPE

...Millions prefer it!

● No matter how enthusiastic you may be about whatever dressing you are using . . . no matter whether that dressing is one you make or one you buy . . . still you really ought to try Miracle Whip.

For millions of discriminating women agree that until they tasted Miracle Whip they just didn't know how good salad dressing can be!

A wholly new type of salad dressing, Miracle Whip is so different, so wonderfully delicious, that it simply cannot be judged by other dressings . . . least of all by ordinary commercial mixtures.

Miracle Whip is neither a boiled dressing nor a mayonnaise, but a combination of the two. Its special recipe calls for an abundance of the costly, choice ingredients . . . the very ingredients that many makers of salad dressings deliberately cut down on.

Not too oily, not too tangy, not too bland, Miracle Whip has a glorious flavor. And, mixed a special way that's exclusive with Kraft, it is uniquely smooth and creamy. Try Miracle Whip tomorrow. You'll find it at your dealer's, very moderately priced.

THE WORLD'S LARGEST-SELLING SALAD DRESSING!

DELMONICO SALAD

Romaine.
One-half cup shredded pineapple.
One-half cup diced celery.
One can cherries.
One package cream cheese.
One-half cup pecan meats.
Three-fourths cup fruit salad dressing.
One-half cup cream, whipped.

Remove seeds from cherries, fill half with cheese and other half with nuts. Combine with pineapple, celery. Fold whipped cream into dressing, add fruits and freeze until hard enough to cut. Cut into squares and serve on crips romaine.

Norwegian Spread.

Make a paste by mashing sardines thoroughly. Spread this sardine paste lightly on bread or toast—then spread again with chopped broiled bacon which has been mixed with mayonnaise.

HE MADE A TEN-YEAR TEST WITH ALL-BRAN

Say good-bye to the headaches, the low spirits, the sleeplessness that often follow common constipation. Just read this letter:

"In 1926, I started using ALL-BRAN. And now, after ten years, during which I have put Kellogg's ALL-BRAN to a long, hard test, I am writing you this letter. It is better to eat this food and be in condition, than to resort to laxatives." —Bernard Altman, 63 Goodale Road, Mattapan, Mass.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN will help you too. Its "bulk" absorbs moisture within the body, forms a soft mass, gently cleanses the system. Tests prove it is safe and effective.

ALL-BRAN is guaranteed. Try it a week. If not satisfactory, your money will be refunded by the Kellogg Company.

Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily. Either as a cereal, or in recipes. How much better to use this food than to take patent medicines. Buy ALL-BRAN at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

PEACHES MAKE OCCASIONS FOR RED-LETTER DESSERT DAYS

Families cherish as red letter days the occasions when a dessert they really love to eat puts in an appearance. Every day, of course, can't be a red letter day, but when fresh peaches are in season the housewifely batting average in champion desserts is likely to reach a new high.

Peach Tarts Glace.

Six fresh peaches, sliced, or three cups sliced peaches
Two-thirds cup sugar
One package orange-flavored gelatin
One and one-half cups warm water
Dash of salt
One cup cream, whipped
Nine baked three and one-half inch tart shells.

Combine peaches and sugar and let stand 10 minutes. Dissolve gelatin in warm water. Add salt and pour over peaches. Chill until gelatin begins to thicken. Fold four tablespoons thickened gelatin into whipped cream. Chill. Place layer of whipped cream in bottom of each tart shell. Chill about 10 minutes. Cover with layer of jellied peaches, arranging slices in attractive design. Add thickened gelatin to fill tart.

Peach and Grape Temptation.

One package raspberry-flavored gelatin
One pint warm water
One cup halved white grapes, seeded
One cup diced peaches.

Dissolve gelatin in warm water. Chill. When slightly thickened, fold in fruit. Turn into ring mold. Chill until firm. Unmold. Serves eight.

Reading in Bed.

Reading in bed need not be harmful with adequate and proper lighting.

PEACH DESSERTS ARE STILL POSSIBLE

Despite Shortage Caused by Frost Here Shipped Fruits Are in the Market.

While home-grown peaches this season are nowhere to be found, does not mean that we must go without our favorite peach dishes. Shipped fruits are plentiful and we can still have our favorite desserts.

If your peach recipes stop at pies, tarts and shortcake then you have been missing a great deal. Peaches are really quite versatile and lend themselves to many dishes. They may be fried and served with meats, served up in salads, icebox cakes, mousses or in turnovers.

The technique for handling them is not extraordinary, and even the newest cook may try her hand and turn out delicious dishes.

Peacch Mousse.

One cup fresh peach pulp.
One-half cup sugar.
Few grains salt.
One teaspoon gelatine.
Two tablespoons water.
Three tablespoons boiling water.
Few drops almond extract.
One cup cream, whipped.

Rub the fruit through a sieve Soak the gelatine in the cold water and dissolve in the boiling water. Add peach pulp, sugar, salt and flavoring and turn into freezing trays. Chill until mixture begins to thicken. Then fold in the whipped cream and continue freezing until stiff.

Fried Peaches.

Six peaches.
Two tablespoons butter.
Twelve teaspoons brown sugar.

Pare peaches, split and remove stones. Melt the butter in an iron skillet and place the peach halves in it. Fill the cavities with brown sugar and let simmer until well cooked. These may be served with whipped cream, ice cream or with meats.

Peach Turnovers.

Two cups sifted flour.
Three teaspoons baking powder.
Three tablespoons shortening.
One teaspoon salt.
Two-thirds cup milk (buttermilk may be used.)
Three-fourths to one cup sliced sweetened peaches.

Sift together flour, salt and baking powder. Cut in the shortening and add the milk a little at a time to make a soft dough. Roll one-fourth inch thick and cut into rounds or strips. Place a mound of peaches on one half, cover with the other portion. Moisten the edges of the dough with water and crimp down edges with a fork or cookie crimper. Put a dot of butter on the top of each and place on a greased baking sheet and bake in a hot oven (425 degrees) for 12 or 15 minutes. Serve hot or cold, plain or with sauce.

Spiced Peach Salad.

Six fresh peach halves.
One-half cup vinegar.
Six whole cloves.
One stick cinnamon or one-fourth teaspoon ground cinnamon.
One-half cup sugar.
Three tablespoons ground nut meats.
Sprigs of mint.
Mayonnaise.

Cook the vinegar, cloves, cinnamon and sugar together three minutes and pour over peaches. Chill several hours. Drain and fill cavity of peach with ground nut meats mixed to a paste with real mayonnaise. Arrange peach halves on crisp lettuce leaves cut-side up. Garnish with sprigs of mint and mayonnaise. Serves six.

Salmon Salad.

Flake two and one-half cups cold salmon, discarding skin and bones. Add one and one-half cups celery, cut in pieces, three tablespoons lemon juice, half teaspoon salt and half teaspoon paprika. Stand in refrigerator to chill. Mix with enough mayonnaise to moisten well. Serve on any crisp salad greens and garnish with sweet gherkins.

Pineapple Sherbet.

Two cups grated pineapple, one-fourth cup lemon juice, one teaspoon grated lemon rind, one and one-fourth cups sugar, three cups water, three egg whites, beaten.

Mix sugar and water and boil two minutes. Cool and add pineapple, lemon juice and rind. Pour into sterilized freezer and when half frozen add whites and freeze.

This sherbet can be frozen in the mechanical refrigerator if desired. Pour mixture into tray. After 15 minutes, remove tray and with large spoon, stir mixture and beat one minute. Return to refrigerator and repeat three times at 15-minute intervals. Requires about four hours to freeze and texture is not as smooth as by freezer method.

CARAMEL NUT DRESSING

One cup brown sugar
Two tablespoons butter
One egg yolk
One teaspoon vanilla
Pinch of salt
One cup whipping cream
One-half cup whole pecan meats.

Cream the butter until fluffy, then add the sugar a little at a time. Stir into this the egg yolk, vanilla and salt, chill thoroughly. Whip the cream and gradually [illegible] into it the sugar mixture. Top [illegible] slice of cake with a heaping [illegible] spoon of the dressing and sprinkle with pecan nuts.

Measure Garments.

Measure all heavily crepe knitted or lace garments before washing them so they may be stretched to the original measurements later.

IRISH STEW

Three pounds lamb or mutton cut from shoulder or breast.
Two onions.
One tablespoon flour.
Four carrots (sliced thin).
Five potatoes.
One tablespoon butter.
One-fourth teaspoon salt.
Pepper
Cut the meat into medium size squares. Slice onions thin and simmer until tender in the butter. Add the meat and carrots. Add seasonings, cover with water or meat broth. Cover the pot and simmer for two hours. Add potatoes and continue simmering until potatoes are tender.

"MUST EVERY WASHDAY BRING MORE WRINKLES?"

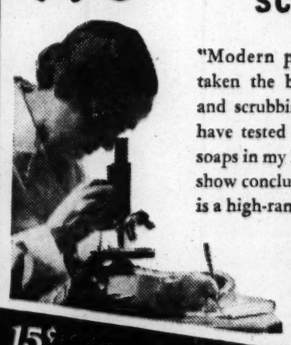

"NO" SAYS HAPPY MOTHER
"Doing the wash for a big family is no joke," says this housewife, "but Silver Dust is a wonderful helper. Its soft, thick suds soak the dirt right out. Economical, too—a little Silver Dust makes a lot of suds. And it's so quick-acting! I don't have to rub or scrub."

"NO" SAYS UNDERWEAR MODEL
"I model all day long in a big department store. I have to do my housework after I get home at night. Washing for me has to be quick and easy . . . because youthfulness and soft, white hands are my livelihood. I use Silver Dust for everything. It's safe for my dainty underthings . . . it makes dishwashing easy too. I just wouldn't be without this wonderful all-round soap."

"NO" SAYS A WOMAN SCIENTIST

"Modern packaged soaps have taken the back-breaking rubbing and scrubbing out of washing. I have tested the leading packaged soaps in my laboratory. These tests show conclusively that Silver Dust is a high-ranking, all-purpose soap for fine washing, for general laundry and for dishwashing. There can be no doubting these facts. I heartily recommend Silver Dust to all housewives who want to save money."

From report of noted home economist of a leading university. Name and further information on request.

"NO" SAYS LITTLE JANET
"I don't want mummy to get old-looking, so I help her all I can. Of course she says it's Silver Dust that keeps the wrinkles away. She does all the washing for me and my little brother. She's never cross on washday—and always has a big hug for daddy when he comes home."

Hawaiian Conserve.

Six cups chopped pineapple, three cups seeded plums, two cups raisins, one cup orange juice, one-half cup lemon juice, one-fourth teaspoon salt, four tablespoons grated orange rind, two tablespoons grated lemon rind, eight cups sugar.

Mix ingredients and cook slowly until mixture thickens. Requires about 50 minutes, but width and depth of kettle influences cooking time. Stir frequently. When stiff, pour into sterilized jars and seal with melted paraffin.

RECIPES FOR NEXT WEEK

Peach Icebox Cake.

One-half tablespoon plain gelatine.
One-half cup peach juice.
Three tablespoons sugar.
Two tablespoons maraschino cherry juice.
Three tablespoons lemon juice.
Six chopped maraschino cherries.
Two tablespoons cold water.
Two tablespoons chopped nut meats.
Three-fourths cup cooked peaches coarsely cut.
Twelve marshmallows.
One cup whipping cream.
Lady fingers or sponge cake.

Soak gelatin in cold water. Heat peach juice and dissolve gelatin in it. Add cherry juice and lemon juice and chill. When beginning to set, beat with egg beater until fluffy. Add cherries, nuts and peaches. Beat cream until stiff and add with marshmallows to gelatin. Line bottom and sides of a spring form mold with lady fingers or cake slices. Pour in gelatin mixture and chill four hours or longer. Serves 12.

Raspberry Mousse.

One pint raspberries.
Two-thirds cup confectioner's sugar.
Few grains salt.
One-half pint cream.

Mix raspberries with sugar and salt. Let stand one hour. Press pulp and juice through a sieve. Beat cream until light; fold in raspberry juice and pulp. Pour into freezing tray of mechanical refrigerator and freeze, or pour into a covered mold and pack in equal parts cracked ice and rock salt. Freeze four hours. Serves six.

Sour Cream Potato Salad.

Four medium sized cold boiled potatoes
Two tablespoons vinegar
Two tablespoons lemon juice
Two teaspoons grated onion
Two teaspoons chopped parsley
One cup sour cream
Salt
Paprika
Two tablespoons chopped pimento
One-half cup chopped dill pickle
One-fourth cup chopped crisp bacon
Lettuce.

Peel the potatoes and cut in small cubes. Combine the vinegar, lemon juice, grated onion, parsley and sour cream. Season with salt to taste and a dash of paprika. Add the chopped pimento, dill pickle and bacon to the potatoes. Toss together with the sour cream mixture and chill before serving.

Vegetable Casserole.

One-half cup sliced onion
Two cups cooked carrots
One cup cooked peas
Two pimientos
Two cups cooked asparagus
Two tablespoons butter
Three-fourths teaspoon salt
Three tablespoons flour
One and one-half cups boiling vegetable liquid
One and two-thirds cups irridated evaporated milk.

Freshly cooked or canned vegetables may be used. Two tablespoons capers may be added. Place vegetables in a buttered, shallow baking dish. Pour white sauce, made of remaining ingredients, over vegetables and cover top with tiny cheese biscuits. Bake in a hot oven (450 degrees Fahrenheit) until biscuits are brown, about 15 minutes. Yield: Eight to 10 servings.

Cheese Biscuits.

Two cups flour
Four tablespoons baking powder
One-half teaspoon salt
One cup grated cheese
One-fourth cup cold fat
One-third cup irridated evaporated milk, mixed with One-third cup cold water.

Sift flour, then measure. Resift with baking powder and salt, and mix with the grated cheese. Rub fat into dry ingredients. Add diluted milk and mix quickly but thoroughly. The dough should be soft. Turn onto a floured board. Pat to three-eighth inch thickness and cut.

RICE WITH NUT FLAVOR IS A DIFFERENT DISH

A savory dish with a nut flavor may not be in your repertoire but for the different touch that many cooks admire, you will want it.

Savory Rice.

Three tablespoons bacon fat.
Two tablespoons minced onion.
Two tablespoons minced green pepper.
Three cups boiled rice.
One cup chopped Brazil nuts.
One teaspoon salt.
One-half teaspoon poultry seasoning.
One tablespoon minced parsley.

Tomato Sauce.

Melt bacon fat, add minced onion and green pepper and cook three minutes. Stir in boiled rice, nuts and seasonings and cook three minutes, stirring until the mixture is well blended. Put in center of chop plate and pour the tomato sauce around the rice.

IT SOUNDS UNATTAINABLE BUT IS REALLY SIMPLE

Raspberry Ice Cream Pie.

Ice cream pie always sounds like the acme of desserts. It sounds unattainable but really isn't and there is no trick to turning it out.

One baked pie shell
One pint orange pineapple ice cream
One pint raspberries
Two tablespoons powdered sugar
Three egg whites
Six tablespoons granulated sugar
One-half teaspoon vanilla

Pack orange pineapple ice cream in a baked pie shell which has been chilled. Sprinkle raspberries with powdered sugar and spread over the ice cream. Cover the top of the pie with the meringue made by beating the egg whites until stiff and folding in the granulated sugar and vanilla. Place under the broiler to brown the top. (The meringue must be browned quickly so that the ice cream will not melt). Serve immediately.

HIP-O-LITE

To make delicious, smooth Ice Cream by mechanical refrigeration use HIP-O-LITE.

LIGHT DESSERTS FOR JADED APPETITES

Cool and Flavorful Dishes Should Have Tang of Tartness.

Summer desserts should be light fluffs of flavor, cool sweet delicacies that melt with a taste of refreshing tartness. Now you want a bit of something cool and flavorful to finish off the lighter meals that lanquid summer appetites demand. Plan to include fresh fruit often in your warm weather desserts. It is abundant and varied throughout the season and makes an excellent base for salads and fruity desserts. Try refrigerator desserts, too. Sherbets, mousses, ice creams, and ice box puddings can all be prepared far in advance of the meal and tucked away to chill throughout the day, thereby saving you all the time and effort of hasty last minute preparations. Here are some recipes for summer desserts which will help you to top off your dinners with effortless triumph:

Fruit Eclairs (Makes 12 Eclairs).

To one cup boiling water add one-half cup butter, one tablespoon sugar and one-fourth teaspoon salt and heat until boiling briskly. Add one cup sifted all-purpose flour, all at once, and stir vigorously over heat until ball forms in center of pan (about five minutes). The mixture should be transparent rather than opaque in appearance. Cool to lukewarm, then add four unbeaten eggs, one at a time, beating until smooth after addition of each. Drop by heaping tablespoonfuls onto lightly greased baking sheet, shape into mounds and bake in a hot oven (400 degrees F.) 45 to 50 minutes, or until free from beads of moisture and quite firm to the touch. Cool. Remove a circle about two inches in diameter from top of each, then fill with Fruit Filling (recipe below). Sprinkle with colored candy shot. Place on paper doily on dessert plate and serve.

Fruit Filling.

Whip one cup whipping cream until stiff enough to hold shape. Fold three tablespoons powdered sugar into the whipped cream, then fold in one-half cup strained apricots. Combine with four slices canned pineapple and three large ripe bananas, both diced. Chill, or freeze if desired.

Compote of Pears.

Drain juice from one large can pears. Combine pear juice with one-fourth cup sugar and one-half glass currant jelly and boil for eight minutes. Chill and serve over chilled pears.

Apricot Sherbet.

Combine one-half cup sugar, three tablespoons water and one-eighth teaspoon salt and boil until syrup forms long threads when dropped from tip of spoon. Beat one egg white until very stiff, then pour syrup into it, beating continuously until stiff but not creamy. Blend one 4½-ounce can strained apricots and apple sauce with two tablespoons lemon juice (juice of one-half lemon), and pour slowly into one-half cup milk, stirring to prevent curdling. Mix all ingredients thoroughly, pour into freezing trays and freeze until solid. Serves four.

Refrigerator Pudding.

Whip one pint whipping cream only enough to hold shape. Fold in two-thirds cup applebutter, a few tablespoons at a time, then fold in two dozen marshmallows, cut in eighths, one cup chopped pecans and two cups diced fruit, fresh or canned (pineapple, peaches, bananas or a combination of fruits). Pour into a glass dish and chill in coldest part of refrigerator for eight to 10 hours.

Graham Cracker Roll.

Roll one box graham crackers (about 24) and mix with one-half pound walnuts, chopped; one-half pound marshmallows, quartered; one box dates, cut in pieces, and one-half cup cream. Form into a roll and place in refrigerator or some cold place for several hours. Slice and serve with whipped cream.

CHILDREN AND SUMMER WILL APPROVE OF DRINKING THE DESSERT

Drinking your dessert may be a new thing but it is a most delightful thing to do occasionally. Children usually favor desserts in this form and you will have no trouble seeing that they get their summer quota of milk.

Caramel Chocolate Milk.

Three squares chocolate.
One-fourth cup granulated sugar.
One cup boiling water.
Two tablespoons brown sugar.
Three cups milk.
One-eighth teaspoon salt.
One-half teaspoon vanilla.
Whipped cream or vanilla ice cream.

Berries.

Melt the chocolate over hot water. Caramelize the sugar by placing it in a heavy sauce pan and heating slowly until melted and light brown in color. Add the boiling water and stir (over heat) until the caramelized sugar dissolves. Combine with the melted chocolate and cook for two or three minutes, stirring constantly. Add the brown sugar, milk, salt and vanilla. Stir until thoroughly blended. Chill and serve in tall glasses. Top with whipped cream and a berry or add a portion of vanilla ice cream to each serving. Serves four.

VEGETABLE SALAD

One cup canned green beens, cut in two-inch lengths.
Four small sized sausages.
Three cups shredded raw cabbage.
Two tablespoons minced green pepper.
One-fourth cup minced cucumber.
Two tablespoons chopped celery.
Three-fourths teaspoon salt.
Two tomatoes.
Mayonnaise.

Bake the sausage in a hot oven until browned on all sides. Slice across into small pieces and cool. Combine with the cabbage and beans. Now add the minced green pepper, cucumber, celery and salt to three or four tablespoons of mayonnaise. Blend this dressing lightly with the other ingredients and serve chilled in a salad bowl with a garnish of peeled quartered tomatoes about the top.

Raspberry Ade.

Two cups raspberries.
One and one-half cups sugar.
Two lemons.
Two oranges.
Few sprigs mint.
Water.

Crush berries and heat slowly to extract the juice, adding a little water if necessary. Strain juice through cheesecloth. Add sugar and crushed mint. Cool and add juice of lemons and oranges. Dilute with twice the quantity of cold water and serve with cracked ice and a sprig of mint in each glass. If fresh mint is not available, a few drops of spearmint extract may be used. Makes about two and one-half quarts.

BANANA FROZEN SALAD

One tablespoon lemon juice
One teaspoon salt
Two tablespoons mayonnaise
One-half pound cream cheese
Two tablespoons crushed pineapple
One-half cup cut cherries
One-half cup cut walnut meats
One cup cream, whipped
Three well ripened bananas, cut in cubes
Lettuce.

Add lemon juice and salt to mayonnaise and stir into cheese with pineapple, cherries, nuts; fold in cream. Last, add the bananas cut in cubes. Turn into in automatic refrigerator, or in mold and pack in salt and and freeze about three hours. with lettuce.

For Cereal.

Never beat or stir cereals or with a spoon. It makes pasty. Use a silver-plated fork

HONESTLY, have you ever found any ready-to-eat cereal that your family enjoys, day in and day out, as much as Kellogg's Corn Flakes?

Corn—cooked and flavored and toasted by Kellogg's own process—has a delicious taste and crunchy crispness that's different from any other cereal. It's nourishing too. Rich in energy and easy to digest.

You can purchase Kellogg's, oven-fresh and ready to serve, at any grocer's. And there's hardly a food you can buy that gives you so much real value for your money.

Matchless flavor. Wholesome goodness for any meal of the day. Remarkable convenience and economy. All these combined have made Kellogg's Corn Flakes the world's leading ready-to-eat cereal for the last thirty years. Quality guaranteed. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Processing Is the Final Step in Home Canning

Materials Must Be Heated Through If All Bacteria Responsible in Spoiling Are to Be Killed.

FINAL ARTICLE.

Now we come to the most important step in home canning. The length of time that the jars are allowed to stay in the waterbath, steamer or pressure cooker is usually responsible for success or failure, all other things being equal.

Materials must be heated through if all bacteria which are responsible for spoiling and possible food poisoning are to be killed. As has been said in a previous article the acid foods may be successfully processed in a hot water bath, steamer or oven. They are the foods that usually keep without spoiling or poisoning. Non-acid vegetables and meats need especial care and a pressure cooker is strongly recommended.

The time given for processing in boiling water applies only to places with altitudes of 1000 feet or less. For altitudes above this the time should be increased 20 per cent for each additional 1000 feet. When processing in the steamer use the time given for the boiling water bath, but for oven canning increase the time by 50 per cent. The same correction for altitude should be made for the steamer and oven as for the boiling water bath. When half gallon glass jars are used, five minutes should be added to times given for pint and quart glass jars.

Time and Process of Canning.

Apples. Pare and cut into desired sizes. If pieces must stand place them in a mild salt solution—one-fourth cup salt to one gallon of water, to prevent discoloration. They may be packed directly into jars and covered with boiling hot thin syrup. Process quart and pint glass jars for 15 minutes in boiling water and No. 2 and No. 3 tin cans for 10 minutes.

Apples packed raw shrink in canning so that the containers are not full. This can be prevented by boiling them for five minutes in the syrup before packing. Apples may also be baked as for serving, adding sugar to taste and water if necessary. Pack hot in containers, cover with syrup and process for five minutes in boiling water.

Windfalls may be made into sauce. Pack boiling hot and process immediately for five minutes in boiling water.

Berries. Gather berries in a shallow vessel so as to prevent crushing and can them as soon as possible after gathering. Sort fruit and use the smaller and imperfect berries for the juice to make a syrup of medium sweetness. Wash carefully and remove caps and stems. Pack fruit into containers pressing it carefully into place. Cover with the boiling hot syrup and process quart and pint glass jars for 20 minutes in boiling water. No. 2 and 3 tin cans should be processed for 15 minutes.

To prevent shrinkage and tendency of berries to float they should be precooked. To each pound of berries add one-fourth to one-half pound of sugar, according to the sweetness of fruit. Place in a kettle and heat to boiling stirring gently. Boil for three or four minuses. Pack hot and process immediately.

Cherries—Cherries may be canned pitted or unpitted. Unpitted, they should be pricked to prevent shrinkage. They may be packed in hot containers and covered with thick or medium syrup depending on the sweetness of the cherries. A syrup may be made of the juice that collects on the pits as it gives a better flavor. Process quart and pint jars for 25 minutes in boiling water and tin cans for 20 minutes. Cans should be enamel lined.

Pineapples. Peel and core, remove all eyes carefully and cut into convenient cross sections. Pack into containers and fill with thin boiling syrup. Process quart and pint jars for 30 minutes in boiling water and tin cans for 25 minutes.

Plums. These should be canned whole. After they are washed they should be pricked to prevent the skin bursting. Fill into jars and cover with boiling medium syrup. Process quarts and pint jars for 20 minutes in boiling water and tin cans for 15 minutes.

Tomatoes. Select firm ripe tomatoes of medium size and uniform shape, free of spots and decay. Dip in boiling water for about a minute, remove and plunge quickly into cold water. Drain, core and peel promptly. Pack into jars or cans as closely as possible and fill with tomato sauce or thick juice of tomatoes. Process quart and pint jars for 45 minutes in boiling water, and cans for 35 minutes.

Tomato Juice. Select firm ripe tomatoes, wash and cut into small pieces. Simmer in small quantities at a time until just soft enough to put through a fine sieve. If canning in glass, bring the juice just to boiling, pour into sterilized jars and seal. No processing is necessary. If canning in tin, heat the juice to simmering, pour into cans, seal and process for five minutes in boiling water. Cool in running water. Avoid delay at any stage of the process. Avoid head space in either tin or glass containers.

Pickled Beets. Select beets of uniform size, cut off stems, but allow at least one inch to remain on the beets so that they will not bleed and lose color and sweetness. Wash well and cook in a covered pan until tender in enough water to cover. When tender plunge into cold water, remove skins and when cold cut in thin slices. Fill beets into jar and to each pint add one-half teaspoon salt. Fill jars with a mixture of vinegar and brown sugar in equal proportions by measure, heated to boiling so that the sugar is dissolved. If this is too acid the vinegar may be diluted one-fourth with water. Process immediately in pint or quart jars for 30 minutes in boiling water.

Non-Acid Vegetables.

Asparagus. Asparagus for canning must be fresh and tender. Pick over carefully, discard any imperfect pieces, sort according to size and wash thoroughly. Tie in uniform bundles, place in a saucepan, with boiling water over the tough portions only, cover tightly and boil for two or three minutes. Pack boiling hot into containers, cover with the water in which boiled and add one teaspoon salt to each quart. Process immediately at 10 pounds pressure or 240 degrees. Quart jars require 35 minutes, pint jars and No. 2 and 3 tin cans require 30 minutes.

String Beans. Pick over carefully, string, wash thoroughly and cut into pieces. Add enough boiling water to cover and boil for five minutes in an uncovered vessel. Pack in containers boiling hot, cover with water in which boiled and add one teaspoon salt to each quart. Process immediately at 10 pounds pressure or 240 degrees same as above.

Lima Beans. Only young and tender limas should be canned. The older ones may be dried successfully. Shell and wash, then bring to a boil in water to cover. Pack boiling hot into containers and add one teaspoon salt to each quart. Process immediately at 10 pounds pressure or 240 degrees in quart jars for 55 minutes, pint glass jars for 50 minutes, and No. 2 and 3 C enameled cans for 50 minutes.

Corn. The Garden variety is best for canning. Gather about 17 to 25 days after silking. Shuck, silk and clean carefully. Cut from cob without pre-cooking. Add half as much boiling water as corn by weight, heat to boiling, add one teaspoon salt and two teaspoons sugar to each quart and fill boiling hot in containers. Process at 15 pounds pressure or 250 degrees, quart glass jars for 80 minutes, pint glass jars for 75 minutes, and No. 2 C enameled tin cans for 70 minutes. Corn should not be canned in No. 3 tin cans because of difficulty of heat penetration.

Greens. These directions include spinach. Pick over greens, discarding imperfect leaves and tough fibrous stems. Wash carefully in running water or through a number of waters, lifting the greens out each time. Steam or heat the greens in a covered vessel until completely wilted, adding in the latter case just enough water to prevent burning. Pack boiling hot into containers, taking care that the material is not packed too solidly and that there is sufficient liquid to cover, adding boiling water if necessary. Add one teaspoon salt to each quart and process immediately at 15 pounds pressure or 250 degrees. Quart glass jars should be processed for 65 minutes, pint jars for 60 minutes and No. 2 tin cans for 55 minutes. Greens should not be canned in No. 3 cans because of the difficulty of heat penetration.

Peas may be canned the same as baby limas.

Pumpkins. Wash the pumpkin, cut into sections, peel and cut into one to one and a half inch cubes. Add a small quantity of water and simmer until heated through, stirring occasionally. Pumpkin may be baked until heated through. Pack into hot containers, add one teaspoon salt to each quart and cover with water in which cooked. If steamed, remove from shell and fill into containers while hot. Add salt and boiling water to cover. Process immediately at 15 pounds pressure or 250 degrees. Quart glass jars should be processed for 75 minutes, pint jars and No. 2 cans for 60 minutes and No. 3 cans for 70 minutes. Use sanitary or R enameled tin cans.

Squash. Follow same method as pumpkin.

White Marks.

To get white marks out of polished wood: Mix equal parts of olive oil, vinegar, methylated spirits. Keep in small bottle. Shake well, and rub hard upon the mark with a bit of flannel. When the mark is gone, polish with furniture polish.

Controlling House Ants.

To control house ants, cut off their food supply. Ants are attracted by such foods as cake, bread, sugar and meat.

CORNED BEEF CASSEROLE

Flake one 16-ounce can corned beef finely. Place corned beef and two to three cups finely diced potatoes (one-fourth inch dice) in alternate layers in buttered casserole, sprinkling with salt and pepper to taste. Blend two teaspoons brown mustard with one cup milk and pour over top. Cover and bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees) for one hour. Uncover and continue baking 30 minutes.

SALAMAGUNDI SALAD

One cup diced boiled potatoes.
One and one-half cups diced boiled ham or pork.
One-half cup canned peas.
Two tablespoons chopped pimiento.
One-third cup diced celery.
One-fourth cup watercress, broken into one-inch pieces.
One-half cup mayonnaise.
One-half teaspoon salt.
Toss the ingredients together lightly. Place in lettuce cups and garnish with slices of red radish.

A BARBECUE SAUCE GOES WELL WITH MEATS

While barbecue and barbecue sauce are considered strictly Southern, we are far enough south to enjoy Southern sauces on our meats or hearty sandwiches.

Southern Barbecue Sauce.

One-half cup butter.
One cup vinegar.
Two tablespoons chopped sour pickle.
Two tablespoons chopped onion.
Two tablespoons Worcestershire sauce.
Two tablespoons chili sauce.
Four slices lemon.
One teaspoon brown sugar.
One green pepper, finely chopped.

Combine all the ingredients and mix well and place in a saucepan over a slow fire. Stir constantly until the butter melts and the onions have become tender. Set in a warm place or keep hot in a double boiler until ready for use. Excellent for meats or barbecued sandwiches.

NEW TOPPINGS MAKE THE SUMMER SALAD

New Interest Provided by Adding a Few Ingredients to Foundation Recipe.

These are the days when salads seem to become imperative. Everything found in the markets may find its way into a salad if the cook is clever. We no longer stop at beets, peas or beans. Cauliflower cooked, or some of the more tender florets served raw, is the latest addition to the list of salad ingredients in the vegetable line.

For fruit salads the possibilities too are endless. Not only fresh fruit but canned fruit or a combination of the two may be used in salad. It may be served plain, frozen or in aspic. Of course the greatest interest in salads is bound up with the dressing.

French and mayonnaise are no longer the only kinds that top this healthful portion of the meal. Variations have recently increased hundredfold and now even the plainest mixed green salad may wear an interesting new topping.

French Dressing.
(Foundation Recipe.)

Mix one-half teaspoon salt, one teaspoon sugar and one-eighth teaspoon paprika. Add one-fourth cup vinegar and one-half cup olive oil, and beat thoroughly.

Anchovy Dressing.

To foundation recipe add two tablespoons finely chopped anchovies. Especially good with egg and anchovy salad.

Chiffonade Dressing.

To foundation recipe add two tablespoons chopped parsley, two teaspoons chopped onion, one hard cooked egg, chopped, and one-quarter cup cooked beets, chopped. Especially good with romaine salad and cabbage salad.

Honey French Dressing.

In foundation recipe use one tablespoon less vinegar and add one-eighth teaspoon additional paprika and one tablespoon strained honey. Especially good with salad bowl fruit combination and pear salad.

Ketchup Dressing.

To foundation recipe add one-fourth cup tomato ketchup and mix thoroughly. Especially good with asparagus salad and lettuce salad.

Mustard Dressing.

To foundation recipe add two tablespoons prepared mustard and mix until well blended. Especially good with mock chicken salad and potato and egg salad.

Piquante Dressing.

To foundation recipe add one-half teaspoon prepared brown mustard, one-eighth teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, one-half teaspoon onion juice and two drops tabasco sauce. Mix well. Especially good with onion salad and any fish salad.

Roquefort Dressing.

To foundation recipe add four tablespoons crumbled Roquefort cheese and mix thoroughly. Especially good with hearts of lettuce salad and romaine salad.

Summer Dressing.

In foundation recipe use one tablespoon less vinegar and add three tablespoons pineapple juice, three tablespoons orange juice and one teaspoon sugar. Especially good with lettuce and watercress salad and cantaloupe salad.

Tarragon Dressing.

In foundation recipe use Tarragon vinegar for this dressing and add one hard cooked egg, chopped very fine. Especially good with endive salad and cauliflower salad.

Parisian Dressing.

To foundation recipe add two tablespoons chopped green pepper, two tablespoons chopped red pepper, two tablespoons chopped celery, one-half tablespoon chopped onion and one-tall tablespoon chopped parsley. Mix well. Especially good with Julienne salad and lettuce and watercress salad.

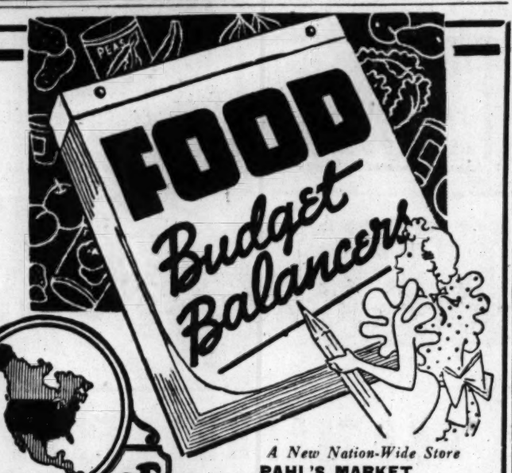

RIBBON CAKE

Three eggs
Three-fourths cup of sugar
Two and one-half cups of sifted flour
Three teaspoons baking powder
One orange
One-fourth cup of cocoa
One-half cup of milk
Three-fourths cup of shortening
One tablespoon lemon juice
One-fourth teaspoon of grated lemon rind.
One teaspoon of vanilla
Spice
Few drops of red color.

Cream the shortening with the three-fourths cup of sugar. Beat one whole egg with the yolks of the other two, add to the creamed mixture and beat thoroughly. Sift flour with one-fourth teaspoon of salt and the baking powder and one-fourth teaspoon of mace and stir this in alternately with the milk. If it seems very stiff, add a tablespoon more milk. Stir in the juice of half the orange, the lemon juice and grated rind. Divide batter into three parts. Stir vanilla into one part and put that in a buttered eight-inch layer cake pan. Stir a few drops of red color into another part and put that in another buttered cake tin as the first. Stir the cocoa with just enough hot water to melt it, then stir it into the last portion of the cake batter and put that in the third buttered pan. Bake in a moderate oven about 20 minutes. Use the two egg whites and an extra one to make a boiled icing for this cake.

Delicious Pudding.

For a quickly made and yet delicious pudding, use graham crackers instead of bread. Make just as one does bread pudding and a few chopped dates. Serve with or without whipped cream.

CORN PRICE AT BEST LEVEL SINCE MAR. '29

No. 2 White for Immediate Use Brings $1.24 to $1.25 a Bushel at Chicago.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—Corn developed greater strength than wheat today, and climbed to the highest prices since March, 1929.

No. 2 white corn for immediate use brought $1.24 to $1.25 a bushel here. Corn futures scored nearly 3 cents a bushel overnight rise. Predictions by crop experts were current, that if real heavy rains have not received between now and spring another crop disaster in 1937 would be all but certainty.

Corn closed buoyant, at almost the day's top level, 1⅞@2¾ cents above yesterday's finish, Sept., $1.08⅝@⅞; Dec., 96⅛@⅜; wheat 1c to 1¾c up, Sept. $1.11⅞@1.11⅝; Dec. $1.11¼@⅝; oats ½@⅝c advanced, and provisions unchanged to a trifle of 22 cents.

Indications that Canada would have less than 126,000,000 bushels of export wheat this season, against 203,000,000 a year ago, lifted markets strongly early today.

Trade leaders asserted that in particular as a result of Canada's recession, the background of strength in the world wheat market situation was becoming more and more evident. They pointed especially to the fact that the Liverpool market at the close today showed 2⅛@3¼c a bushel overnight bulge. Meanwhile, Buenos Aires prices were up more than 4c.

Estimates of only about 120,000,000 bushels possible export of Canadian wheat in the remaining 50 weeks of the new crop year were based on Canada's official carryover figures of but 108,747,000 bushels and the Canadian Government's latest forecast of production. Advices, too, were at hand that Argentina's wheat acreage, although somewhat increased over the small area in 1935, would not be up to the average of recent years.

With the Winnipeg wheat market paralleling the strength of Liverpool quotations despite enlarged new crop arrivals of Canadian wheat, Chicago prices scored sharp gains, rising 2c. At times about 2c. Winnipeg receipts of wheat today totaled 314 cars, of which 254 cars were new crop. On the other hand, Kansas receipts said growers were holding wheat for $1 a bushel on account of feed scarcity. Corn, oats and rye rose with wheat. Provisions reflected upturns of hog prices.

Wheat futures purchases yesterday totaled 26,290,000 bushels, corn 16,727,000. Open interest in wheat at the end, 21,890,000 bushels, and in corn 41,649,000.

ST. LOUIS MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE, Aug. 13.—September wheat was bid $1.14, to 1¼c, and September corn was bid $1.10, to 1¼c higher.

Winnipeg wheat opened at ⅞c advance and early was 1⅛ to 1⅜c higher. The close was 1⅝@2¼c net higher.

Liverpool wheat opened 1 to 1¼d higher and in subsequent trade was 1¾ to 1¾d net higher. The close was 1⅝ to 1¾d net higher.

ST. LOUIS CASH GRAIN.

With the cash grain market today soft wheat was 2c higher; corn 2@2½c higher, and oats 1½c higher.

Trading made on the floor of the exchange were as follows: Wheat—No. 1 red winter, $1.20@1.20½; No. 2 red winter, $1.18@1.19½; No. 3 light garlicky, $1.19; No. 4 red garlicky, $1.1½; No. 2 red garlicky, $1.15; No. 1 mixed, $1.20½. Corn—No. 2 yellow, $1.14½; No. 3 yellow, $1.12½; No. 4 yellow, $1.12½; No. 2 white, $1.24½; No. 3 white, $1.21. Oats—No. 2 white, 47½c; No. 2 mixed, 47c; test wt. 48c.

Local wheat receipts which were 51,400 bu. compared with 49,500 a week ago and 174,000 a year ago included 27 cars local and 7 through. Corn receipts which were 42,000 bu. compared with 31,000 a week ago and 9000 a year ago included 26 cars local and 2 through. Oats receipts which were 22,000 bu. compared with 34,000 a week ago and 32,000 a year ago, included 4 cars local and 2 through. Hay receipts which were 2 cars local.

CANADIAN WHEAT CARRY-OVER IS SMALLEST IN TEN YEARS

By the Associated Press.

OTTAWA, Aug. 13.—The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported the smallest wheat carryover in seven years, but said carryovers of oats, barley and rye, due mainly to holding of greater stocks on farms, were larger.

Complete figures showed a wheat carryover of 108,747,000 bushels at the end of the crop year, July 31. This was 94,525,000 bushels lighter than last year, but the average for the last five years was 174,965,481 bushels.

The bureau said in addition to stocks held in Canada, 19,268,321 bushels of Canadian wheat were held in the United States, compared with 11,704,536 at the end of July last year.

It noted that roughly one-half of the Canadian wheat held there has been earmarked for American mills and should not be included in a carryover statement comparable with previous years."

Board of Trade Winter Lows.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—Effective Sept. 28, the date when most cities observing daylight saving time resume standard time, Board of Trade business hours will be changed, members voted yesterday. Chicago is expected to continue on Eastern Standard time during the winter.

By a vote of 234 to 230 majority, members decided to change hours of trading for future delivery in commodities other than grain. Instead of 10:15 a. m., to 2 p. m., Eastern Standard time, as at present on Saturdays when the markets will close at 12:30 p. m.

Trading hours at present are from 9:30 a. m., to 1:15 p. m., Eastern Standard time, except on Saturday when the market closes at noon.

High Prices for Grains.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—The highest prices in more than a decade were paid for high quality corn, barley and soy beans in the cash grain market today.

No. 2 white corn sold ot $1.24 to $1.25 a bushel, the highest price since March, 1929. A better grade, No. 1 white, sold at $1.24 to $1.26.

Choice grades of malting barley in carlots sold at $1.41 a bushel, up more than 40 cents since Aug. 1.

Best grades of wheat at $1.26 and oats up to 47½c.

BUTTER AND EGG STOCKS LOWEST IN 10 YEARS

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Reports of continued dry hot weather in the western belt were followed by further buying in cotton today with Dec. selling up to 12.15 or 12 points net higher and 49 points above the low price of last Monday.

Somewhat increased offerings were encountered at this level but were absorbed by selling around 12.07 with active months generally showing net advances of 4 to 9 points.

Creamery butter stocks Aug. 1 totaled 161,393,000 pounds, the report disclosed, lowest for the date since 1923, and 14,235,000 under holdings a year ago and 18 per cent under the five-year average.

Stocks of shell eggs aggregated 7,334,000 cases, the lowest August point since 1932 with the exception of 1933, and 1,135,000 under a year ago and nearly 2,000,000 cases lighter than the five-year average.

STOCK LIST UNSETTLED BY SELLING NEAR CLOSE

Steel Shares Prominent in the Higher Group Though U. S. Steel Reacts From High Level of the Forenoon.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13. — After striding forward under the leadership of steels most of the day, the stock market teetered and fell back in the final hour as profit taking orders fell in its path.

Selling speeded up as trading drew to a close. The final tone was irregular. Transactions totaled about 1,450,000 shares.

Buying on resumption of dividends hoisted Sloss-Sheffield steel preferred around 14 points in the last hour, while the common came to the fore in late trading for a rise of about 6 points.

Vanadium, once a spectacular speculative performer, got up more than 2 points at one time but had the advantage whittled away in part.

Other steels which were in brisk demand but met late selling included American Steel Foundries, Byers, Youngstown Sheet & Tube and Crucible. U. S. Steel had less resistance than others in this group. Bethlehem held its own at moderately higher levels under the power of buying said to have been prompted by improvement in shipbuilding, one of the company's strong departments.

Aircrafts put in a quiet day but turned more active near the end under increased offerings.

Rails Turn Irregular.

Buyers had the advantage in Western Union, Consolidated Edison, North American and International Telephone.

Case and International Harvester yielded ground in the final hour. Lehigh Valley, Elk Horn preferred and other coal issues met liquidation.

Carriers turned irregular as the afternoon wore on. Modest improvement in Santa Fe, Pennsylvania and Delaware & Hudson contrasted with limited losses in Southern Pacific and New York Central.

Corn finished buoyant at gains of 1¾ to 2¾ cents a bushel, Wheat was up 1 to 1⅝ cents. Cotton moved forward. Foreign exchanges were mixed.

Shares which joined the last-minute down-turn for recessions of fractions to a point or more included Goodyear, Texas Corp., International Nickel, Westinghouse, Allied Chemical, American Can, American Telephone and Columbia Gas & Electric.

Cotton closed 5 cents a bale higher to 10 cents lower.

At mid-afternoon the French franc was off .00⅜ of a cent at 6.58½ cents. The pound sterling was ¼ of a cent higher at $5.02¾.

News of the Day.

Gossip around Wall Street boardrooms that advancing grain prices have firmed the whisky price structure was accompanied by continuance of demand for National Distillers, Schenley, American Commercial Alcohol and Distillers Corporation-Seagrams.

The recent spurt of copper sales provided a favorable background for buyers of Anaconda, Kennecott and American Smelting.

Brokers with foreign connections reported that recently a fair amount of foreign buying has been trickling into the market.

They explain this partly in terms of the lengthening shadows of political and financial unsettlement stretching across France.

Stock market circles believe that so long as domestic trade and industry continues to drive ahead equities will continue to attract funds from abroad.

An example of difficulties confronting capital abroad was reflected in the decline of securities on the Paris Bourse under threats of nationalization of some industries, particularly those making armaments.

Overnight Developments.

With the rise of 50 per cent in reserve requirements of Federal Reserve member banks two days off, Wall Street circles revived interest in possible repercussions on the money market.

The opinion of most observers was that the money market would sustain the sharp drop in excess reserves without being ruffled.

Banking circles studied reports in well-informed quarters that excess reserves for the week ended Wednesday would rise about $100,000,000.

Such an upturn, money experts said, would leave the total considerably short of the $3,500,000,000 estimated by the Federal Reserve Board as of mid-August.

Wall Street found the income report of Eastman Kodak another bright spot on its ledger of earnings improvement. For the 24 weeks ended June 13, profit equaled $3.51 a share against $3.05 in the like period a year ago.

The French franc was off .00¼ of a cent at 6.58⅝ cents. The pound sterling was up ¼ of a cent at $5.02¾.

FINANCIAL BAROMETER.

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—Loans against securities to customers other than brokers and dealers by weekly reporting member banks of the Federal Reserve System in leading cities have dropped to a new low on the decline from the 1920-30 peaks in face of recent appreciation in share prices.

A tendency last spring for security loans to "others" to expand appears to have been nipped by the action of the Reserve Board in making margin requirements applicable to banks as well as brokers and in boosting the cash "ratio" on such purchases to 55 from 45 per cent of the market price.

Total security loans to "others" of the reporting banks in 101 cities compared as follows:

Week ending Aug. 5	—$2,020,000,000
Preceding week	—$2,046,000,000
Same week last year	—$2,076,000,000

COAL LOADINGS GAIN

By the Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 13.—Loadings of bituminous coal into vessels at Lake Erie docks during the week ended Aug. 10 totaled 1,285,559 tons, an increase of 361,721 tons or 39 per cent over the corresponding period last year, R. M. Griggs, manager of the Ore & Coal Exchange reported today.

This brings dumpings for the season to date to 22,362,114 tons, a gain of 16 per cent over the 19,220,264 tons a year ago. For the latest week loadings were divided into 1,242,033 tons of cargo coal and 43,526 tons for fuel.

The iron ore movement continues at its recent pace. For the first 11 days this month 18,558 cars were loaded at the docks for interior furnaces. This is a gain of 5871 cars or 46 per cent over the like period a year ago.

TEXTILE MARKET

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Cotton goods sales were small Thursday. Finished goods moved in good volume. Rayon cloths sold in slightly better amounts. Raw silk was unchanged and quiet. Wool goods were in moderate demand. Burlap was steady and quiet.

BANK CLEARINGS OFF FROM PRECEDING WEEK

Gain Shown Over 1935 Comparative First Time in Three Weeks.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—A lowered aggregate appeared in bank clearings for the latest period, compared with the previous week's total, but a gain was shown over the 1935 comparative for the first time in three weeks. The total reported to Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., for 22 leading cities in the United States for the week ended Wednesday, Aug. 12, was $4,785,773,000, against $4,545,189,000 for the similar period of last year, an increase of 5.3 per cent. This contrasted with a loss of 2.6 per cent in the same comparison a week earlier.

At New York City, clearings fell to $2,874,301,000, as contrasted with $3,385,118,000 last week, but were only 2.2 per cent under the $2,937,893,000 recorded a year ago. Last week New York City was off 11.4 per cent from the 1935 level. The total of $1,911,476,000 for outside centers represented a gain of 18.4 per cent over last year's total of $1,607,296,000.

Total clearings were lower by $665,489,000 than those of the preceding period. Between the two similar weeks of 1935 there was a loss of $1,051,131,000.

Increases over the 1935 figures appeared at all cities with the exception of Richmond and New York. The main rises occurred at Buffalo, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Atlanta, New Orleans, Chicago, Detroit, Minneapolis, San Francisco and Seattle.

Figures at leading cities, together with gain and losses compared with those of 1935 follow, also, daily bank clearings for June, July and August to date:

FOREIGN MARKETS AT A GLANCE

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Aug. 13.—Activity in today's stock market was restricted somewhat by the settlement of week-end accounts. Industrials were again very firm and motor shares, tobacco, trans-Atlantic and oil issues moved to higher ground. Giltedged securities and foreign bonds maintained a cheerful tone while railroad stocks reclined on profit-taking.

PARIS, Aug. 13. — Irregularity prevailed in the bourse, coal shares advancing slightly and international securities moving fractionally in both directions. The market firmed in the late dealings with Bank of France shares being quoted at 5490 francs compared with 5250 yesterday.

LIVERPOOL, Aug. 13.—Wheat futures scored an advance of two pence or more on strong Canadian shippers offers, bullish official Canadian carryover and buying by London grain houses.

Cotton closed higher. Bomboy selling being absorbed by trade calling, covering and speculative buying. The advance followed unfavorable weather reports from the United States.

GOVERNMENT BONDS REACH RECORD HIGHS

Several of the Long-Term Treasuries Are Leaders—General List Irregular.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—The bond market veered into irregularity in late trading today, although final prices showed a majority of gains in the active groups.

U. S. Governments held a prominent place by virtue of their ascent to record high levels. This applied to several of the long term treasuries, which showed closing gains of 2-32d to 6-32ds of a point. The Government guaranteed obligations topped 1-32d lower to 7-32d higher.

Corporate issues closing fractions to around 3 points higher included Chesapeake & Ohio 5s, 1947, at 134½; M-K-T 5s of 67½, Western Union 5s at 108½; Chicago & Eastern Illinois 5s at 23¼; South Shore & Atlantic 5s at 83; Duluth South Shore & Atlantic 5s at 83; and Francisco Sugar 7½s at 78½. Youngstown Sheet & Tube 3½s turned off 1 and American Rolling Mill 4½s at 114¼ off 1.

Italian Government and municipal loans were a strong feature of the foreign section, rising 1 to 3 points. Cuban Government 5½s closed 1½ lower at 53½; other groups were narrow.

BOND NOTES

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Stockholders of United States Electric Power Corp. have offered the right to subscribe pro rata for 1,239,096 shares of Standard Power & Light common stock which had been pledged as collateral for a loan to the latter, it was announced today.

The offering price will be $2.80 a share. To avoid the necessity of registration the agent for the syndicate which acquired the electric power corporation's note and thereby freed the collateral, specifies that it purchase must be for investment and not distribution to others."

The demand notes of United States Electric Power to the Chase National Bank had a face value of $11,946,735 unpaid principal amount, with interest arrears exceeding $2,000,000 when purchased by the syndicate for an aggregate price of $1,500,000 on May 21.

Principal assets of Standard Gas & Electric, which is in bankruptcy reorganization, are United States Electric Power Corp., controlled standard power jointly with H. M. Bylesby & Co.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Public offering of $16,000,000 of New York, Chicago & St. Louis Railroad Co. (Nickel Plate) 10-year 4 per cent collateral trust notes, priced at 100 and accrued interest is being made by a group headed by Edward B. Smith & Co. Proceeds from the sale of these notes will be applied to the payment of outstanding securities.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Pressure on European gold currencies was renewed in foreign exchange dealings up to early afternoon today and quotations sagged moderately in terms of the dollar.

A continued flow of capital to the United States was reported in some quarters. The movement was attributed to the lure of rising business profits in this country as well as uncertainty over European political and financial prospects.

Both the Bank of France and the Bank of England, in their weekly statements, showed further gains in gold holdings. But the dip in the French exchange rate, the question whether another movement of metal to New York from Paris was imminent.

The French franc sold at 6.58 7-16 cents, a loss of .00 7-16 of a cent, and closed in Paris at the equivalent of 6.584 cents compared with the overnight New York quotation of 6.589. Holland guilders dipped .02 of a cent to 67.90 cents.

The British pound shared some of the dollar's strength against the gold currencies. It advanced to $5.02 11-16, up 3-16 of a cent, and closed in London at 5.02⅝ against the overnight New York rate of 5.02⅛.

The midafternoon the French franc was off .00⅝ of a cent at 6.58½ cents. The pound sterling was ¼ of a cent higher at $5.02⅜.

Spenders of Yester-Year. Gone With Their Billions. Paris Hotels Empty. England Learns Also.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.
(Copyright, 1936.)

EUROPE learns that political experiments cost money. England decided to prevent Mussolini from taking Ethiopia, camping along the imperial British highway, and controlling Lake Tana, source of Nile water. The attempt failed.

England backed out of that situation, hastily, after her War Department had assured our War Department in Washington that Mussolini could not possibly conquer Ethiopia in less than three years, probably not at all.

When the dust had settled and England, with her assortment of 51 League nations had apologized to Mussolini, and tossed Haile Selassie into the waste-basket, England found her foreign commerce much damaged. She had missed Mussolini, and shot herself in the pocket-book.

For a little while, she will copy Job: "I will lay mine hand upon my mouth. Once I have spoken, yea, twice, but I will proceed no further."

Paris, which is France, decided to sing and dance a new carmagnole with Russian dressing; clenched fists raised in air, a la Russe, red flag waving, the doleful strains of the Communist hymn, L'Internationale and its Communist injunction: "Arise, ye prisoners of starvation," excellently sung from the Arc de Triomphe to the Place de la Bastille.

You can hardly imagine what fire, fury and enthusiasm thousands of young and old French gentlemen put into that hymn, although many of them showed few outward signs of starvation.

There were, and are, manifestations everywhere; now in the Chamber of Deputies, M. Gaston Gerard, practical French statesman, asks, "What has become of our foreign tourists and their spending money?"

M. Gerard tells the Deputies something must be done: In 1927, 2,125,000 foreigners from all over the world visited France, spending much money. Visitors now number only 700,000; as a rule with little money to spend—oysters containing no pearl; many that come to help sing L'Internationale bring no money.

Foreign visitors, says M. Gerard, used to give highly paid employment to half a million French men and women; spent 500,000,000 francs for French railroad and steamship tickets, scattered throughout France from 12 to 15 thousand millions of francs.

Fifteen billions, even in francs, are "real money" here. M. Gerard tells the Chamber French prices are too high. There is something in that, with the 4-cent franc costing six to seven cents in the United States—a comic opera situation, considering the relative wealth of the two nations.

M. Gerard thinks there should be some Cabinet official to look after foreigners, with better propaganda and fewer vexatious taxes on foreigners; there is nothing in that.

Foreigners do not voluntarily travel and spend money where they feel they are not wanted. The cosmopolitan, educated Frenchman is as polite and hospitable as ever; but ask him what sort of reception the crowd gives to the foreigner, British especially. It offends the British ear to hear "a bas les Anglais," "down with the British."

An innocent American, in an innocent average American automobile, sallied forth on July 14 to help France celebrate the destruction of the Bastille, and perhaps give a few feeble cheers for Lafayette, or Woodrow Wilson, or somebody.

Great crowd in the Champs Elysees, especially around the innocent American car, with new paint, shiny chromium and several cylinders. A polite policeman says monsieur should know better than to appear in a car of "grand luxury" on such a day. Such luxury cars you may see by the thousands and millions on American roads; but the paint and metal were shiny.

Nothing happens to the car of grand luxury; it crosses the Avenue of the Champs Elysees, about 300 feet, in less than 20 minutes. The French, newly self-identified as "prisoners of starvation," are interested; especially the fattest "prisoners," who dislike walking, are interested in the auto American, which is careful not to bump anybody.

The bourgeois, the "rich," an extinct species, although they do not yet know it, are nervous. In a vague way they feel that they are held responsible for all those "pris-

A Spy Reports

By Ely Culbertson

Ely Culbertson

DEAR Ely: I have noted in your column an honest desire to keep abreast of the times, in particular respect to casual contract games throughout the country, on trains, in clubs, and in the family parlor. However laudatory it is for you to attempt to kibitz such games so that you will have human interest material for your public you must have a lot of trouble in preserving your incognito, and of course the moment the players know the illustrious Culbertson is in the room they fall victims of stage fright. You could, of course, disguise yourself in wig and flowing beard, but I don't recommend it in this weather. Besides, I have a much better idea.

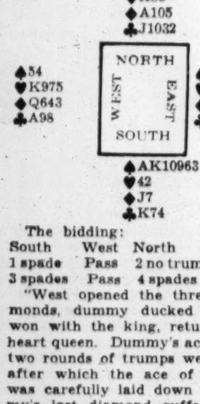

I will appoint myself your personal spy, without pay, without even glory! As a commuter I am in position to gather bridge material, of both human and inhuman interest, and send it in to you with my own pithy, scintillating comments on bidding and play. All you'll have to do is edit. (What a chance for a pun by you: "I et it, and it was terrible!")

You needn't answer this. Whether you agree or not, I am henceforth,

Your devoted Spy.

P. S. Here is my first contribution. This hand was "played" last week in the smoking car.

South, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 spade	Pass	2 no trump	Pass
3 spades	Pass	4 spades (final bid)

"West opened the three of diamonds, dummy ducked and East won with the king, returning the heart queen. Dummy's ace won and two rounds of trumps were drawn, after which the ace of diamonds was carefully laid down and dummy's last diamond ruffed by declarer! Now, probably with the thought that he was making a throw-in play, declarer led his remaining small heart. The defenders managed to bear up under this attack, winning the heart and returning a third round which declarer disgustedly ruffed. (Is it possible that he hoped for a club lead up to his king?) Two club tricks still had to be conceded to the defenders, so the declarer, with a heavy sigh, acknowledged defeat of one trick.

"Incidentally, Ely, this is the caliber of play that is average and you are barking up the wrong tree when you write about Vienna coups and such. Why aim over the heads of the truly 'average players'?"

I hope my spy-without-portfolio is wrong in his estimate of the average player. Personally, I believe that most players would have made the hand shown above. Obviously, all the declarer had to do, after East's diamond king won the first trick, was to finesse against the diamond queen in order to discard his losing heart. Maybe a sudden toot of the train's whistle distracted the declarer.

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Question: My right hand opponent, not vulnerable, opened the bidding with one spade. I passed and the next player bid three spades. My partner, vulnerable, bid four diamonds and the opening bidder doubled. My hand was

♠64 ♥QJ7642 ♦4 ♣Q942

Should I pass or bid four hearts?

Answer: Pass. Do not attempt a rescue at such a high level.

Anecdotes of New Yorkers And New York

By George Tucker

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.

SURE, the celebrities are on the luxury lanes, but it is the back streets that really mirror the life of a city. Let's get off Broadway for awhile, with its shills and hoodlums, its raucous salesmen, its trick flea-circuses. Let's move over to Third avenue where, a little of the Bowery, a pinch of Harlem, and a smattering of Yorkville and Chatham Square provide some of the drama which O. Henry found on every corner.

Life is simple to those who live in the shadow of the elevated tracks. Such foibles of civilization as art and literature mean nothing to them. For them not even politics or dying are matters of moment, for the ward-heelers will take care of the first, and death will take care of itself.

Here is a stumble-bum fast asleep in a darkened doorway. He is barefooted and his shoes are tied to his wrists. This is to keep someone rom stealing them while he snoozes. The beat of a copper's hoof on the sidewalk would waken him instantly, but he is undisturbed by the roar of the trucks and the crowded disharmonies of the night.

I GO INTO one of those small hash stands where mulligan stew and a glass of beer cost 15 cents. A beefy hack driver is breaking up bread and dropping it into his coffee. As he noisily downs it a girl comes in and asks for a fried egg sandwich. When she turns around you notice one eye is badly discolored.

"My boy friend socked me," she says. "He's a dock hand. I went down to meet him tonight and he got mad because I didn't have enough money to take him to the movies."

"He must be a nice guy to have around," observes the waiter.

"Say, you mind yer own business," she snaps. "He can sock me any time he wants to. It's my eye, ain't it?"

"You said it there, sister," the waiter acquiesces. He brings her the fried egg sandwich. The hack driver wipes his mouth on his sleeve and goes out. Life in Third avenue resumes the tenor of its ways.

Color Returns As Home Accent

By Elizabeth Boykin

WE'RE still feeling very white and starched about our interior decorations, but there are inklings that color is coming back into vogue for accent and accessories. It began to creep into lamps . . . most of them are yet white, of course, but there are pastel bases turning up here and there, along with odd ones of the deep rich colorings, such as the wine and red tones. Shades are generally white and will probably continue so, although they often have touches of color repeating that in the bases.

Elsie de Wolfe (of the green and violet hair dye, and also a very famous lady in the interior decorating world) has likewise put her expensive o. k. on pastels for accent. She likes the powdery pinks, such as Lenox makes in china things . . . there are some pleasant pieces in this shade made by some of the Pacific Coast potteries that are shown in a good many of the stores. There is a maize color in pottery that is agreeable to use in many settings and also a perfectly delicious shade of blue.

Interesting ways to bring a room out with accessories: flower bowl and candlesticks of the same color all through the rooms; flower bowls and tea set of the same color pottery; lamps and candlesticks all to match; lamps with a tea set in the same color; figurines, vases and lamps all of the same material.

Besides the white and pastel notes in accessories, crystal, frosted glass, chromium, copper, brass, pewter and silver all have possibilities. Choose the type of accessories that harmonize with the colors you are using. If your colors are rather simple and few, it is rather pretty to vary the types of accessories, but if you have a heterogeny of colors and patterns, then if you keep all the accessories of the same colors or materials, it will help pull the ensemble together.

Previews of Coming Films For The Week

Lionel Barrymore in Grotesque Story—"To Mary—With Love" Here.

NEWS-REEL events of the last 10 years are interwoven in the plot of "To Mary—With Love," one of the pictures coming to the Ambassador tomorrow. The story, originally written by Richard Sherman and published as a magazine serial, describes the domestic affairs of a couple married in 1925. Taking the leading roles are Warner Baxter and Myrna Loy, previously teamed in "Renegade," "Penthouse" and "Broadway Bill." As they have their fallings-out and reconciliations, the audience sees the history that is taking place in the background—the Dempsey-Tunney fight at Philadelphia, the arrival of Queen Marie of Rumania, the Lindbergh welcome on Broadway. Actual news-reels were used in the established "process" photography, whereby the real events are thrown on a screen back of the players, who then are rephotographed with the original action. In the supporting cast of "To Mary—With Love" are Ian Hunter, Claire Trevor and Jean Dixon. The Ambassador's second picture is a comedy, "Love Begins at Twenty," featuring Hugh Herbert as a henpecked husband, Patricia Ellis as his daughter and Warren Hull as her suitor.

BING CROSBY'S "Rhythm On the Range" moves, in its second week, to the Orpheum, where a new feature, "Blackmail," will be run on the same program. "Rhythm On the Range" is a musical film in which Bing, as a cowhand, sets out from New York to his home out West. Frances Farmer, an heiress, hides in the box car in which he is riding. His friend, Bob Burns, and Burns' acquaintance, Martha Raye, follow on a passenger train. Songs are "Empty Saddles," "I'm an Old Cowhand," "You'll Have to Swing It," "I Can't Escape From You" and others. "Blackmail," featuring William Gargan, Florence Rice and H. B. Warner, is a murder mystery arising from the stabbing of a crook who comes as the uninvited guest to a dinner party.

LOEW'S double-feature program, one announced for several weeks now, is composed of "The Devil Doll," featuring Lionel Barrymore, with Maureen O'Sullivan, Frank Lawton and Grace Ford, and "We Went to College," featuring Charles Butterworth, Walter Catlett, Hugh Herbert, Walter Abel and Una Merkel. "The Devil Doll," which falls in the class of horror pictures, tells of a former French banker, Barrymore, who escapes from Devil's Island, comes into possession of a chemical process for reducing human beings to the size of dolls and employs it to wreak vengeance against his enemies. In order not to be recognized, Barrymore takes on the disguise of an old woman and opens up a doll shop, to which he leads the men who sent him to prison. Miss O'Sullivan has the role of his daughter and Frank Lawton is her sweetheart. To obtain the effect of miniature human beings in the film, trick photography was employed in some instances and enormous sets, to dwarf the actors, were used for close-ups. Barrymore's selection of a feminine disguise was made after much trial and error, the chief error being, according to report, that all wigs chosen for the actor made him look like his sister, Ethel. "We Went to College" is a comedy based on homecoming week at a large university, and the attempt of the old grads to recapture the spirit of their youth.

GEORGE RAFT and Dolores Costello Barrymore are co-starred in "Yours for the Asking," which comes to the Fox tomorrow, on the program with "The Final Hour." In "Yours for the Asking," Raft is the operator of a gambling house and Miss Barrymore, as the studio calls her, is a society girl with whom he falls in love. The two enter into a plan to convert her home into an elaborate gambling establishment, but Raft's business associates decide to break up the project by having Ida Lupino, in the role of a wealthy young woman, entice him away. For a time she succeeds, until Raft discovers the deception. Reginald Owen poses as Miss Lupino's English uncle. James Gleason, Lynne Overman and Edgar Kennedy are Raft's gambling henchmen. Among the extra players, photographed impromptu on the beach at Coronado Island, Cal., is Tookie Spreckles, heiress to a sugar fortune. She received $7.50 for her work and said she was satisfied. In "The Final Hour," Ralph Bellamy is a former millionaire on the verge of killing himself when a girl, Marguerite Churchill, befriends him. Eventually he is able to aid her in fighting a murder charge.

The Fox will show the latest edition of the March of Time, dealing with the Southern sharecroppers, the growth and development of the automobile trailer, and Mussolini's influence in Albania.

News item says that the Oklahoma City Chamber of Commerce is considering the following suggestion from one Roscoe E. Dickson—

"Every day, at an announced time, all fire sirens will start screaming simultaneously. Every citizen will stop whatever he may be doing, turn to the nearest person, vigorously shake his hand and say enthusiastically, 'We're living in the finest city in the United States!'"

Why not let him say, "We're living in the finest city in the United States, but the sirens are driving us nuts."

It would be interesting to try Mr. Dickson's plan—and see how many days would elapse before every citizen dropped what he was doing, turned to the nearest person and gave him a kick.

And if the sirens are too annoying, why not just let everybody start screaming simultaneously?

"Love Answers Our Desires And Fears"

It Is a Long Lesson That Doesn't Just Happen to People.

By Elsie Robinson

(Copyright, 1936.)

LOVE is a long lesson.
Love doesn't "just happen."
Nor is it handed us on a silver platter—
Love isn't something that's waiting for you around life's corner.
Like a shining gift from Santa Claus—
Nor something that descends upon you.
Suddenly miraculously, like a dose of measles!
Love is a long lesson—
Love doesn't happen, love grows—
Love grows within us—love is the result of what we have within us—
Love is the answer to our own desire and fear.
Our own pride and humiliation, our own hope and hunger.
Love is what-have-you?
Love is what-are-you?
Love is your own answer to yourself—
Love is as fine and as true, as brave and as lasting as your own self.
Love is the answer you make to your own question.
Love is a long lesson—
People never "Fall into love", and then stay put—
Love must be learned—
Love is a long lesson which you never entirely learn—
There is no such thing as a "perfect love"—
Love is always imperfect, always unfinished, always unsatisfactory, always insecure.
We are always falling into love and out of love.
And much of the time we cannot feel love at all,
Just as, much of the time, we cannot feel life at all,
But go plugging on and on—
Love and life are both a long lesson.
Love is a long lesson—
Do you remember that definition of Faith—?
"Now faith is the substance of things hoped for,
"The evidence of things not seen."
Love is like that—
Love is the substance of things hoped for—
Love is the evidence of things not seen—
Love is not what we are, but what we long to be—Love is not what we do, but what we wish we might—
Love is the spark that God once breathed into a lump of clay—
Always around the spark there lies the brutal clay—
Always around our love there lies STUPIDITY—
Love is a long, long lesson.
Love is a long lesson—
Do not expect to grasp love at once—
Do not expect to secure love easily.
Love costs more than any other thing in life,
Because love is worth more than any other part of life—
And you will never finish paying what love costs.
Love is a long lesson—
Love is a long paying—
The more you love the more you must pay,
But love is worth all that you pay.
Love is a long lesson—
But no true heart ever regretted learning love's lesson—
For love never cheats us, love never fails us—
Those we love may fail us—
We, ourselves, may fail love—
But love itself never fails us—
Love always pays—even an "unhappy love" pays—even a broken heart pays—
The soul that dares to love is always richer, always stronger, always wiser—
Love is a long lesson
But always love is the greatest lesson in life,
And no life is worth anything that has not learned to love.

My Dear Mrs. Carr:

THINGS have gotten to such a point that I cannot figure them out for myself. I am hoping you can help me. Here is my problem:

I am 18 and the boy is 20. We are both very much in love and we have been going together for two years. This boy asked me to marry him knowing that I have four years of college ahead of me, we agreed to wait. But in our enthusiasm we both forgot, until now, that the great difference in our religion would make a difference. He supposed, of course, that I would change mine. But, Mrs. Carr, I just cannot. I don't believe that way.

My mother said I could do as I saw best; but my father would never see it. This boy loves me and he means everything in the world to me; we agree that we will never love anyone else. He is taking this as hard as I. What shall we do? Shall we give each other up or shall we wait and see how the four years will affect our feeling and take the chance on getting married in the hope that everything will turn out all right? J. M.

I think the four years may reveal to both of you, gradually, whether or not you are capable of self-sacrifice and loyalty, which is the foundation of happy marriage; or whether each of you will be so hidebound that you are not willing to study the religious differences that now keep you apart, and adjust them as these things have been done before.

Why make a tragedy of it now? As I have said many times in this column, I believe that religious differences may be adjusted, whether by serious study of the different viewpoints or the generous wish that the other should be free to believe as he wishes; neither of you can be answerable for the other at the Bar of Heaven. If you think this, you have never thought or read much of these things and have not seen the old morality play, which so elucidates this.

I HAVE an ambition, the achievement of which I have not been able to realize through advertising mediums as it is not exactly a business thing.

I am a girl of 19, and have been doing all the housework, cooking, laundry for a neighbor for the past three months. She feels I am dependable and would like to help me. My cherished ambition is music, and I want so much to study voice. But the trouble is that I must go on working as usual while I study, but would not have time to practice.

I wonder if there might be, among your readers, some voice instructor who needs a girl to do housework and who would be willing to give instructions in exchange. I would like to stay on the place and could help take care of children, as I have had a great deal of experience in handling them. Of course, I can give best of references. I am leaving my address with you.

"FRANZ."

You probably know that, just at first at least, the voice student does not need, nor is she allowed, much time to practice alone. It is very easy for a beginner to overdo this work and injure a delicate organ. So, if you are not too fatigued and could manage time for your lessons and a half hour practice (divided into 10 or 15 minute periods) you might stay where you are and, with your present remuneration, be able to pay something. If you are the fortunate possessor of a lovely natural voice, and are very adaptable musically, possibly someone would be willing to make special terms for you.

D. J.

Thank you for the offer. About your friend who is peeved because you talked to some one else; just let him cool off and get over it. You have not given him any cause for offense.

Dear Mrs. Carr:

I READ the letter signed "Anxious" in today's paper about organizing a club for girls doing housework. I think it is an excellent idea and I hope this girl has written again and outlined her plan. I do housework and am from out of town. I also know four or five girls who think this idea a good one.

Hoping we hear from Anxious again about her plan.

DAILY READER.

As yet the plan she gave me is still indefinite. It seems to be mostly to provide a home for girls. There are several places which provide this and I hope "Anxious" may develop some interesting and definite plans; workable for the interests, recreation and improvement of girls who are doing housework and who are limited in time and opportunities. When she does, I shall be glad to print them; but so far, her suggestion for a "home" is not very clear, unless she means a place to stay.

Dear Mrs. Carr:

THANK you for your interest in my letter asking about "Ozark's" verse. I received a most interesting letter from her, in which she asked me to write her again. So I am enclosing a stamped envelope with the letter, and am asking that you please address and send it to her. She is so brave with all of the handicaps she has had and her mind is so alert that hearing from her is an inspiration.

THE town's boys and girls are still smiling quietly over Eleanor Holm Jarrett's visit with the fromer crown prince of Germany which received so much space in the American press.

It was the lovely mermaid's ecstatic comments on his ex-highness which evoked the modest chuckles. Probably the top, and for all time, was her quoted remark, "Say he's the most human being I can imagine!" Those who recall the stories of Friedrich Wilhelm before the World War could tell Eleanor that she has no idea HOW human. And, "Gee, I can forget I was put off the Olympic team!" the lovely one is said to have exclaimed, which seems pretty easy forgetting for the backstroke swim-champion of the world!

THE latest little girl in a very big job here is Blanche Brown, young expert in dietetics, who has just been charged with the task of creating a homelike atmosphere in the myriad stores of the nation's biggest restaurant chain. She prepped for this chore by planning and serving three meals daily to the 3000 inmates of the State infirmary!

Lured to a golf course in Westchester the other day, I saw a tricky golf skirt designed for the lady athletes of the woods and irons. It has a 12-inch zipper on each side, hidden under deep pleats. With the zipper closed, there is plenty of room for the golfing stance while with it open the wearer can walk, run or gallop along the fairways in pursuit of the elusive pellet.

The prettiest second-generation stage girl of the day is little Mary Rogers, daughter of the late beloved Will. Mary has been with us this summer, playing important ingenue roles in the dog-day theaters. The movie scouts are hot on her trail, but Mary tells me she wants a stage career first. Wise child—when she does go into films she'll know her business thoroughly.

Speaking of youngsters in the arts, the prodigy of the summer seems to be on Teresa Keane, an eight-year-old child with reddish-gold pigtails, who is said to possess an absolutely perfect coloratura voice. Josef Lhevinne, the pianist, is one of her ardent sponsors. Reserve a space at the Metropolitan Opera in about 12 years to hear young Mme. Keane give off the Bell Song from "Lakme."

FOR THE SAKE OF SALES PERSONALITY

A "Testing" Service That Checks on the Attitude of Employes Toward Difficult Customers and on General Ability.

By MARGUERITE MARTYN

HAVE you had an unusually pesky customer today—one who tried your patience, asking a lot of fool questions you might or might not be expected to know the answers to, demanding the limit of service and attention, hurrying you, looking you critically up and down, examining his change suspiciously, apparently doing his best to provoke a sassy answer from you?

I hope you stood up under the ordeal and refused to be fussed and bothered, for your tormenter may not have been a customer at all, but an operative of Willmark Service System, Inc., putting you through a test in order to write a report on your manners, looks, ability, resourcefulness, integrity and general salesmanship for your employer.

It's all for your own good and the good of the organization of which you are a part and for the improvement of standards of service and efficiency in all lines of work. So, don't get mad when you learn you are under espionage. You won't get fired for any lapse in your dealings, unless it is a serious one, though you may receive a little extra instruction and attention from your personnel manager.

Your "customer" is only intent on making you a more valuable employe and will give you the benefit of every reasonable doubt when he reports on you. Really he is very sympathetic at heart and earnest in his desire to improve you though that's almost as difficult to believe as when your mother spanked you and told you it hurt her more than it did you.

According to a writer in Fortune Magazine observing the actions of one of these "customers" who happened this time to be a "hotel guest."—"A Willmark man begins by calling the hotel to make a reservation. He notes the operator's response and then attempts to irritate her. At the hotel he studies the looks, remarks and efficiency of the doormen, room clerks and elevator men. When he gets to his room he calls a bellboy eight or nine times, never offers him a tip. Then he dashes out and calls himself up to find out whether the message he leaves for himself is properly delivered. Back in the hotel, he sends his suit to the cleaner's with 75 cents in the pocket to see if the valet is honest. He looks under the bed for dust, leers at the chambermaid, orders impossible dishes in the restaurant, shouts at the waiter, and makes a general effort to test the patience of everyone working in the hotel. After making an inventory of everything in his room from the penholder to the 'Do not disturb' sign and looking into everything that needs probing, the operative loiters a while in the corridor looking suspicious to see if the hotel detective is alert, and then departs. His report is forwarded to the hotel, and later on another operative goes back to see if the service has improved."

"Yes, that's somewhat the way we work," admitted Richard Peterson, manager of the Willmark agency in St. Louis. "We don't attempt to set up unusual conditions through which to trap unwary employes, but it is not unusual for hotel guests to be exacting in the matter of service and our shoppers, to make their observations constructive, must be able to apprehend faults in salesmanship that affront the better than average, skillful, cautious, captious or ignorant customer."

A LITTLE reluctant he was to talk about his business, for, said he, "Our methods and our relations with our clients are necessarily confidential. It isn't a secret service any more than detective agencies are secret. Some concerns employing the protection of a detective agency post a notice to that effect on their doors as a warning to trespassers. Some of our clients request that our emblem be posted for its moral and precautionary effect on employes and as an assurance to customers of high standards of service."

It is a nice emblem representing a magnifying glass and a test tube and bearing mottos, "Testing to prevent" and "Builders of personnel."

"However," continued Mr. Peterson, "there is an element of secrecy in our methods which gives them one of their chief values. Individual firms may employ professional shoppers of their own to detect evidence of irregularities, inefficiency and discourtesy among their employes. These are likely to become known to the personnel, hated as 'spotters,' and their efforts thus rendered ineffective. With our widely organized system and unlimited resources in trained analysts we keep crews of investigators unknown by changing, shifting and rotating them from one place to another. Also with a large and mobile staff we can afford to give expert service to small as well as large concerns in scattered communities."

Willmark's claims to be the pioneer service of its kind in its field and the only one organized on a national scale. It operates from a home office in New York where master records are kept and new tactics in testing and strategies in planning are worked out to be carried on through a net work of branch offices in 21 principal cities out of which crews of "sales personnel checkers," trained to the last degree in fact finding, cover 1500 smaller cities and are available for surveys anywhere they are called. Subscribers pay annual fees from $250 to $1500, depending on the size, location, number of employes in their business, and Willmark's will test, check and report on every employe from the lowest to the highest several times a year.

St. Louis has 44 subscribers to the service among department stores, hotels, drug stores, markets, gasoline stations, offices, cigar stores, shops, big and little, and chain systems. For reasons indicated Mr. Peterson would not name them. Still, he insisted, "it isn't a spy system. It is an educational one designed through testing and correcting to prevent rather than detect shortcomings. We always give an employe the benefit of every doubt when reporting on him. It is a service to develop high standards of personnel as well as to prevent losses through carelessness, inefficiency and dishonesty. Our individual reports are turned over to personnel managers with recommendations for the treatment of special cases that need it and with general recommendations covering the entire personnel.

"We work with the personnel or educational departments of the industries. Colorful attractive literature is supplied dealing with essentials of system and salesmanship—clear easily understood rules for the proper handling of cash registers, the proper method and time of handling transactions, the value of an effective approach in selling, proper appearance of salespeople, protection against short change manipulators, the power of suggestive selling to increase sales volume—these are a few high lights of a well rounded educational plan.

"A shopper making a test," he explained, "carries a blank which he fills out upon concluding a transaction, or as soon as he can do so unobserved. The salesperson is graded on appearance, dress, neatness. On promptness. On greeting, the manner of approach to a customer. On knowledge of merchandise handled, the brand he pushes, how he recommends it. Manner of trying to increase sales by suggestion. High pressure methods rate a low grade but helpful information and suggestions about values and goods in stock pull his grade up. On closing a sale, and system of handling sales. Then there is a space for remarks.

"WE employ both men and women shoppers, more women than men because we have more clients dealing in things women buy. To qualify as a shopper a man or woman must possess a thoroughly rounded educational background. We prefer college trained people because they have been found better able to concentrate, take one thing at a time. Each shopper must complete a three to six weeks' training course before being placed in the field. He or she must demonstrate an analytical mind, a keen sense of observation and retentive memory. They take eyesight, memory and adaptability tests and must learn to act like bona fide patrons.

"Over each crew is a supervisor. These are chosen for knowledge and actual experience in retail systems and methods and for ability to meet changing conditions, strengthen and develop the best trade practices."

Anyway, next time you have a difficult customer, better not dismiss him merely as a "pill." He may be putting you through a test for your own improvement, for the good of business in general, for the purpose of keeping each of us on our toes, at the top notch of our efficiency.

Or, now that the secret is out, will it only give all genuine customers new occasions to act their crankiest?

Problems of Social Usage For Weddings

The Propriety of White for Bride Who Is Past 30 Years Old.

By Emily Post

Dear Mrs. Post:

THROUGH no fault of my fiance or mine, we have had to wait 10 years for our wedding, which we are planning now. Waiting all these years means that I am a bride late in the '30s. I have always longed to wear the traditional white and a wedding veil, but am I too old now — especially since I do not look any younger than I am?

Emily Post

Answer: The question of whether you may wear white and a veil depends not so much upon your own age as upon the age of all those who are going to be present at your wedding. In other words, if you are asking people of your own age and older, you would look entirely charming in a dress of, let's say, creamish white and a creamish white veil. But if the people you are inviting to your wedding include many young members of your family, then your looks in contrast to theirs would probably make your wedding veil seem unbecoming. In this last case I would, if I were you, wear whichever color is most becoming to your skin, and a hat. I would not have more than one attendant, a child if you like, or someone of about your own age. I am taking it for granted that you are not having an enormous wedding!

Dear Mrs. Post: My best friend is to be married soon and I am to be best man at the wedding. As I will not arrive until the night before, I want to send a present beforehand from here. But the question is—what? I'm a man alone, with no sister or mother or any one to send out to shop for him and I don't know what to buy. I wish I might be allowed to send a check, but strange as it may seem I have not met the bride and I would hesitate to send money to a stranger without first finding out what is customary.

Answer: I think the best thing you can do—especially if you are giving a present of any importance—is to send a check to the groom, and ask him to come to the rescue and buy your present to the bride for you. But if you are spending a very moderate amount, ash trays, cigarette boxes, a small clock, are examples of things of which a house cannot have too many. In any case, I would buy something useful, if I were you, rather than something merely decorative.

Dear Mrs. Post: I have noticed that when a man and woman arrive as guests at a church wedding, the usher offers his arm to the woman and the man simply follows them to the pew. But what is the procedure when a man goes to the wedding alone? Surely he isn't expected to take the usher's arm!

Answer: No! He walks beside him, of course.

BACK TO PORT

A Serial Story

BY ETHEL WILLIS HEWITT

Nick Confronts Elsa With What He Heard, and Refuses to Listen to Her Side — Rough Seas Ahead.

CHAPTER FOUR.

The story thus far: Months ago Chris Valentine, wealthy sportsman, told Elsa Swan that he'd be waiting if she decided to come to him. Penniless and jobless in New York, Elsa accepted his offer, and is now on shipboard sailing for France. Joe Sterling, professional gambler and friend of Chris, finally tells Elsa that Chris doesn't intend to marry her, as she has thought. Elsa is amazed and frightened. But she has met and become very much attached to Nick Hudson, young Texan on his way to study art in Paris.

SHE got up blindly and went toward the steps. On the lower deck there was music and the soft shuffling of many feet. At the foot of the steps she came face to face with Nick.

Ignoring the fact that he had been looking for her for hours, that neither had dressed or dined, he drew her out on the floor and into his arms. Again he danced with that close, deliberate fury that intoxicated her, not speaking. Elsa tried to draw back, but his arms were like steel. When the music stopped he led her up on the boat deck. By the two chairs she and Sterling had occupied he stopped and turned her around abruptly.

"Well—there's something you had to tell me?" he questioned, almost rudely.

Elsa's heart seemed to stop beating.

"What do you mean?" she asked in a small voice.

Nick laughed, a wild, reckless laugh.

"Mean? You know darn well what I mean. Dumb fool that I was" he said in an explosive whisper.

He caught her by the shoulders.

"So, you're visiting friends in Paris? Going to Cris, you mean?" he added savagely.

Elsa felt the blood drain from her heart, leaving her cold and numb.

"Well?" he said hoarsely, shaking her with sudden fury.

Still she couldn't speak.

"And I wanted you for my wife when——"

He caught her to him, crushing her in his arms, pressing hard, fierce kisses on her mouth, hurting her cruelly. He was beside himself with fury; mad with a vanished dream.

"Nick," she managed weakly. "For God's sake—Nick——"

He loosened her suddenly. His arms limp at his sides, he sank back against the lifeboat.

"You're right, that makes me as —as common as you are," he said dully.

His face was agonized, his young eyes sullen with the bitterness of defeat.

"Nick, I can explain, if——"

Nick laughed. "Try a new one, that's out. It's been used since Eve's time by women who have wrecked men's lives," he said bitterly.

Elsa, in a little desperate rush, came nearer to him, laid her hand on his arm.

"Nick, please——"

"Don't touch me—I don't want you that way—God!" He pushed her aside rudely and covered his face with his hands.

Elsa sank into a chair, caught in his despair, dumb with the hurt of his arms, his kisses.

The moon was up, showing white across the deck—out over the water, to where the liner churned a fan of white lace that widened and dipped below the horizon. Music drifted up from below, and the tank of sea air lost its sharpness in the perfume of women and smoke.

"What about this—this Cris? What's he to you?" Nick asked doggedly.

"Nothing, I——" she stopped, not knowing how to tell him.

He drew her up before him roughly.

"Don't lie to me! I was there by the rail. I heard—too much. As much as I could stand, then I walked right past you. I've a right to know what he is to you——!" There was something compelling in his voice, in the tight clasp of his arms.

"AREN'T you human enough to know what you've done to me? You've destroyed my belief in everything fine and decent. You've cheated and lied. You've let me hold you in my arms as a man holds only one woman in the world—the woman he wants for his wife."

His voice, slow and agonized, beat like a tom-tom against her over-wrought nerves. Suddenly something in her seemed to go to pieces, to break up into little bits. She flung herself into his arms wildly.

"Nick, Cris is nothing to me—I've never been anything to any man, I swear it. Look at me—look in my eyes! There must be some way a man can tell," she cried, her voice trailing off in a faint whisper.

Nick didn't speak. She drew back, stood with her arms stretched down at her side, palms out, her face up, tears trembling on her long lashes. She could pay back the money she owed Cris—some way. She'd make Nick believe her, he'd have to, it meant life to them both. He was looking at her dumbly.

"Nothing can change the fact that Sterling knows—this. That this Cris and his friends know," he said bitterly.

"But Nick, you didn't hear it all! You couldn't have heard everything Sterling told me——"

"It's no use." His eyes rested on hers, burning, tense, agonized.

"Elsa!" It was the merest mutter of a whisper, full of heartbreak, reaching out for her, wanting her, sweeping everything aside.

Elsa waited, humble, her eyes bright with tears, her heart beating wildly.

They stood, like two splendid young animals in a jungle, where muscles flex equally to desire or to tear each other to pieces.

Nick's eyes widened, but without brightness. His nails dug cruelly into his palms.

"God!" he exclaimed in a heartbreaking sob.

He turned abruptly on his heel and left her. Elsa sank back against the boat like a wounded thing, bleeding, left to die. She made no protest—uttered no word.

It was early afternoon of the next day, and the smoking room was full, crowded with those who had lingered since luncheon and would be there until dinner. They were expansive in luxurious comfort, taking their recreation at cards reading, arguments and flirtations.

Sterling sat at a table with the ship's doctor, Halburt, chatting about the races at Ascot. Elsa came in, lovely in pale yellow flannel, looking listless, some of here brightness dulled, her eyes shadowed. She stopped at their table. Looking around, she sank wearily into the chair Sterling drew up for her.

"There's a little roll," she said suddenly, her face a shade paler.

Sterling leaned over and filled a glass. "Have a drink," he said amiably.

"Haven't seen young Hudson today," the doctor said with a sly glance at Elsa. "Thought I might drop into his cabin to see if anything's wrong."

Elsa flushed. Sterling caught the quiver of her mouth and changed the subject.

"There is a slight list, on the port side. Noticed it last night when we were at the bar," he said drolly.

"Probably a cased automobile or two broke loose. If there's a list they'll straighten her up," he remarked with confidence.

"And if the ocean gets too kinky I suppose they'll flatten her out, so you needn't worry, Miss Swan, the ship's officers are the last word in efficiency," Sterling jabbered lightly.

The crowd was thinning; little groups, laughing, betting, arguing, drifted up to the horse races. Sterling glanced again at Elsa, as they left the smoky confusion of the room.

"Anything I can do?" he asked in a muted voice.

Elsa ran her arm through his, smiling up at him gratefully.

"Shall I stick around?" he asked quietly, as they went up to the races.

"Please." That was all.

They watched the ship's horses lined up, made their bets and waited. Silly, childish pastime. People betting, throwing dice. Jockey stewards pushing wooden horses along the improvised track. Crowds pressed together, eager, excited; shouting to No. 2, No. 4, with all the gusto that sweeps along at Louisville, Ascot, Belmont.

ELSA watched them with wide, unseeing eyes. She might have drunk more deeply of wine, until she whipped her lagging spirit into some semblance of life; she might have thrown herself into the excitement of the races, or a mild flirtation with any one of the dozen young men who looked her way, or —more definitely, into the wide, ruthless ocean. But she didn't; she just sat staring, the wind stinging her face, hot tears scalding her eyes.

Sterling's hand pressed her arm.

"I've discovered the most absurd thing, a Punch and Judy show on deck D, for the kiddies," he said in an amused whisper.

"And you think I'm in their class?" she asked.

Sterling's fine eyes met her gaze squarely.

"Just at present I—I think it'd do you good," he answered quite seriously.

Elsa got to her feet.

"Very well—let's go."

Above, in the officer's cabin, the ship's first officer remarked to the second officer that he thought he'd take a look about.

"You mean that list? It doesn't seem to right itself, I've noticed that," replied the second officer.

The radio in the officers' cabin, muted down, had picked up some dance music from New York. It jazzed away merrily as the first officer adjusted his cap, gazing absently at the bold photograph of a ship on the wall. Suddenly, the music, crisp and clear, wore thin beneath the stronger atmospherics. It picked up again for a brief blare of saxophones, then trailed off into silence.

"Humph," grunted the first officer.

In the wireless room the sandy-haired, squint-eyed operator munched a sandwich. Bell, the night operator, sauntering past, dropped in for a quip or two.

"How's tricks, Lancaster?" he asked jauntily.

Lancaster, about to set his teeth in his sandwich, removed it patiently.

"They'd better cork us up; we're in for a good shaking." He lifted the sandwich again; this time his strong teeth dug in.

"What's the lowdown?" Bell asked jerkedly.

Lancaster paused, shifted his mouthful to the left jaw and ran a bony hand through his scant crop of damp hair.

"Thick weather, gale from north —high sea," he snapped shortly.

"Humph," Bell drew his lank form together and strolled aft toward the steps.

Below, the first officer discovered the fore-and-aft bulkhead in the upper hold No. 21 had stove. Three cased automobiles had shifted about 10 feet to port. He squared his shoulders and went forward. Well, it was something to locate the trouble.

He gave orders and sent the quartermaster to take a look around starboard. This done, he took a turn through the lounge, along the promenade deck. The ship's passengers were taking it informally. Playing bridge, strolling the decks, lolling in deck chairs or napping.

He whistled softly as he climbed to the boat deck, his eyes on the mist that blurred the horizon.

The Necessity Of Forgetting About Oneself

By The Rev. J. F. Newton

"I'M JUST an ordinary human being," a reader writes, "perplexed by the job of living, like so many others. It is all the harder for me, because I am so intense, energetic and nervous.

"Often one wishes there were no such things as nerves. Either they are all strung-up and ready to snap, or all unstrung for imps to play on like the man on the famous flying trapeze.

"What you wrote about life as an art, giving us the formula 'Relax, Realize, Resolve,' helped a lot. It is hard to practice, at first, but I am making headway slowly, and I find that it works.

"Anyway, it took that piece to point out to me that a very trying and disagreeable experience I had suffered was good for me. I have to thank you for a lesson I hope never to forget."

My letters from "ordinary" folk are often extraordinary, and they do me more good than my pieces can ever do anyone. Not many people are able to estimate themselves at their true value.

All of us are nervous in these days. The world is so messed up, so jumpy and jumbled, that it makes us jumpy. Besides, it all piles in upon us at once in a way our fathers did not know.

As a result, a great psychologist told us recently, other people not only get on our nerves, but, what is worse, we got on our own nerves. We have ourselves too much on our minds for our own good.

In short, we are too self-conscious, too self-centered, and much too self-indulgent. We can rid ourselves of most of our ills only by deliberate discipline and we are too busy for that.

We must take ourselves in hand get ourselves off our minds, by taking hold of something bigger than ourselves; in a pinch, anything, just so it helps us slough off our self-centered lives.

Our religion ought to help us here, and if it does not there is something wrong with it, or with us. We can learn to relax the tension, realize what life is, and resolve to live it better.

Puddle Muddle Paper Chase Is A Great Success

By Mary Graham Bonner

HONEY BEAR and Jelly Bear had been gone a long time. "They should be on their way home now," said Willy Nilly. "It is time for us to start."

Willy Nilly and Rip ran together as partners which meant that they had to decide between them which trails to take and that they had to stay together.

Blacky Bear ran with the little cub Chubby.

Jupiter Bear ran with Sweet Face, the lamb.

Christopher Columbus Crow and Top Notch, the rooster, were partners.

Mr. and Mrs. Quacko Duck ran together, or rather they waddled together.

Mr. and Mrs. Quackles were partners, and the other ducks waddled in pairs.

All sorts of accidents happened on the paper chase. Top Notch fell in a muddy patch and got his beautiful white feathers very soiled, but he kept on going and did not fuss about his appearance. In fact, they all loved the paper chase so much that they thought of nothing else but the hoped-for joy of winning, the laughter and disappointment that followed when they realized they had taken a false trail.

Sweet Face was stung by a bee, but he did not object. The cub Chubby, passed by a place where there was honey to be had, and yet he kept on going.

But it was won by Christopher and Top Notch. They were as clever as could be at getting the right trails, though even they made a few mistakes.

The paper chase was voted a great success.

MAGICAL 2-MINUTE OATMEAL FACIAL FOR OILY SKIN AND COMPLEXION BLEMISHES!

1 BLEND a little Lavena with water.

2 APPLY to face. Wash off. Take 2 minutes.

3 NOW! Skin is radiant, clear! Velvety and fresh.

• Lavena is not a cold cream, not a soap. It is made of oatmeal, one of the most popular, effective beautifying ingredients women know.

Pulverized and especially blended so as to make your skin shades clearer in only 2 minutes. Grease-free so it cannot make pores cloggy or oily. Deep-cleans. Soothes and softens dry, tender skin.

One 60c package equals 6 full jars of facial cream. 35c and 60c sizes at department, variety, and drug stores. 10c size at 10c stores. If your dealer doesn't supply it, write Lavena, Chicago.

Cold Cuts.

When puzzled as to what to have on the warm night, give yourself a rest and take a trip to the corner delicatessen to produce an attractive platter. Buy just four ounces of each meat, but buy four or five different kinds. Arrange on a silver platter in rows and garnish with strips of pimento, thin slices of tomato and hearts of lettuce. Pay attention to color schemes and you have a delightful change in meats for the family.

Darned Linens

One woman mends all her table linen on her sewing machine. She first puts the worn place in her embroidery hoops. Then she loosens the tension of the machine and stitches back and forth until the places are neatly darned. After laundering, the mended portion is very hard to find.

Double your money back

If Spry isn't the BEST shortening you ever used

"DOUBLE your money back" tells the whole story. Spry must be a better shortening or we'd never dare make such an offer!

Spry is whiter, smoother, creamier. It's a purer ALL-vegetable shortening. You don't have to keep Spry in the refrigerator and then "thaw" it out before you can use it. Spry is so pure that it stays fresh and sweet right on the pantry shelf and is always the right consistency for quick, easy creaming.

Spry is better for frying, too. Doesn't smoke up the kitchen. Still sweet and clear after repeated frylings. You can use it over and over.

New deliciousness

Use Spry for all your baking and frying. Watch the family sit up and take notice. Hear them boast about the new lightness and fineness of your cakes and biscuits. Sing the praises of your tender, flaky pastry—your crisp, tasty fried foods that are as easy to digest as if baked or boiled. Don't delay another day. Try Spry now entirely at our risk.

AMAZING OFFER

Buy a can of Spry from your grocer. Give Spry every test in pies, cakes, biscuits, fried foods. If you don't find Spry the best shortening you ever used, write to Lever Brothers Company, Cambridge, Mass., stating briefly your reasons for not preferring Spry. Send your name and address and the strip of tin that the key takes off when you open the can. You will promptly receive back twice what you paid for Spry. This offer is limited to one can to a family.

Molasses Nut Pie

Two cups molasses, the juice of one lemon, two tablespoons cornstarch moistened with a little cold water, one-half teaspoon nutmeg, one teaspoon cinnamon, two tablespoons melted butter, three egg yolks, one-half cup sugar, one cup chopped walnuts. Mix ingredients in order given, then fold in the stiffly whipped whites of three eggs. Line a pie plate with a rich pastry, then coat the bottom with white of egg and pour in the mixture. Bake for a half hour in a fairly hot oven. A delightful and very different treat is in store for you.

Pineapple Ice Box Pudding

Thirty ladyfingers, five egg whites, two cups flaked fresh pineapple, one pint whipped cream, one package plain gelatine. Beat egg whites until stiff, add sugar and stiffly whipped cream. Drain pineapple and add. Dampen the tablespoon of gelatine in cold pineapple juice and melt over hot water. Add to the mixture and pour into a mold or dish lined with the ladyfingers. Add more ladyfingers atop and set in the refrigerator over night.

Ham and Potato Cakes

A nice dish for the person who likes a more substantial breakfast. One cup ground ham, one-half cup mashed potatoes, one tablespoon melted butter, salt, pepper, and enough milk to make into patties. Saute in bacon drippings on both sides. Serve on a heated platter, garnished with parsley.

oners of starvation," with their strong voices, deep chests, powerful fists and pink complexions.

M. Gerard, in the Chamber of Deputies, French merchants and hotel keepers face the old puzzle about eating your cake and having it.

Paris, as hectic as Billy Sunday's old sawdust trail, has no fast-spending foreigners. In the Ritz Carlton, on the Place Vendome, where Napoleon looks down from his bronze column, only one American was to be seen—one that happened to be an exact mental and physical duplicate of Bonaparte, same height, same courage, connected with the American law firm of White & Case, which has an office on the Place Vendome, and does business, even to the music of the "Internationale." That young lawyer could have made a living in Carthage, the week after the Romans left, but he is sorry about France:

"Why, I went to the races, biggest event of the Paris social season. Ordinarily I would meet all of Palm Beach and Fifth avenue there, and I saw just two Americans to speak to. Think of that, will you?"

And that man knows everybody in America worth $5,000,000 or more. His acquaintance is diminishing, by the way.

To prevent a crust from forming on the top of cooked corn meal, grease the top well before setting it away to cool for frying.

"We're taking the Choo-Choo to see Granny"

New low fares bring Pennsylvania Railroad Safety, Speed, Comfort within the reach of All!

Mother and Dad are taking brother and sister back home to see their Grandparents. Or rather, to let grandma and grandpa see them. Thrilled? It's a precious memory the family will never forget. Have you been thinking of taking the family back home "sometime"? Or of bringing Mother and Dad to visit with you? NOW'S the time to do it, at the NEW LOW FARES.

See these examples of how little it costs at the new low rail fares—2c a mile in coaches—3c a mile in Pullmans. (Even lower ... only ½ fare... for children between 5 and 12 years.)

From St. Louis to:

	In Coaches	In *Pullmans
Atlantic City	$20.50	$30.75
Petoskey	13.30	19.95
New York	21.15	31.75
Washington	18.10	27.15
Terre Haute	3.50	5.25

"All my life I'm going to Keep using Camay"

SAYS THIS LOVELY CHICAGO BRIDE

CHICAGO, ILL.

Really, Camay is remarkable the way it brightens and freshens your face. That's why, all my life, I'm going to keep using Camay!

Sincerely,
(Signed) MADELEINE BERRY
(Mrs. Gilbert Berry)

May 6, 1936

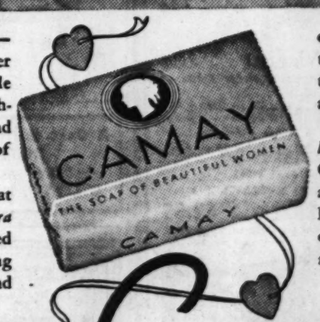

WHEN the new Mrs. Gilbert Berry walks into a room you just can't help staring—she's so lovely! First you think it's her beautiful features, then you decide swiftly it's her radiance, her fresh, youthful complexion. But most of all you wonder what magic potion, what priceless secret guards such beauty!

"I have a priceless secret," says she, "but it costs very little. And I'm more than willing to share it. It's Camay!"

Try Camay on your own skin! See what this bland beauty soap can do for you—how delightfully fresh its fragrant lather feels on your face—how its active little bubbles cleanse so gently, so deeply, searching out all imperfections—how soft and fine and smooth it keeps the texture of your skin.

For Camay is that perfect treasure, that boon to all complexions, a soap of extra mildness. Procter & Gamble has tested Camay for mildness against the leading beauty soaps—tested it in laboratories and on women's skin. Time after time in these tests, the result was the same—Camay was the mildest of them all—definitely, provably milder.

So don't delay another minute, order at least a half-dozen cakes of Camay today. Camay's low price is always such a pleasant surprise! Discover as young Mrs. Berry did what radiant clearness, among other good things, a Camay beauty treatment brings to your complexion.

BEWARE OF WAX IN FACE CREAM!

For a penetrating, deep-working skin cream, change to Luxor Special Formula, THE WAX-FREE CREAM. An utterly new and sensational improvement in skin cleansing.

● Insist on using a wax-free cream, especially in summer when pores are over-active and naturally larger—thus making them extra susceptible to clogging. Luxor is absolutely wax-free, made from an exclusive special formula. Watch this amazing cream disappear completely on your skin, then reappear laden with pore-deep dirt. It cleanses thoroughly, stimulates and at the same time leaves a perfect powder base. At all cosmetic counters, 55c and $1.10. 10c sizes at 10c stores.

AN ADVERTISEMENT FOR HUSKIES, THE NEW POST CEREAL

ATHLETES PRAISE HUSKIES

NEW WHOLE WHEAT CEREAL RATES "TOPS" FOR FLAVOR AND FOOD-ENERGY

Stars, coaches, trainers call Huskies "Finest breakfast treat ever!"

Just try a bowl of HUSKIES yourself! Tomorrow—for breakfast. Or even better . . . for supper tonight!

Then you'll know why great athletes like Frankie Frisch, Helen Hicks, Hank Greenberg, Georgia Coleman, and scores of others say—you just can't beat HUSKIES!

A brand-new flavor!

HUSKIES bring you a brand-new, deliciously different flavor! That's because HUSKIES are made with a special process that brings out the full, rich flavor of sun-ripened whole wheat.

And HUSKIES are double-toasted for extra crispness. They stay crunchy and crisp in milk or cream—right down to the last delicious spoonful!

Rich in food-energy!

The same sun-ripened whole wheat that gives HUSKIES their zesty flavor, gives them unusual food value, too. You know, a whole wheat cereal is one of the finest breakfast dishes you can eat. Dietitians and food authorities say that whole wheat is a regular store-house of many important food essentials.

And HUSKIES give you all these valuable properties of whole wheat—in the most delicious breakfast cereal you ever tasted! Get your package today!

ST. LOUIS STAR CHEERS HUSKIES

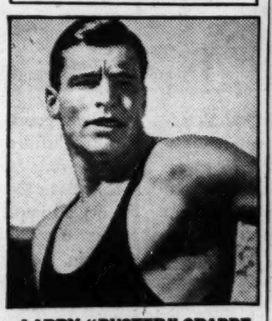

JIMMY "RIP" COLLINS, St. Louis Cardinals' famous first baseman, writes: "A 'four-bag slam' is the only way I can describe HUSKIES." He adds, "A fellow has to keep in condition to slam the ball for a hit when it's needed . . . that's one reason I'm so strong for HUSKIES. They're packed with the food-energy an athlete needs, and they help build muscle, too! The other reason I eat HUSKIES every morning? Say—it's the best-tasting cereal I ever found! That new, different flavor is tops with me . . . just wait 'til you try it!"

"A HIT WITH ME!" SAYS NET QUEEN

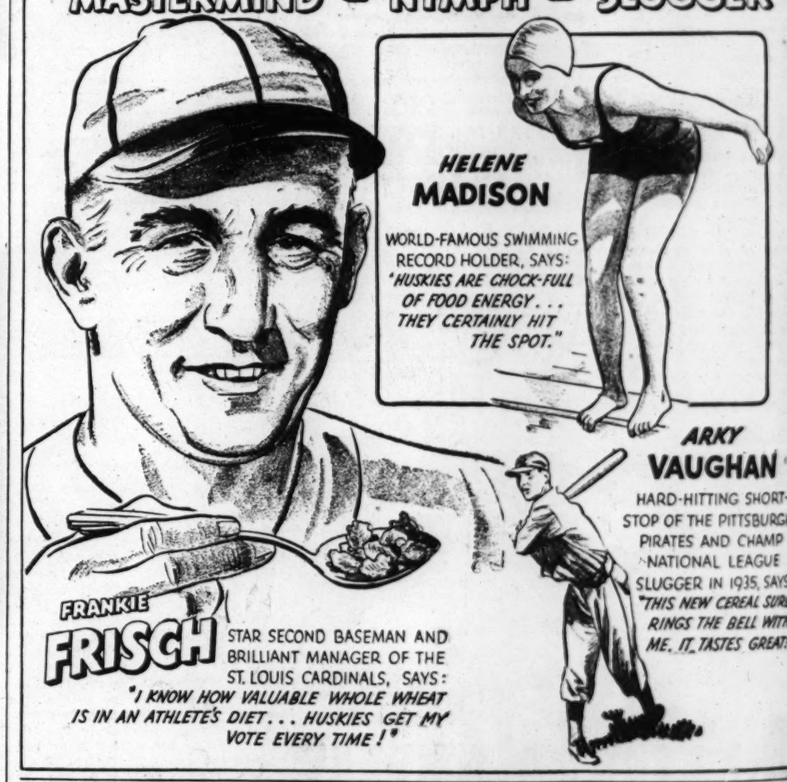

JANE SHARP, former National Indoor Singles and Doubles Tennis Champion, and winner of many sectional championships, says: "I've never tasted a cereal that has made such a big hit with me! HUSKIES are delicious for breakfast . . . and I know that they are just full of the valuable food essentials of whole wheat which are so important."

OLYMPIC CHAMP KEEPS IN TRIM

LARRY "BUSTER" CRABBE, Olympic Swimming Champ who starred in the 1932 games, and now stars in the Universal serial "Flash Gordon." Larry writes: "Believe me, HUSKIES have what it takes! They're full of food-energy, and they have the grandest flavor I ever tasted!"

HUSKIES give you these Food Essentials

HUSKIES are made of whole wheat with whole wheat's goodness toasted into every flake! They give you all these valuable food essentials of the whole wheat berry:

Iron for blood. Phosphorus and other valuable mineral salts for strong bones and teeth. Carbohydrates for food-energy. Protein to help build muscle. And Vitamins A, B, E, and G—important to good nutrition.

And in addition to all these food essentials that help build husky bodies, HUSKIES have the first new, deliciously different cereal flavor in years! How youngsters go for 'em! Get HUSKIES at your grocer's today!

Let's EXPLORE Your MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.

See Whether His Opinions Agree With Your Own

AUTHOR'S NOTE: These answers are given from the scientific point of view. Science puts the rights of organized society above the rights of individuals.

1.—You cannot set up any one rule that all women will follow. Different women react differently. There is probably a stronger tendency in nature for a mother to cling to her child rather than to its father. It is probably a trait that aided the race in surviving. The father has seen his day, but the race must be carried on by the child. If it became necessary, I think most normal women would sacrifice the father for the child. I think they should.

2.—Wm. Moulton Marston, psychologist, experimented with juries, as related in Esquire, and found they were much more likely to believe the reckless, positive witness, instead of the one who carefully considered every question before answering—precisely the opposite of what they should have done. In one case the jurors ignored 11 cautious, careful witnesses and believed one who threw caution and reason to the winds. Just another reason out of several millions for abolishing the jury system altogether—especially in criminal cases.

3.—Adults don't give a hoot—fortunately — about training their minds. This is brought out emphatically by Ladd C. Prucha in School and Society, who says (paraphrased): "Students in adult education don't care a rap about something that will give them fine minds in the future. What they want is something they can use now. They want to make their way more easily and profitably in this present confused world. They don't care to know the name of the ship in which Columbus discovered America — they want to know how to make a good living for themselves and their families and enjoy life in the America here today. In my judgment "mind-training" is a very doubtful doctrine anyhow. The best mind-training is gaining usable knowledge and then using it.

Face Washing Is Important To Good Looks

"There Should Be a National Face Washing Week" for Better Complexions.

By Helen Jameson.

IT IS the way of some misguided women to be fastidious about their creams and powders, not care much what kind of soap they use. They overlook the fact that soap is the queen of beautifiers. Nothing can take its place. Nothing else is so efficacious.

On the boulevards and on the byways the observers of the female of the species will see plenty of dingy looking faces. Many of them are just plain dirty. They look that way because they carry a coating of skin exudations, atmospheric filth and makeup that has been applied with a lavish hand and soiled pads. Strong talk this, but there are too many casual face washers. There should be a national face washing week. Some phizes would come out several shades lighter, complexions would carry a look of freshness that only a rousing old scrubbing can impart.

The cutaneous coating of the face is precisely the same as that of the rest of the body. Usually it isn't any more sensitive. True, it has a tough row to hoe, being subjected to wind, sunlight and flying dust. Glands are active there, pores likely to enlarge, collect black points. Thorough cleansings twice a day are imperative. Friction is necessary to tone the small muscular fibers under the skin and to keep blood streams on the jump.

SOME women have a fobia against soap, use only clear water. A fine chance clear water has to fight a combination of dirt and grease. Try it on your hands after doing the dusting. Other girls stick to cream, don't use soap at all. We have no grudge against creams, they are elegant and they help. But the main renovating job should be done with soap. Make a rousing, crackling lather. Nothing like it to do away with blackheads and to insure against pimples. Use cream, too. All you want. And skin tonics. But pin your faith to soap.

If the skin rebels against the sudsing, put on a film of cream, wash gently with a cloth that has been dipped in soapy water. Rinse with warm water, dry gently, use the cream again. Every woman should have a cleansing oil or thin emollient to use when the scrubbing is not convenient.

A FRESH wash cloth every day. That is a hard and fast rule. Have it large and thick. Foam up a rich suds. Have the water warm, very warm. Follow along with a cold rinse to contract the pores and punish the sebaceous glands, but don't do that if cream is to be used. Creams put on a better beautifying performance if the skin is warm. Always it should be thoroughly dry.

Don't economize on soap. Get the best. What agrees with one skin may not be congenial to the next.

If there is a rousing old scouring at night, clear water will serve in the morning. Before dinner soap should be used again and a bit of foundation cream applied before the beautifying batik goes on in the form of powder, rouge and lipstick.

Don't Let Dull Talk Make You a Bore

HO-HUM! How Nancy's tiresome conversation bores Bert. No wonder! She limits her vocabulary to the same old worn-out words and phrases.

"I said," "he said," "she said"—she drones on and on. How much brighter and livelier if she colored her talk occasionally with "I giggled" or "he spluttered" or "she drawled." Why can't she use other phrases in place of her overworked "white as snow," "busy as a bee"? Worst of all, she twists "suite" into SOOT and "favorite" into FAYV-right. SWEET and FAY-vor-it are right, of course.

You can shine in conversation. Our 32-page booklet give hits on making your vocabulary glow with charm. Add new words, well-turned phrases. Read our list of speech blunders. See what to avoid! A guide to winning speech.

A Borrowed Book

Many people are very careless about a borrowed book, first, not taking the best of care of it while reading and many times neglecting to return the book for months to its owner. Treat book just as you would a borrowed sum of money and return it as soon as possible. The owner is interested in the book if you are not.

Two Fires

By Fred B. Ebel

RADIO ENGINEER DICK FOWLER saw brown eyes adore him from the office adjoining the laboratory, decided to hand in his resignation this very night. Much better, he thought, than to suffer the twinges of conscience, feel miserable because he hadn't shown gratitude to this plain-looking creature who had got this fine job for him and who tortured him with sheep's eyes. Yes, much better.

He threw down the coil he was designing for a new short-wave receiver . . . How could he show he was grateful? He had done everything befitting a person of breeding. He had thanked her a hundred—no, 200 times. He had done little favors like fixing her typewriter and repairing her car radio. But that, he knew, wasn't what she wanted. She wanted him. Her yearning brown eyes had told him that all too often.

Dick picked up the coil, yanked hard on the wire. It broke. Why, oh, why, was he so confounded grateful? Another fellow, he felt certain, wouldn't have made such a fuss. Thanked her and let it go at that. After all, the firm did need an engineer, and the boss was more than pleased with his work.

Why did he feel so miserable, then? He did not know. But he did know that it was there, painfully there, forever preying on him. Mirthlessly he had accused himself of having a gratitude complex. And many times he had cursed himself for being overanalytical.

That was right. He was constantly analyzing his feelings. Perfectly sensible when done in moderation; but here he was thinking of this girl all the time, worrying because he felt he wasn't grateful. His mind strayed to his cousin's party, as it always did when he thought of the brown-eyed creature. They had met over coffee and cake.

"What do you do?" she had asked conversationally.

"Well, as a graduate radio engineer I'm making a rather fair taxi driver."

He remembered how excited he had felt over her next words.

"Radio engineer! We need a good one. Why don't you drop in tomorrow?"

He had. And the job had fallen in his lap, $150 a month doing work he enjoyed, all the more after he had met the secretary to the sales engineer, a glamorous platinum blonde who made his head swim. There was a girl for you! True, he couldn't discuss a book with her as he could with brown-eyed Sally Norris, and she did like expensive places.

But after a kiss on her lush scarlet lips he would have gone through hell. Even now, though she was not present today, the fever of her throbbed hotly through his veins.

"Hello!"

He looked up. Sally Norris! Sally Norris and her large melting brown eyes set in a plain oval face. What did she want? Wasn't it enough to see her whenever he happened to glance toward the office? Must she hound him? — wear out his patience? Well, she had. His reserve was exhausted.

He was quitting tonight. Or at least as soon as they could get another man. It wouldn't be so hard now to get another job. He'd be sure to get it by himself, not be obligated to any one, especially to a girl. Then—

"Our club is holding a benefit theater party. Would you care to buy a ticket?"

He sighed relievedly. "Of course! I'll take two."

Now that was wrong. Decidedly wrong. That "two" part showed he had another girl in mind. He had to get out of this blunder.

"My sister and her boy friend are crazy about shows. I'll give them a present."

He paid her, accidentally dropped a dime. Both bent, his head brushing against soft brown hair. They laughed embarrassedly, he wondering why he should feel flustered. There was absolutely no reason for it. She was plain—very plain.

"I'm as clumsy as the devil today."

She was looking at him, her cheeks flushed.

"I——I——isn't it nice today?"

* * *

HE KNEW it was cloudy. But he agreed that it was indeed a beautiful day, rather than embarrass her more. He glanced at her. Gosh, if he could only take to her. She was intelligent, was as familiar with a subject as any fellow he knew. She would make a fine wife for someone, the true steady variety that made successful marriages. The kind that——

"Dick!" she broke into his meditations. "Do you smell smoke, too?"

He sniffed air and fear chilled his brain. The acrid odor of smoke came from the stairs, the only exit. He'd often thought of them as a fire hazard. Old, dry wood was just so much tinder when an untidy janitor used the under part as a convenient hole into which to throw waste-paper and junk.

Dick glanced toward the office. No one there. Lunch hour. Then why were they standing here? Where was his presence of mind?

"Come on!" he ordered, taking the girl by the arm. "We got to get out of here—quick"

They raced to the stairs, stopped, mouths agape. A thick cloud of choking smoke filled the entire stairway.. Dick placed his handkerchief over the trembling girl's nose and mouth, picked her up, felt his way down the steps. Searing flames licked at his ankles, but he kept on, his mind, strangely enough, not on the fire, but on the girl whose soft body pressed against his arm, her cheek brushing his, causing an alien emotion to sweep through his body. An emotion that remained after they had reached the open, after firemen were already hacking wood with axes. Why, he wondered, did he feel this way. Was it because he had never given her a chance?

"Sally," he said, still holding her, "I—I just found out I love you!"

"Well?"

He took the hint.

Jascha Heifetz Talks of Music

By John Selby

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.

WE talk too much about music, thinks Jascha Heifetz. This holds for every department of the art—particularly for commentators on the air and elsewhere.

Heifetz just had flown on from California, and his beloved yawl, the "Galatea," for two appearances at Lewisohn Stadium. The official count said that 31,000 persons heard him, which is more than double the normal capacity of that outdoor auditorium.

"I understand perfectly well why commentators talk so much about music," says the great violinist (many say "greatest"). "They've got time to fill.

"But I think it's dangerous. An audience needs to know only certain basic facts about the music to be played—what it is, who wrote it, the period, perhaps something of the life of the composer and the history of the piece itself.

"So far so good. Unluckily many commentators go on to say what this important chap thought about the music, and sometimes what the speaker himself thinks the audience should think. This is bad. We ought to let the listener alone, to react directly to the music itself.

"Most people don't listen anyway. They think they do. But they don't really hear."

Sailing and Badminton have occupied the Heifetz summer. Sailing is hard on the Heifetz hands, their owner admits.

"Cut to ribbons. But I'm damned if I'll wear gloves on the boat."

In spite of that, he needed only two weeks to get himself in shape for his summer appearance in New York. He has no set schedule for practice through the summer.

Heifetz is A-1 in musical tolerance. He won't speak unkindly, even of the people who assail the ear with the "fruity," slushy violin tone of the so-called popular musicians.

"There's a market for that, obviously. For my sort of playing too, thank God.

"But I am glad my reputation rests on good music, which nothing seems to be able to kill."

A small cheap screw driver should be in every cutlery drawer to pry open those removable can covers, such as on shortening, molasses, etc. After you have installed this handy little tool you will suddenly wonder why it is you never break kitchen knives any more.

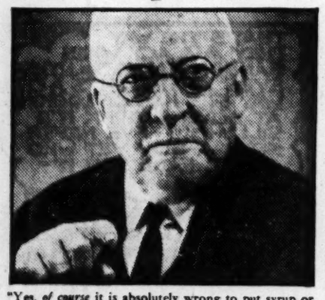

Tea Towels

A kitchen tea towel made of cotton or cotton and linen will last longer than an all-linen towel, but it will not launder as easily, dry the dishes and glassware as readily, or keep its color as well as an all-linen towel.

OF COURSE It's Wrong to Make Beer with Syrup or Sugar! But What Is Even MORE Important . . .

YOU CAN'T MAKE REAL BEER BY ARTIFICIAL GAS CARBONATION

"Yes, of course it is absolutely wrong to put syrup or sugar in beer. We'd rather shut down our brewery than to do such a thing! But in my opinion, an even more important fact is that Hyde Park never has and never will make use of artificial gas carbonation."

Hyde Park Beer Never Gives That Full, Unpleasant, "Bloated" Feeling . . . Because Hyde Park Gets Its Life and Sparkle the NATURAL Way . . . Through Leisurely Fermentation!

★ Syrup or sugar in Hyde Park beer? Certainly not! But there is something else that Hyde Park wouldn't dream of doing . . . something even more important to you as a beer lover . . . Hyde Park does not make use of artificial gas carbonation!

Hyde Park Beer today is made exactly the same way that it has always been made . . . the leisurely, old-time, right way. That is why Hyde Park Beer, today as always, is the zestful, healthful, wholesome, entirely satisfying kind of beverage that you can drink to your heart's content without ever feeling full or bloated or having any unpleasant "after-effects" at all.

Remember too that Hyde Park is the true lager beer . . . always aged for 3 full months, which is the exact time necessary to bring beer to its perfect state. For COMPLETE ENJOYMENT . . . drink Hyde Park!

IRUN, Spain, Aug. 14.—Many pe sons opposed to the Madrid Lefti Government were seized and he as hostages in San Sebastian an Irun today in reply to a rebel threa to destroy the two Government-he towns with sea and air bombard ments.

Some of the more radical Gov ernment partisans said the prison ers would be killed if yesterday attack by five rebel airplanes wer renewed.

San Sebastian city officials a ready had served notice on th rebel cruiser Almirante Cervera shuttling back and forth in th
Bay of Biscay within range of th city, that Rightists would face fi ing squads if the vessel opene fire.

In return, the ship's commande demanded that the city surrende to prevent further damage or los of life from bombardment.

Militiamen herded both men an women into improvised prisons and held them captive as guarante against rebel attacks.

An appeal by the Popular Fron for French financial aid wa turned back at the frontier. Frenc officials refused to admit 500,00 handbills pleading for "millions francs."

The handbills were signed b
Communist committees in Guipu coa Province. They admitted Sa
Sebastian and Irun lacked supplie necessary to resist a siege.

Waiting for Rebel Troops.

The cruiser, holding off its de structive rain of eight-inch shell was reported to be waiting for rebe troops advancing on San Sebasti and Irun from the south to gai better foothold in the height commanding the towns before open ing its bombardment.

Before today's roundup of Fa cists and Royalists by Governmen militia, 700 others unfriendly to th
Madrid Government already ha been incarcerated under threat o death if San Sebastian were mad the target for renewed attacks.

How many more hostages wer taken was not disclosed.

Hotels and villas were searche for enemies of the Government.

"We will kill two hostages fo each citizen wounded by rebel a attacks and seven for each on killed," one Leftist said.

Eight Reported Killed.

Eight persons were reported t have been killed in San Sebastia during the bombardment from th air yesterday.

Heavy guns were set up ove night by the San Sebastian ga rison to resist a sea attack. U to noon, however, the city wa quiet. It was feared the air attac by the rebels would be launche in the afternoon.

Further supplies of food, includ ing a ton of potatoes and a ton o flour, arrived in the seaside reso as a gift from the French Gener Confederation of Labor. The cit is suffering not only from a scarc ity of food but also a lack of wat which is being rationed.

In the fighting near Villabon during the rebel advance by lan
Government troops said they ha
